PREFACE

The printing of this first volume of the Meisser (Meiser, Miser, Mizer, Myser) family is an outcome of the inspirations of descendants of this family to gain a knowledge of the ancestral background and to preserve the genealogical information for future generations.

This publication presents facts, biographical sketches, and events of these ancestors from authentic sources. Court records, pension lists, Bibles, rosters of soldiers, tombstones, church records, and local historical accounts have been the chief sources of information about the older families. Much travel and many letters have been necessary to bring together the necessary facts.

Our ancestors represent the pioneers who withstood the test of human conflict and have survived periods of cruel tyranny, deprivation and war. Their victories have become our heritage.

INTRODUCTION

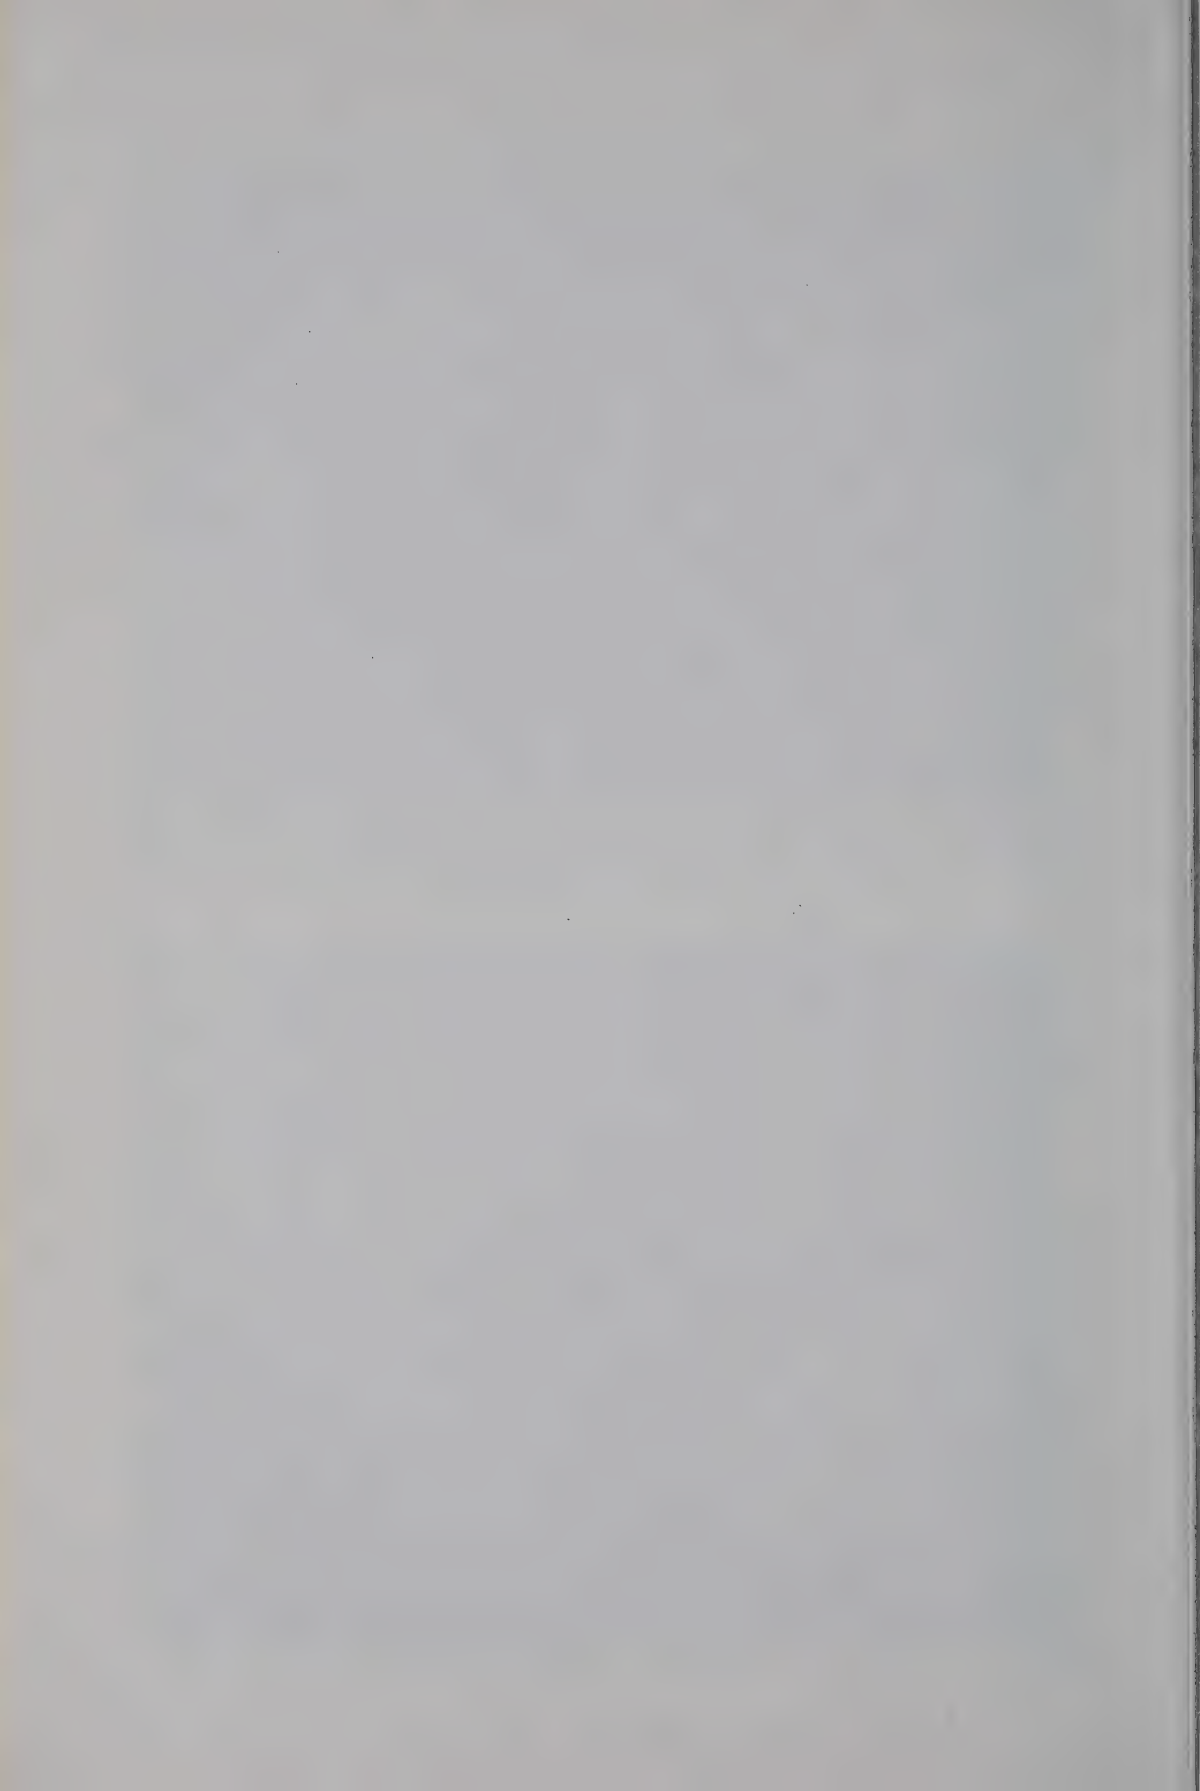

The story of a family is not merely a skeletal outline of a genealogical tree. Such an outline is only the bones of the family structure. Rather, it is what is done with those lives that makes the flesh of the body. The real story is not that so many generations of a family existed, but rather what was done with those lives.

The desire to know about one's family is as old as recorded history. We wish to know more than just names and dates. We want to know the stories of our ancestors' lives, and just how they were interwoven into the fabric of history. The Bible, the most sacred volume in Christendom, is replete with descents of individuals and nations. Even before this, an ancient Egyptian monarch, with dignity and simplicity, recorded on the walls of his tomb:

"I have kept alive the names of my fathers, which I found obliterated upon doorways, making them legible in form, accurate in reading, not putting one for another."

It is this desire to keep alive the names of our fathers for our children and future descendants, that has moved the writers of this volume persistently forward in their search for the authentic data collected and printed herein, ever mindful of getting all information correctly. The destruction of court and family records, removal of families to distant and unknown sections, and the difficulty of obtaining response from many to whom inquiries were sent has made the task considerably difficult and sometimes exasperating.

The writers of this book do not claim for it entire accuracy of detail for it has not been possible always to confirm or disprove much information which has been given by members of a family lineage. We sincerely hope that research will continue so that these family lines may be developed more completely. The aim has been to preserve the knowledge secured and incidentally to furnish clues to those who may desire to obtain lost traces of their branch of the family. The absence of record in various lines is not intended to convey the impression that none exists, but that (if extant) the writers have been unable to obtain it.

PART ONE — HISTORICAL BACKGROUND

OUR EUROPEAN HERITAGE

THE PALATINES

By

J. W. W. Loose

Lancaster, Pennsylvania

The part of Germany from which thousands of settlers (including the Meisser Family) came to colonial America was known as the Palatinate, and its people were called Palatines. In the many struggles of Germany the Palatinate has been both expanded and reduced, and its original boundaries have been altered beyond recognition. A brief historical and geographical description of the Rhineland should make the Palatinate less confusing.

Germany as a nation or empire did not exist until the middle of the nineteenth century. Prior to that time Germany was a collection of lands and peoples gathered into many small kingdoms, principalities and cities. During much of Germany's history, its western and southern areas were an important element of the Holy Roman Empire.

The terms "High" or "Upper" and "Low" were used frequently to describe Germany geographically and culturally. These terms apply to elevation: mountainous southern Germany is High and the plains and marshlands of northern Germany are Low. The dialects spoken in southern Germany are High German, and those used in northern Germany are Low German. The Upper Rhine flows through a valley between France, Switzerland, and Baden-Wurttemberg; and between Hesse and the Rhenish Palatinate. After the river enters the Ruhr area of Westphalia, it is the Lower Rhine. At one time Upper Palatinate was the easternmost portion of the Palatinate. Today it is a province of Bavaria, adjacent to Bohemia. On old maps one may see the Bavarian Palatinate, but this is a fragment located at the southern tip of the Rhenish Palatinate which was under Bavarian control for many years.

The Palatinate of our ancestors was a major province of the Holy Roman Empire. Within its borders is Trier, which is the oldest city in Germany. It is supposedly thirteen hundred years older than Rome. Trier was the northern capital of the Empire when Roman emperors resided there. Government of the Palatinate was in the hands of the palsgrave (pfalzgraf) or "Count Palatine" who held the fief with its powers at the pleasure of the emperor. The term, Palatine, is derived from the Latin word, palatium, or palace, the residence of the emperor. The Rhenish palsgrave was an elector, one of seven or eight persons who comprised an electoral college to elect the emperor. Although the German custom was to elect kings and the Roman emperor, the noblemen held their rights by heredity. As a result the Palatinate and other principalities frequently were locked in struggles between families and heirs, with marriages and deaths bringing devastation to the land.

Around the beginning of the Christian era a number of Germanic tribes occupied the Rhineland and the lands eastward. The Franks lived along the lower Rhine. Along the Main River in Franconia lived the Alemanni. In the third century the Franks and the Alemanni had broken through the Roman defenses and occupied lands west of the Rhine and south of the Danube respectively. Later the Franks conquered much of southwestern Germany, and gave the name Rhenish Franconia to the area between the Spessart and the Rhine where Frankfurt-am-Main and Darmstadt are located. Ethnically the people of the Swiss Cantons of Bern and Zurich are similar to those of the Upper Rhine Valley. By the fifth century the Germanic peoples of the Rhine valley had adopted Christianity and many of the ways of Roman culture. This was the first, and for several centuries, the only part of Germany to undergo civilization. A great amount of intermarriage among the tribes took place with the result that most of our ancestors from the Palatinate and Upper Rhine regions are Frankish fundamentally, with strong Alemannic and Swabian genetic influence.

Unlike the Teutons and Slavs of eastern Germany, the Rhenish settlers were darker in complexion although sandy, red-haired people were present. The inhabitants of the Rhine valley were reputed to be more domesticated and far less warlike than their Teutonic cousins. The Alemanni, in particular, were thought to be talented in the art of stable government. The Franks, who already had begun to bind the social, political and intellectual tradition of western Europe to the culture of Christian Rome, were skilled in agricultural and handicraft pursuits. To this day the Swabian descendants are noted for their rural simplicity and good nature.

In language the peoples of the Upper Rhine created their own dialects between the sixth and ninth centuries by the High German sound shift. After this a sharp distinction arose between the High and Low dialects, differences which exist today in Germany, and which form the base of the Pennsylvania Dutch (Deutsch) dialect spoken by descendants of the Palatines in southeastern and central Pennsylvania.

This gives some idea of the European background of our family.

THE COMING OF THE FIRST MEISSERS TO AMERICA

By Gladys M. McDonald

East Peoria, Illinois

The Family of MEISSER is known to have come to this country from Germany. Dr. Fritz Braun, an eminent German authority and researcher on European background of Pennsylvania Germans, believes that the name MEISSER comes from the Phalz region, cities of Neuenkirchen and Ottweiler, and may be known as "Saarfolk" (Saargemund).

There is evidence of MEISCHERS living in Switzerland in 1538 as mentioned on page 48 of Swiss and German Pioneer Settlers of Southeast Pennsylvania by Eshelman. There were formal "debates" on religion at this time, and during one of these debates MATTHIAS WEISER from Schloffhausen and JOSEPH MEISCHER of Aarburg were listed as being present. The minutes of this debate and the lists of names are in the Archives at Berne. Between 1527 and 1671 thousands of Swiss went into Germany for numerous reasons, one of these being religious persecution.

The year 1709 is known as the beginning of the Great Exodus from the Palatinate to England. There were several reasons. One cause probably was religious persecution, though historians do not all agree. This section of Germany had been devastated by wars and occupying armies for many years. In May, 1707, during the War of Succession, Marshall Villars crossed the River Rhine, plundered and terrorized southwest Germany, and in September, the French retired to that vicinity, adding to the devastation. As if that was not enough, in the winter of 1708 the "cold was so intense that wine and spirits froze in solid blocks, birds on the wing fell dead, and all Western Europe was frozen tight." Even the sea froze solid enough along the coast to hold heavily-laden carts. Vines and fruit trees were killed, which explained why "husbandmen and vinedressers" made up more than half the emigrants of 1709. The people were also heavily taxed to pay for the lavish living of the ruling class.

It is very likely that after these hardships, the Palatines were in the right frame of mind to listen to the rosy promises put forth by agents for the Colonies in America and to promises of a haven by England. Pamphlets, extolling the climate and life in the New World, especially Carolina and Pennsylvania, were widely distributed throughout the Rhine Valley. William Penn made several visits to the Rhine country, as early as 1677, and continued for twenty years, attempting to persuade these hard-working, religious people to settle in Pennsylvania. The Carolina agents offered to pay for passage from Germany in return for several years servitude. Joshua Kocherthal, a Lutheran minister, favored the Carolina plan and wrote a book in which he implied that Queen Anne of England would give assistance to anyone wishing to go there.

Kocherthal gathered forty-one people together for the first venture. They encountered no difficulty on their way down the Rhine but were aided at every stop. There was a little confusion over passes to leave the country, but the people were finally given clearance and free passage to Harwich, England. Kocherthal asked to be sent to the "West Indies." The Board of Trade debated whether to send them to Jamaica or Antigua, but finally decided on New York. England was at war, and Sweden had a monopoly on "Naval Stores"—principally tar and pitch. Someone suggested that the emigrants could be sent to New York for the purpose of making tar and pitch, putting them under contract to pay for their passage and subsistence. This Kocherthal agreed to. The group was joined by fourteen more, making fifty-five in the party. They set sail in October, 1708, in the Globe, with Governor Lovelace of New York. After a voyage of nine weeks, they spent the winter in New Amsterdam (New York), and in the spring they were settled on the Hudson at the mouth of Quassaic Creek. No "Naval Stores" were ever made there. They were provided with subsistence by Governor Lovelace, but he died in a short time, and they were left destitute. Kocherthal returned to England to plead with the Queen for more assistance.

In the meantime, the apparent success of the first party encouraged other Palatines to follow. They did not meet with the same treatment, however. The Palatines sold their property to raise money for the trip and started down the Rhine to Amsterdam or Rotterdam. There were twenty-six customs houses on the way. They were stopped at each one, where the ships were examined at the convenience of the officials. This meant delay. Along with the fees collected at each stop, this ate into their resources. The trip often took as long as six weeks, with the voyage to England still in prospect.

The English Resident at the Hague made arrangements as best he could for the "poor Palatines," sending them to England by any ships he could get. And still others came. They were estimated at fourteen thousand families and about thirty-three thousand persons. There were attempts to keep lists of those sailing. (Although they were not complete, they are invaluable records.)

After their arrival in England, the Palatines found neither money nor ships to take them to America. They were quartered in any place available—barracks, warehouses and tents, until the English people became alarmed. Living in unsanitary, crowded conditions, they were subject to disease and pestilence, and many died. Others continued to come. There were attempts to employ them in various trades, with little success. They were distributed throughout England, but were not generally accepted. Most returned to London. Some were sent to Jamaica. A number were sent to Ireland. A few returned, but many remained and their descendants are to be found in Limerick County today. A party was sent to North Carolina. However, the land promised them was claimed by someone else, and they suffered severe hardship at the hands of the feudal landowners and Indians. They were finally given land and assistance, and they found peace. A group of miners was sent to Virginia and was well received. The miners founded the town of Germanna on the Rapidan and built and operated iron works near Fredricksburg.

Walter Allen Knittle relates that "Mr. Henry Bendysh, who acted as secretary of the Commissioners for Collecting and Settling the Palatines," on December 17, 1709, informed Lord Godolphin, Lord High Treasurer, that he had made arrangements with commanders and owners of ships to carry about three thousand Palatines to New York—"at five pounds, ten shillings per head." Since the cost of transportation to Carolina was ten pounds, and seven was paid to Pennsylvania, this was a very low rate. This meant, of course, that the food was of the poorest quality. In addition, since the people making the arrangements expected to make something on the deal, as many people as possible were crowded into the ships. This no doubt accounted for much of the misery of the passengers. Although they embarked in December, records show they did not actually sail until April 10, 1710. They were on board the ship for six months.

Upon arrival in New York, between June 13 and August 2, 1710, they were forced to camp on Nutten's Island, later Governor's Island, where they were housed in tents while they recovered from their illness and the effects of the voyage. Out of about twenty-five hundred immigrants, Hunter reported on July 24 that about 470 had died. Many were apprenticed, not only orphans but also other persons.

A man named Bridger, supposed to be an expert, was sent from England to determine the best locality for the making of pitch. Since there was an abundance of pitch pine along the east and west sides of the Hudson River about ninety-two miles from New York, the Palatines were moved there in early October, 1710.

Ground was cleared and huts were built. By June, 1711, Hunterstown, Queensbury, Annsbury, and Haysbury were on the east side, and Elisabeth Town, Georgetown and New Town were on the west side. Altogether there were 1874 people. About 350 remained in New York, most of them widows with families.

The Palatines were organized under a military system. There were "list-masters" appointed, one for each village. They aided the tar instructor in handling the labor. In May of 1711, three hundred or four hundred Palatines formed a secret association and decided they would not remain in the labor camps. Governor Hunter tried to reason with them, but they demanded they be given "the land the Queen had promised them, in the Scoharie Valley." Some said they would rather die than stay where they were, that the contract was unfair and too severe, and that they had been misled. They threatened to take their complaints directly to the Queen. Hunter brought troops in and disarmed the Germans, after which they realized they would have to submit. This incident made Hunter more severe. He revoked the Palatine military commissions and placed them under strict military guard. Since the Germans were dependent on Hunter for their food, which was in the most part supplied from New York, they were at his mercy.

The winter was extremely hard. There was no employment and no food. The expert on pitch-making became disgruntled and left just as production was about to start. Governor Hunter was not sent the money to carry out the project for making "Naval Stores" and spent much of his own money to keep the Germans from starvation.

The land was not suitable for cultivation, so they could not raise food. In 1712 the project was abandoned, and Governor Hunter told the Palatines they would have to shift for themselves but did not release them from their contract, and they were to keep him informed of their whereabouts.

In spite of warnings, many families left and went to the Scoharie Valley, where they had been told that the Indians had given them land. Some historians have contested the legend of the gift of the "Skohere" by the "five Sachems." Mr. Knittle cites the "interesting legend" which had it that "five Mohawk Indians taken by Peter Schuyler to London, were so grieved at the plight of the Palatines then encamped on Blackheath that they gave the Scoharie Valley to the Queen." Although she was to give it to the emigrants the Palatines were not in London at the time the Mohawks were. They had left before the Indians sailed from Boston. Knittle also says that four of the five Indians were not Sachems, and therefore had no authority to give the lands away. The lands in question "were subsequently ceded at Albany to the Province with no reference to the Palatines." It seems the Indians had already given these lands away, but had nothing to lose in giving them away again. At any rate, the Palatines settled there, although they could not establish title. This was in defiance of orders from Hunter, who was getting hostile toward them. In March, 1713, more families joined them. The first year was hard, but they did receive help from friends in New York, Albany and Schenectady.

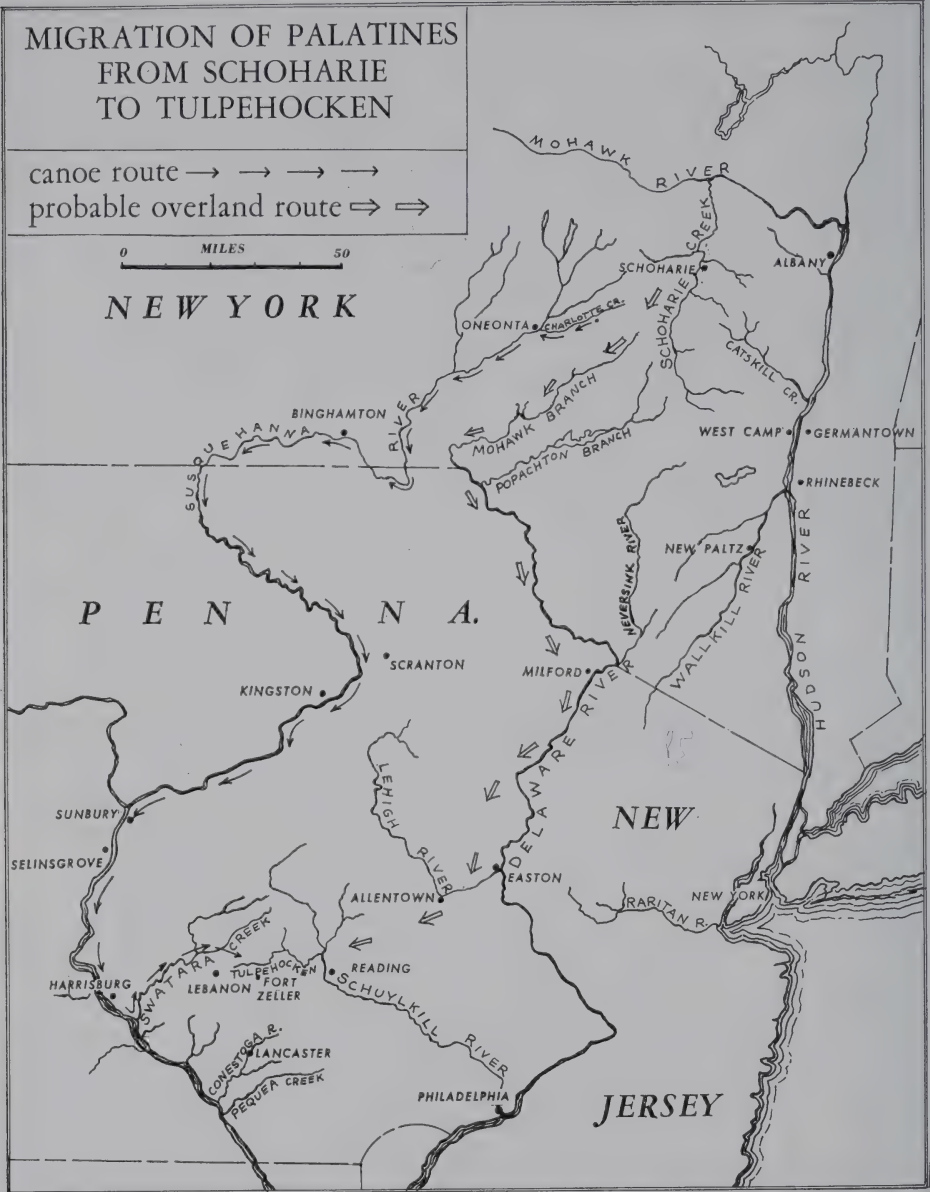

By borrowing equipment, they were able to cultivate the land and raise some food. Conrad Weiser related in his journal how one person borrowed a horse, another a cow, someone else borrowed a harness and a plow. By hitching the horse and cow together they plowed enough land so that in 1714 they had almost enough corn for their needs. The Indians showed them where wild potatoes and strawberries grew abundantly, and these helped to eke out their existence.

In the Old Fort Museum at Scoharie are many relics of pioneer life of this period. There are shovels hollowed out of a log, branches of a tree for hay forks, a heavy knot of wood for a maul, a mortar for grinding corn made from a hollowed out log and other ingenious tools.

John Conrad Weiser seems to have been an "eminent as well as most fiery" leader, and no doubt it was he who urged them on when things looked dark. He went to their aid when he felt they were being unfairly treated. In 1718 he tried to get help but failed, when balked by Governor Hunter. He finally returned in 1723. Hunter's successor, Governor Burnet, was ordered to settle the Palatines further north, in order to extend the frontier.

About this time, Governor Keith invited the Germans to Pennsylvania. A party of them had gone there in 1717. Conrad Weiser led a party from Schoharie to the Susquehanna, down to the mouth of the Swatara Creek, to the Tulpehocken settlement ca. 1717. Later others followed. Weiser records in his journal that the people received news from the land at Swatara and Tulpehocken in Pennsylvania.

Many of them came together. They cut a way from Schoharie to the Susquehanna, brought their goods there, and canoes and journeyed down to the mouth of the Swatara Creek. They drove their cattle overland in the spring in 1723. Thence they came to the Tulpehocken settlement. Later, others followed and settled there, at first without permission of the owner of the land or company, or from the Indians from whom the people had not yet bought land.

It was some time before a clear title to the land which the Palatines settled on was established because there was some question if it had ever been legally acquired from the Indians. Also it seems the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania had no right to dispose of the lands, since the heirs of William Penn laid claim to them.

In the meantime, the Germans settled down, cultivated and improved the land, and enhanced its value; also, they were being joined by thousands of immigrants from Germany, as recounted in Pennsylvania German Pioneers by Eshelman. Between 1727 and 1775 there were estimated to be approximately sixty-five thousand people who landed in Philadelphia. They too suffered extreme hardship on the voyage, and many were indentured for years to pay for their passage.

It was several years before the land controversy was resolved. The Germans felt that they were legally entitled to the lands on which they settled, having been invited there by the Governor of the Commonwealth. The heirs of William Penn, however, through the agent James Logan, proved their claim. It was finally decided to compromise with the Germans and get what they could. By this time the Germans had become so well established it would have been virtually impossible to evict them. The value of the land had been enhanced as a result of the industry and hard work of the settlers, and the Commonwealth and the Penns needed the money the Germans were willing to pay. It was at this time that Michael received the deed from the Indian chief, Allummapie.

The early Meisser descendants became prominent citizens of localities in Ohio, Pennsylvania and Tennessee. Later generations scattered to every state in the Union, to Canada and to other countries.

A more detailed account of the Palatines can be found in Knittle's EARLY PALATINE EMIGRATION, reprinted by the Genealogy Publishing Company, Baltimore, Maryland.

THE MEISSER FAMILY

Germany to New York to Pennsylvania to Ohio

New Philadelphia, Ohio

Johan Jurg Meisser, First Immigrant

JOHANN JURG MEISSER is listed in the sixth embarkation list of German Palatines who sailed from Holland for New York via England, on July 28, 1709, "with vvrow & 4 kinder," as referred to by Walter Allen Knittle on page 272 of Early 18th Century Palatine Emigration. (1)

Much has been written of the hardships of the journey to the NEW LANDS, after they had scraped up every bit of property and belongings and converted them into cash to eke out enough for the bare fare for the long journey. First the trip down the Rhein in river boats; the delays at each customs check point—twenty-six in all—each delay eating into their money reserve for the necessary food. Then the long, wearisome, and hazardous sea voyage, with still more delays, eating more and more into their money reserve. Passengers were crowded and herded like cattle, making for unsanitary conditions; and lack of sun and fresh air contributed greatly to a "fever" that developed. Many died at sea and many more on or soon after arrival; many whole families, with many families reduced to one member. Many were buried at sea with no records having been kept. Neither are there records of those dying upon or immediately after arrival. Those who finally survived were a very poor, weak, discouraged people. Many had to mortgage themselves for various services for many years to repay for their "Subsistence" during the voyage. (2)

Johan Jurg Meisser is again recorded on page twenty-eight of Knittle's Early 18th Century Palatine Emigration, under the New York Subsistence List for 1710-1711 as, "MAUSER, Johann Georg, 2-2; 2-1." indicating first, those over ten and those under ten in 1710, and second, those over ten and under ten in 1712.

CHILDREN:

2/2 Johann Michael Meiser, born ca. 1703 in Germany, married Anna Elizabeth Sixt ca. 1723/24, had ten children.

JOHANN MICHAEL MEISER 2/2 (Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1), was born in Germany, probably in the region of the lower Palatine, ca. 1703 (4,5), and he is found to be first recorded in the Kocherthal Records (3). In this record, he and Anna Elizabeth Sixt (thought to be Zecht) were sponsors to the baptism of Anna Elizabeth, born April 19, 1717, daughter of Joseph and Anna Elizabeth Savoy, on June 6, 1717.

Conclusion that Johann Michael Meiser was the son of Johann Jurg Meisser is prompted by the fact that Johann Michael Meiser came from the area (Soharie) where Johann Jurg Meisser settled (1). Further concluded by the fact that Johann Michael Meiser named his eldest son John George Meiser, undoubtedly after his father Johan Jurg Meisser.

Egle (5) states that Michael died at the age of forty-two years. His will (4) and Egle's statement fixes Michael's birth ca. 1703 and his death at ca. 1745 (5,6). He is buried on the farm upon which he settled.

Johann Michael's migration from the Soharia Valley of New York, to Pennsylvania, with several other families of the Soharia is well authenticated (2,5,6); coming down the Susquehanna Valley to present day Hummelstown, and finding the Indians there too hostile, went eastward to present day Millbach, Pa., probably as early as 1723, as he is found living there in 1724 having taken up land (5); and became the recipient of a deed for land from the Indian Chief Allummapie under date of August 11, 1731 (7); he was taxed in 1726-1727 in the Tulpehocken area (2).

That he was married to Anna Elizabeth Sixth (thought to be Zecht) is evidenced by the Kocherthal Records (3), and by Guardian Appointments of 1749, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania (8). In this latter record she, along with her eldest son, John George Meiser, were appointed guardians of several of her minor children in the course of the settling of the estate of her husband, Johann Michael Meiser, the record of which is found in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania. Record of Deeds Book M; Pages 26/27/28, under date of November 23, 1747, and December 30, 1762 (9); Marriage date fixed at ca. 1723/1724 as eldest son, John George Meiser, was of legal age in 1745/1749, and this son was not required to have a guardian appointed for him in the course of the settling of the estate of his father, Johann Michael Meiser (8,9).

An immense determination, will, fortitude, and daring has to be attributed to this Johann Michael Meiser when along with several original families of the Schoharie Valley of New York (2) he braved the wilderness, the elements, and the hostile Indians, on his trip down the Susquehanna, and then eastward to Millbach, Pennsylvania, and where even here his family was often threatened by the Indians for several years as evidenced by "Fort Zeller" which in reality was the home of Hans Zeller, one of the original families that came down from New York at the same time as Michael (5). It became the "fort" against Indian raids because it was the strongest house in the area, and all the settlers of the immediate vicinity would seek refuge there during Indian attacks. This is adjacent to the original lands of Johann Michael Meiser. This "fort" still stands and an historical stone monument and bronze plaque has been erected on the site. The Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission says that the material was erected by the Zeller family.

The following is a reproduction of the original Indian Deed given to Michael Meiser by the Indian Chief Allummapie:

Know all men that Allummanis alias Sapsoman Chief of the Mingo Indians and on Behalf of the lands lying on the Branch and upper part of the Sand River Tract in consideration of the love and affection that I bear to my friend James Logan Doe by this Writing give

FORT ZELLER

This fort was constructed for protection from hostile Indians and is located on the original Zeller farm next to the Michael Meiser farm.

This deed was signed by Allummapie or Sassoonan by his mark, and was witnessed by Shekallemmy (father of the famous Chief Logan) by mark; Peesqueeloman by mark; and further witnessed by the signature of Thomas Hartt and Archibald Finley. It is found recorded among the Logan papers, XI; 16; at the Pennsylvania Historical Society, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

These New York Palatines, in settling on these lands of the Tulpehocken Valley, which is in the area of present day Reading, Lancaster and Lebanon, Pennsylvania, actually became illegal squatters, as these lands were not actually lands disposable by the then Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, but on lands actually claimed by the heirs of William Penn. It developed too that there was some question as to whether these had ever been legally acquired from the Indians by anyone.

It was quite a long time before this land controversy was resolved. The Germans felt they were legally entitled to the lands through their having been invited to settle there by the then Governor of the Commonwealth, but the heirs of William Penn, through their agent James Logan, retained their claim, and by the time this claim was settled with the Indians and the Governor's Office, the Germans became well established and more numerous, as more and more came from the Schoharie as well as several thousand more directly from Europe. It was finally concluded that it was best to work out a compromise with the Germans and get what compensation they could for the lands, as they were too well entrenched and established to be driven out by eviction. It was at this point that a petition was signed by several families representing these settlers and sent to the Governor's Office, petitioning that they be permitted to remain on their lands and their willingness to pay for their lands at reasonable prices considering that the lands were in the outer reaches of the then settled areas. This resulted in many getting their lands where they had settled, not only because they probably could not have been evicted, or that they had declared their intention to pay for their lands, but in a great measure, because of their industry in clearing the lands into productive farms; it enhanced the value of the adjacent lands of the Penns and the Commonwealth, and as both the Commonwealth and the Penns needed money badly, the whole matter was amiably settled and the Palatines finally got their lands in the New World.

It was during this time that Michael got his lands from the Indian Chief Allummapie. The Indians-Commonwealth-William Penn controversy is borne out in this deed by its wording. Michael apparently acquired one hundred acres of this original five hundred-acre grant, from James Logan, through purchase, as on his subsequent application to the Commonwealth for additional lands he declared his request for one hundred acres of land "in Heidelberg Township, County of Lancaster, adjoining a tract of land of one hundred acres he bought of James Logan" and was issued Warrant N. 822, under date of November 6, 1734. This further bears out the Indians-Commonwealth-Penn controversy and concludes that Michael's first one hundred acres of land was first awarded to the Penns and Michael apparently paid the Penn estate for them through their agent, James Logan.

It was on these lands that Michael settled, and these original lands handed down subsequently to the eldest son of each successive generation (5th in 1875) (5) each of whom was named George Meiser, until the chain was broken, when the lands were acquired by the daughters of George S. Meiser—Sally A. Seltzer and Alice Brendle—by will in 1894. These in turn sold the lands (then and presently 149 acres) to John Bennetch in 1909. Bennetch then sold to the present owners, David P. and Martha M. (Bennetch) Snyder (10).

These lands are today some of the finest farm land in the locale with appropriate well kept impressive buildings. The present barn sits on a portion of the original limestone foundation of the barn Michael built. The present house is also thought to be built on a portion of the original house foundation of the original Michael Meiser house.

MICHAEL MEISER FARM

This farm located near Millbach, Pennsylvania is the land on which Michael Meiser settled in the year 1723. It was in the Meiser family until recent years.

MICHAEL MEISER 3/3 (Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) son of Johann Michael Meiser and Anna Elizabeth Sixt (thought to be Zecht) was born in Millbach, Pennsylvania, ca. 1727 (12). He died prior to April 4, 1787, date will was probated at Sunbury, Pennsylvania.

He was married to Barbara _____ on November 2, 1760 (11).

Michael is found in Penns Township, Northumberland County, Pennsylvania, and taxed in 1778/1780 for 14;3;0, as per P413 Northumberland County State Tax. Of interest is a land warrant given to his children mentioned in his will only thirty-five days after his will was probated, as follows:

Land Warrants—Pennsylvania Archives S 3; Vol. 24; Page 244.

“Christ’n, Sus’h, Christiana Meiser,”

May 9, 1787, 100 Acres.

No doubt these were his children mentioned in his will. The will states:

Christopher, eldest son

Susanna

Christina

Will states a “Barbara” his widow.

No other records have been found on this family.

HENRY MEISER 3/4 (Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) son of Johann Michael Meiser and Anna Elizabeth Sixt (thought to be Zecht) was born at Millbach in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, ca. 1728 (12). He died at Northumberland County, Pennsylvania, ca. August 7, 1801 (will). The burial place has not been determined.

Henry married Anna Maria ————before July 5, 1764, as on this date he and Anna Mary baptized a son, John Michael, at Millbach, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania (11). No records have been found of her parentage, birthdate, birthplace, death date, death place or burial place.

Henry was reared at Millbach, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, and on April 9, 1763 he was granted a warrant of two hundred acres of land in then Cumberland County, Pennsylvania, later Northumberland County, and now Snyder County, Pennsylvania. In ca. 1772 he was listed in Penns Township, Northumberland County, Pennsylvania, as additional resident (13). In 1773 he took up an additional one hundred acres of land in the same locality. He was first taxed in Penns Township, Northumberland County, Pennsylvania, in 1772, but it is believed that he lived there a year or two before. His holdings were near the present village of Aline, Snyder County, Pennsylvania, and he arrived there with all his personal effects and family in a two horse wagon. He built a bark hut but on three different occasions was forced to move away because of the unfriendliness of the Indians. On one occasion he placed his children in a chaff-bag (bedtick), put them on the back of a horse and went down the river to the present village of New Buffalo, to escape from the ravages of the Indians. A temporary fort for the protection and refuge of the settlers had been erected there. On one occasion the Indians took the baking bread from the outdoor oven, and at another, an angry Indian appeared at the cabin, during the absence of Henry Meiser. Mrs. Meiser gave him things to eat, but he went away in a sullen mood. When Henry returned to the cabin, he took up the trail of the Indian. A fight ensued, and the Indian lost his life (14).

Henry was a great hunter. He had a deer lick in a swamp near his home, and it is said that his larder seldom lacked venison. One day a pair of panthers passed near their cabin, and he followed them, killing one. That night the other returned to the cabin, seeking its mate, and he shot it through the porthole in the cabin wall (14).

In 1775 he was a road supervisor for Penns Township. In this same year, Henry Meiser was a private soldier in the Heidelberg Company, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, under Captain George Hudson. (DAR Records.) He lived in that part of Penns Township, which later became Mahantango Township—1796. In that year he was assessed with land, personal property, and a saw mill. His was one of the first saw mills in the section. The village of Meiserville, Pennsylvania, was named for this Henry. His son, Michael, built an oil mill near the site of this village.

Henry died in Mahantango Township, and his will was probated in Sunbury, Pennsylvania, on August 7, 1801. His wife, Anna Maria ————, must have died before him as her name was not mentioned in his will, but lists the following children: Mary Elizabeth, Catharine, Barbara, John, Michael, Philip, George, Frederick, and Andrew.

Andrew was one of the first children baptized at the old Zion Lutheran Church, north of Freeburg, in 1781 (14).

The foregoing section is based on the compiler's research of the various records and documents as listed at the end of this section. Additional information gathered by John A. Miser, a descendant of Henry Meiser 3/4, is worthy of mention.

We therefore submit the following information transcribed mainly from a family chart in the writer's possession, which came from Miss Cora Miser, 1515 Euclid Avenue, Steubenville, Ohio, and who compiled it from the information previously gathered by her father, John A. Miser, mentioned in the foregoing paragraph. We reproduce it as given, with no attempt having been made to authenticate the information therein:

JOHN (JOHANNES) MEISER 3/7 (Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) was born at Millbach in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, ca. 1732/1736 (8) and died at Northumberland County, Pennsylvania, ca. November 19, 1795, as per will filed at Sunbury, Pennsylvania. He was the son of Johann Michael Meiser and Anna Elizabeth Sixt (thought to be Zecht) (3).

He married Catharine _____ (11) prior to 1758. No record could be found on this marriage or of the bride's parents. No other dates and locations for Catharine could be determined.

Records reveal that John (Johannes) Meiser lived in the Millbach/Schaeffer-town area (a son, George Michael, was baptized on March 27, 1758) (11) and about 1776 or a year or two earlier, he moved to Penns Township in Northumberland County, as in this year he was listed as "additional resident" by Linn's "Annals of Buffalo Valley" (13). Records show he took up land here and was taxed for the first time in 1776 (14). He was road supervisor in Penns Township in 1778 (14). In 1781 he was assessed with a hundred acres of land and personal property (14). Three John Meisers lived in Penns Township at the same time. They were John Sr., his son, John Jr., and John, son of Henry Sr., who was a brother of John Sr. (14).

In 1790 John Sr. was listed as having five males over sixteen and four females.

A John Meiser served in each of the following organizations:

- 1 - Captain Benjamin Weisser's Company, German Regiment Continental Line.
- 2 - Captain Michael Motz's Company.
- 3 - Captain John Snyder's Company.
- 4 - Captain Michael Weaver's Company.
- 5 - Ensign Simon Harrold's party.
- 6 - Lt. Jacob Speer's County Militia and Rangers.

The following service records are also listed for a John Meiser:

- a - John Meiser, Pvt., 8 days, Pennsylvania Archives S-5, Volume 8, page 680.
- b - John Meiser, Pvt., 9 days, Pennsylvania Archives, S-5, Volume 8, page 679.
- c - John Meiser, 6th & 7th Class, 2nd Batt., Lancaster Militia, 1781, Pennsylvania Archives, S-6, Volume 4.
- d - John Meiser, Northumberland County, Militia—Capt. John Snyder, Pennsylvania Archives S-5, Volume 8.
- e - John Meiser, Rangers Frontier, 1778-1783, Northumberland County, Pennsylvania Archives, S-6, Volume 23.
- f - John Meiser, Soldier of the Revolution, Continental Line, Northumberland County, 1778-1783, S-5, Volume 4, page 688.
- g - John Meiser (15) Penns Township, 1776, Private, Capt. Benj. Weiser, Northumberland County Militia; Also Capt. Michael Weaver—Capt. Charles Myers—Ranger (Meyser), Pennsylvania Archives S-3, Volume 23, page 256/257/341, Pennsylvania Archives S-5, Volume 8, page 662, also Capt. Michael Motz.

There seems to be no doubt whatsoever that John (Johannes) Meiser served in the Revolutionary War, particularly "g" above, as this is the date and locale of his residence at the time, based on historic (13) and land and tax records (14).

John (Johannes) Meiser left a will probated at Sunbury, Pennsylvania, on November 19, 1795. It mentions children John, George, Margaret (Mrs. Peter Stoke) who had two daughters and who died before her father, Barbara (Mrs. George Coystervite) who also died before her father and who had children, Elizabeth, Margaret, Barbara and George Coystervite. The will further states John had three sons and four daughters but names only two sons—John and George—and two daughters, Mrs. Coystervite and Mrs. Stoke. He did not mention his wife, indicating she may have died before him. He was building a new house at the writing of the will, as he specified an additional ninety pounds of the first money to be paid to his son, George, for his "cost and trouble" to "finnish" the house. The unnamed son is believed to be Jacob (14). This Jacob appears in Pennsylvania Archives S-6, Volume 23, as follows:

Penns Township 1776 - Northumberland Rangers, Jacob Meiser (son of John Meiser Sr.,) (14), served under Capt. Michael Motz of Northumberland County Militia.

No record could be found proving this Jacob was the son of John (Johannes) Meiser, except the listing on page 57 of Snyder County Pioneers by Fisher.

JOHANN ADAM MEISER 3/9 (Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1), son of Johann Michael Meiser 2/2 and Anna Elizabeth Sixt (believed to be Zecht) was born in Millbach, Pennsylvania, ca. 1743-1745, being named as the youngest son in his father's will (will #150-1745 as recorded in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania). Johann Adam Meiser died in Wayne County, Ohio, ca. May 22, 1824, at which time he and his wife, Mary, deeded all their lands to several of their children. The record of the deeds for Adam and Mary Myser can be found in Wooster, Holmes County, Ohio.

Adam first married Anna Catharine Haas of Millbach, Pennsylvania, on December 8, 1760, according to the Millbach Church records at Franklin and Marshall College in Lancaster, Pennsylvania. His second wife was Mary (thought to be Eckhart as evidenced by the will of Jacob Eckhart of Lancaster 2/108). No other record has been found concerning this marriage.

Adam was born and reared at Millbach, Pennsylvania. It has been found he next lived in Northumberland County, Pennsylvania, in that portion which is now Snyder County, as early as 1780. This has been substantiated by Dr. Charles Fisher in Snyder County Pioneers. In 1796 he was assessed in Mahan-tango Township. On May 13, 1780, he began a tour of duty in Captain John Sneider's Company in the Northumberland County Militia as recorded in the Pennsylvania Archives 3/23/257. During this year (1780) he was captured at his home and carried off by the Indians, remaining in captivity about eighteen months, according to Linn's Annals of Buffalo Valley, page 188. Linn's book (page 303) also states Adam was in West Buffalo, Northumberland County, Pennsylvania, in 1796 in a dwelling described as a "hewed log cabin." He was next found to be in Salem Township, Jefferson County, Ohio, near New Salem (now Annapolis). This is authenticated on page 518 of 20th Century History of Steubenville and Jefferson County, Ohio, written by Doyle in 1910. It is stated in the book that the village of New Salem was laid out in 1802 and "the land on which the village of New Salem or Annapolis now stands was entered by Henry and Adam Miser, whose descendants still live in the neighborhood."

On May 14, 1812, Adam bought 155 acres of land in Jefferson County, Ohio, from this Henry, who was his nephew and a son of Henry 3/4, brother of Adam 3/9. This land he held until February 16, 1824, when he sold it to Thomas Johnson. On March 16, 1818, he received a patent for 160 acres of land in Auburn Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio. He subsequently sold this land to his grand-nephew, George Miser 5/5, a grandson of his brother John (Johannes) Meiser 3/7. On October 23, 1819, he received a patent for 160 acres of land in Paint Township, Wayne County, Ohio, from President James Monroe. This is where he settled and lived the remaining days of his life. He is buried on this farm in a grave recently located and authenticated. A grave marker, supplied by the War Department, was placed upon it on May 17, 1964, in a dedication by the Wooster-Wayne Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Through the efforts of the Meisser Genealogy Association, many descendants were searched out and advised of the dedication. This resulted in over 200 attending from as far west as California and as far east as New York. The location of Adam's grave is on the original homestead farm, presently in Holmes County, Ohio on the SW $\frac{1}{2}$; Sec. 26; Twp. 15; R. 11; originally containing 160 acres, and presently owned by Levi J. Miller of R.D. 1, Beach City, Ohio.

Adam was married to Anna Catharine Haas on December 8, 1760 at Millbach, Pennsylvania. Their first child, Anna Catharine Meiser, was baptized September 20, 1761 (11). No other children were born to him until after he married Mary Eckhart. Their first child, Jacob was born early 1784 in Northumberland County, Pennsylvania. At this time Adam lived near his brother, Henry 3/4, and his nephew John 4/2. John 4/2 was baptized Johann Adam Meiser on April 2, 1760, with Adam and his wife, Anna Catharine Haas, as sponsors.

The families of Adam 3/9, Henry 3/4, and John 4/2 remained in close proximity to each other in their further migrations westward. At Jefferson County, Ohio, Henry 4/6, son of Henry 3/4; John 4/2, son of John 3/7, and Adam, 3/9, took out lands close to each other in 1802, 1806 and 1812 respectively. In fact Adam's lands and those of John 4/2, joined. In 1812-1818 of these families, Adam and John 5/1 (Adam's grand-nephew and the son of John 4/2), took up lands in Tuscarawas County, Ohio. They were followed by Adam's other grandnephews, Jacob 5/6 and Philip 5/7, also sons of John 4/2. Soon afterward Adam sold his Tuscarawas County holdings to his other grand-nephew, George 5/5, also the son of John 4/2. Additionally, in 1828, Adam's son John "W" Mizer 4/4, settled in the same general area.

The closeness of these families is further evidenced by the fact there were double family ties between them. Adam 3/9 and his nephew, John 4/2, married sisters. Adam 3/9 married Mary Eckhart and John 4/2 married Rosina Eckhart as supported by the will of Jacob Eckhart of Northumberland County, Pennsylvania, Vol. 2, p. 108.

No further record is found of Mary Eckhart except a Mary appearing along with that of Adam on May 22, 1824, when they jointly signed deeds transferring all their lands to several of their children in Paint Township, Wayne County, Ohio (as seen in Holmes County, Ohio, records). An obituary of Adam's youngest son, Joseph 4/14, states that he, Joseph, was the youngest of fourteen children—nine boys and five girls. In support we list the following:

JOHN MEISER 4/2 (John [Johannes] Meiser 3/7, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1), was born at Millbach, Pennsylvania, and was baptized "Johannes Adam Meiser" at the Millbach Church, presently in Lebanon County, Pennsylvania (11), on April 2, 1760. He died in Jefferson County, Ohio, ca. June 1, 1812 (16), and is buried on the farm he owned and lived on at the time of his death. The area is presently in Harrison County, Ohio, being a part of Section 20, Township 11, Range 4 of the Steubenville District Lands.

He married Rosina Eckhart as evidenced in a baptismal record under the date of April 4, 1792, when "Johannes Meiser and his wife Rosina" were sponsors to the baptism of Johannes Jacob Miller, son of Johannes Miller and wife, Elizabeth. (Baptisms 1776-1876, Grubbs Church, Chapman Township, Snyder County, Pennsylvania, page 1, line 4—a translation by Karl Schild, recorded at the Lutheran Seminary Library in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.) No other record has been found of this marriage. Rosina (Eckhart) Meiser is found listed in the will of her father, Jacob Eckhart, Northumberland County, Vol. 2, p. 108.

He is first recorded in 1776 as living in Penns Township, Northumberland County, Pennsylvania, as additional resident (13). He was assessed there for the first time in 1782, and in that year he was taxed with a hundred acres of land and personal property (14). When Mahantago Township was formed from the lower part of Penns in 1796, his name did not appear on the tax list there, indicating he may have removed from that section (14). Fisher feels sure that he served in the Revolution (14). We next find him living in Jefferson County, Ohio, Sept. 6, 1806, having on this date purchased 160 acres of land from Mathias Stoll, covering a parcel of land "lying on the waters of Cross Creek, Jefferson County, Ohio, and being part of Section 20, Township 11, range 4, in the Steubenville District . . ." He died here ca. June 1, 1812, and is buried on the farm.

In his will, dated June 1, 1812, John Meiser does not mention his wife, indicating she may have died before him. He specifies a bequeath of twenty-five dollars to be paid to his daughter, Elizabeth, "not as part of her Legacie . . ."

and the balance to be equally divided between his eight children.

Jacob Levengood and Christopher Shaber were designated executors.

PART TWO — GENEALOGY

SECTION ONE

Descendants of Henry Meiser 3/4

JOHN PHILIP MEISER 4/4 (Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1), son of Henry Meiser and Anna Maria _____, was born October 15, 1766 (according to Brendle's History of Schaefferstown, Pa.) in the Millbach-Schaefferstown area of what was then Lancaster County, but presently Lebanon County, Pennsylvania.

Neither his marriage date nor the name of his wife has been authenticated. On July 1, 1792, a Philip Meiser and a Barbara Swartzen (both unmarried) were sponsors in the baptism of Johann Philip, son of Johannes Swartz and his wife, Maria, nee Schwartzin. This probably was Philip 4/4 and perhaps Barbara Schwartzin became his wife. However, no records have been found to prove or disprove it. Baptism is recorded on Page 2, Line 16 of Baptisms—1776-1786—Grubb's (Bottsdrafts) [Gospel] Church, Chapman township, Snyder County, Pennsylvania. (A translation by Rev. Karl S. Child is located at the Lutheran Seminary Library in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.) On Page 3, line 24, of the same record, Philip Meiser and his wife baptized a child on December 14, 1794. Sponsors were Friederich Neiss and his wife, Barbara. The name of the child was not filled in. This child very well could have been Philip's first-born, Henry, whose birth date was never established. The date fits in with the 1795 date on which Philip's second child, Lydia, was born.

Mrs. Esther Page Knisely, a descendant, states:

Deed Records of Tuscarawas County, Ohio, Volume III, page 402, give the name of Philip's wife as Margaret. She may or may not have been the mother of Philip's children. Grandchildren of Frederick, Philip's son, told me of Grandfather Albright and that his name was Frederick Albright. This seems possible because of the custom of naming first sons for paternal grandfathers, and the next for the maternal. Philip's sons were Henry, Frederick and Daniel. The daughters were Lydia and Sarah Alice."

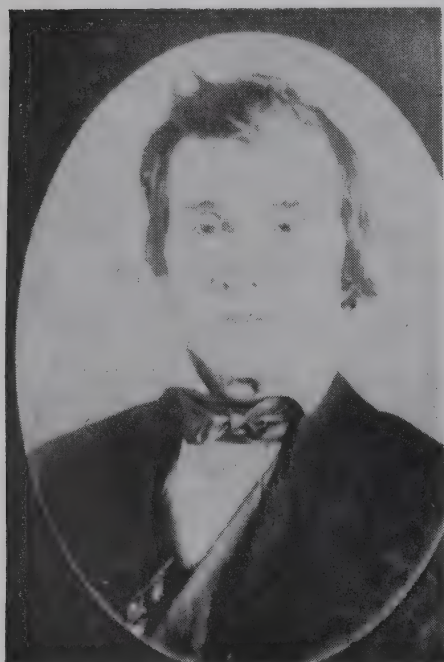

Philip Meisser was issued a Certificate of Public Debt by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in the amount of £ 10:17:0 for a tour of active duty in the Berks County Militia. He was a member of Lt. Jacob Rherer's Detachment Second Battalion, guarding convention prisoners at Reading, according to Basic Payrolls, Volume B, Page 15, Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission, Division of Public Records.

Philip Meiser came to Ohio in the early 1800's and held land in Jefferson County, Ohio, for a brief period. This is evidenced by a deed for one hundred acres dated April 15, 1806. The land was purchased from Simeon Pfautz, Cross Creek District of Steubenville Lands, a part of Section 19, Township 11, Range 4. On September 1, 1819, he received a patent for land in NW 1/4, Sec. 22, Twp. 15, R 7 in Tuscarawas County, Ohio. It was recorded April 6, 1882, in Volume 3, Page 402; also on June 5, 1816, another patent SE 1/4; Sec. 10, Twp. 15, R 7. It was recorded July 10, 1822, in Volume 3, page 417. These holdings in Tuscarawas County, Ohio, near Newcumberland, were his last. He died there after 1822, the year he conveyed the lands covered by the above two patents to his sons, Frederick and Henry.

A TRIBUTE TO SAMUEL NEED

by Belle Mizer

July 18, 1899

Last Tuesday was a day of joy,
For Evans Creek, indeed;
To call on Samuel Need.

Now Samuel, like most other folk,
was busy making hay,
And never tho't. 'twas such a joke—
Of his seventy-third birthday.

When at the house the folks arrived,
They Samuel did call;
He straightway came, and was surprised
Right there before us all.

He soon espied the nice, new chair,
And presently took a seat;
For only our weight is hard to bear
When we are badly beat.

Then Samuel got white and said:
"What are we going to eat?"
To see the baskets then he sped
With swiftiness hard to beat.

The table then was built with care
To make it large and strong;
For loads of dainties it must bear,
Before the happy throng

Who bowed and thanked their God above
For all these bounties given;
And hoped that we might meet in love
With him at last in heaven.

These dainties then soon disappeared,
When by this crowd assailed,
Which, by music then was cheered
And happiness prevailed.

Friends from Canal Dover were,
Bryans and Colliers, full of life;
Mrs. Mizer, of Baltic, was there,
From Chili, George Need and wife.

And many from Bakersville were there,
And neighbors, young and old
Who left their work with the weather fair,
To partake of the joys untold.

Many a one went home that night,
 With deep and joyful tho't
 Of a gathering far, far more bright,
 When the battle of life is fought.

HENRY MISER 4/5

HENRY MISER 4/5 (Henry Meiser 3/4, Johan Michael Meiser 2/2, Johann Jurg Meisser 1/1), son of Henry Miser 3/4 (1728-1801) and Anna Maria ———, was born in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania on November 6, 1768. He died in Jefferson County, Ohio on February 22, 1861, as recorded on a gravestone marker in the Leas Cemetery at Annapolis, Ohio.

Henry married Margaret Druckenmiller ca. 1793. She was the daughter of Frederick Druckenmiller and Christina ——— (First Families of America, Vol. VII, Page 435).

Henry Miser 4/5 settled in Jefferson County, Ohio near the present village of Annapolis in the year 1802. His land is recorded as being in Section 32, Township 10, Range 3, Jefferson County, Ohio.

It has been stated that Henry Miser was not the original owner of the land, but that the land was first entered by a pioneer, Solomon Miller, in 1800. However, as he was unable to buy the section and nothing less could be had, Mr. Miller was dispossessed and the land was entered by Henry Miser.

It was here Henry Miser cleared the land to make it suitable for farming and raised his family. For sometime he and his family lived in a log cabin,

ANNAPOLIS, OHIO

This house was constructed of hand-made bricks from the clay on the farm. The brick house replaced the log cabin which was their first dwelling in 1808.

presumably erected by Mr. Miller. Later they built a house of hand-made bricks from the clay found on the farm. Today the land is owned by Howard Miser, a great great grandson.

Of This Numerous Family

THE MISER CENTENNIAL AT ANNAPOLIS, OHIO 1902

On September 4, 1902, there assembled in the grove of Thomas W. Miser, one-half mile east of Annapolis, Jefferson county, Ohio, one of the largest gatherings of relatives that ever met together in the community. They met to celebrate the emigration of Henry Miser from Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, in the year 1802 to the farm upon which the reunion was held, and which, it is gratifying to know, is still in the possession of the Miser family. Extending down to the sixth generation, Henry Miser's direct descendants, living and dead, number four hundred and fifty. Owing to the day being somewhat unfavorable, the great distance which many would have had to come, and sickness, many who desired to be present were kept away. As it was, there were over two hundred of the Miser connection present. The following programme, interspersed with music by the New Athens Ladies' Band, was rendered:

Song, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds"	Miser Family

After the programme the time was spent in meeting old friends and forming new acquaintances. As evening came on the people departed to their homes, feeling that the day had been one of great enjoyment and one long to be remembered.

The following history of the Miser family, compiled by William Miser of Iowa, was read by Floyd Miser:

The History

A sketch of the Miser family by William Miser, of Birmingham, Iowa:

In the spring of 1895 I heard of a post office in Tennessee by the name of Miser. Since that time I have been trying to find out what I could of the Miser family. The following is what I have found. My great grandfather's name was Henry Miser, who was born in Germany¹ in the year 1733.¹ The time of his emigration to the United States and the date of his marriage I could not find. I found that his wife's name was Dorthea Moyer.¹ In 1775 he became a Revolutionary soldier and belonged to the Headlingburg company under the command of Captain Jordan.¹ I am unable to name any engagement in which he participated, or the time of his discharge. After the war he lived in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, until his death in 1827,¹ at which time he was 94 years old.¹ The old original county of Lancaster is now divided into five or six different counties. His original farm is in the Miser name as far down as the sixth generation. I found he had a family of six sons and two daughters. The names of his sons were Mike, George, Henry, John, Philip and Andrew. My grandfather, who was Henry, his brothers John and George married three sisters by the name of Drukamiller. The girls married men by the names of Bauman and Tiffany. In the fall of 1800 Henry returned to Pennsylvania. George remained in Tennessee until his death in 1854, at which time he was 90 years of age. George raised a family of four sons, named Mike, Philip, John and Joseph,² and four daughters, all of whom are dead. Of these I can find no trace save of Joseph, who lived to the age of 82 years and died at Okra, Indian Territory, in April of 1902. He was a life-long Knight Templar Mason.

John remained in Tennessee some years, then went West, the exact place I do not know. Some suppose it was to Arkansas. He was never heard from afterward.

In Tennessee they heard that Henry had moved to Ohio, and Tiffany, his brother-in-law, set out to find him. They never heard more of Tiffany, but always supposed he found Henry in Ohio. Bauman, the other brother-in-law, in that day, controlled a great deal of money, for he was engaged in the slave trade, purchasing them in the North and driving them to the Southern market. He moved to Alabama and became quite wealthy. Mike, I can find nothing of him, and am inclined to think he never left Pennsylvania. I am told there are quite a number of Misers living around Harrisburg, Pa. Could that be some of Mike's posterity?

Andrew Miser came to Ohio after Henry and lived South of Germano, near Wilkins' Mills, and died there. I suppose his remains are in the Zion cemetery. Andrew had one son and four daughters. Philip Miser came to Ohio about the same time and settled near New Cumberland, Tuscarawas County. I can only find that he had one son, Fred, who died in 1862.

I heard some time since that there was a Miser family living on the Tommy Johnson farm. I do not know to what family he belonged. He came to Ohio shortly after Henry Miser. I have heard "Granny" Miser telling about them smoking their meat over there, and the wolves chasing her home. Lately I have learned that it was Adam Miser, and he moved to Eaton, Ohio. I also find that there was a John, who lived and died on the Johnson farm, south of the Zion Lutheran Church. He died in 1812. He had four sons, named Samuel, Philip, Mike and Jacob.³ This John Miser's family moved to Coshocton County, Ohio, in 1853.³ This Adam and John must have been brothers and cousins of Henry, my grandfather. Henry Miser, my grandfather, came to what was then the Northwest Territory in 1802 and settled on the farm where Thomas W. Miser now lives. He paid Solomon Miller for his improvements, consisting of a cabin house and about forty acres of cleared land, after which he secured the section of land from the government. He raised a family of six sons and three daughters. He died February 22nd, 1861, aged 92 years, 6 months and 20 days. His wife died November 26, 1850, aged 76 years. The children's names were John, Henry, Mary (Polly), Samuel, Barbara, David, George, Margaret (Peggy), and William, all of whom are now dead. His six sons, two daughters and eight daughters-in-law, also; one son-in-law, lie along with father and mother in the Leas Cemetery. His one remaining daughter-in-law is 85 years old. Grandfather, at the time of his death, had fifty-eight grandchildren who had lived to be over eighteen years of age and six or eight who died younger. He had seen all of them. The first one of the fifty-eight to die was Uncle Sam's Margaret, or Liz, as she was commonly called, who died August 10, 1842. She was followed by Samuel Huston in 1844, and Henry Birchfield in July, 1853; also Kitty Ann Job in February, 1855. As near as I know at the present time, of the fifty-eight there are but thirty left. His son John was born in 1794 and married Rowan Chapin in 1818. She died in February, 1826. He died in 1869, aged 68 years. Henry Miser was born in 1796 and married Drusilla Edgington in 1821. She died in 1827. He again married Eliza Barnett in 1828. He died in October, 1834. She died April, 1879. Mary (Polly) married Charles Burchfield in 1821. He died in 1868 and she died in 1874. Samuel Miser was born in 1800, married Mary Mull in 1822. She died in February, 1840. Afterwards he married Priscilla James in October, 1842. He died November 21, 1874. She died April 29, 1888. Barbara married Richard Huston in 1820. He died about 1882. She died in 1887. David Miser was born in 1804; married Mary Powel in 1825. He died in 1852 and she died about 1885. George Miser was born January 5, 1807; married Maria Leas in June, 1831. She died January 31, 1890, and he died November 21, 1893. Margaret (Peggy) Miser was born in 1812, married Samuel Mull in 1832. She died in February, 1841. William Miser was born in 1815; married Dilla Barnes in 1835. She died in 1836. He then married Jane McDowell in 1837, who is still living. William Miser died in September, 1880.

THE MISER CENTENNIAL

Held on the Old Miser Homestead near Salem, Sept. 4, 1902

Verses Composed by G. M. Gault and Read by Him on the Occasion

One hundred years the Miser band
Upon this Sections had a stand;
In township nine and old range three,
They still hold most of thirty-three

Granddaddy Henry had the call
While he and Margaret headed all;
Now if the names of all we give,
Its nine we find that here did live.

There was John and Henry, Dave and Sam,
With Bill and George and Polly Ann,
There was Peggy Mull and Barbary too.
We introduce all nine to you.

And when these nine we all do take,
The second generation it does make
But in the third there's many more;
We'll count to you almost three score.

The fourth and fifth, if we had time,
Might get them into sort of rhyme;
But if there's six, as some relate,
The facts to prove it they can state.

And since there's two, as we know sure,
And if a sixth they can secure,
These ought to lengthen out the strain
As long as we have formed the main.

To take the children in their course,
And try and put them into verse,
And while we're putting them in rhyme,
We may get some not quite on time.

For John we have the number three,
And that were ever known by me:
'Twas Beckler, Job and Thompson, too,
Their names we here have given you.

That Margaret, Kitty and Mary Jane
Did change for these their maiden name.
Now for Henry we find seven,
Neither did they come just even.

Of Edgingtons there was a pair,
While Barnetts had double and one to spare;
There was Eliza Woodward and Alex-Ann,
With Thom. and Henry, Dave and Sam.

Now this is all and every name
Except the sister, Margaret Jane;
And since we put the men's names in,
We'll tell that hers was Osborne's Jim.

Now Dave had eight and nary more,
We'll give their names and make it sure;
'Twas Will, Liz, Henry, Maria and Kate
While Dave and Mary and Babe make up the eight.

And now to make a home run strike,
We'll have to use them all alike;
The sons-in-law must have a place.
And of this batch the first is Lease.

Then comes Kail and Evans next,
While Gruber and Harden complete the text;
And next comes Sam; we count the names,
There were three Mulls and two James.

That changed the names of all this fair,
There was but one and she's a Strayer;
While this centennial you report,
Just say Sam's Thomy holds the fort.

Now William's count runs up to eight,
We guarantee that that is straight;
'Twas Dr. Thom and Blacksmith Rob;
To make all rhyme is quite a job.

There is Tilda H. and Andrews and Belle,
With big George A. we love so well;
There's William J. and Deliverance Jane,
And John Samuel's the last to name.

Now Swaney next comes in the ring,
And then of Hoobler we will sing;
For George the count comes up to ten,
Will, Sis, Jacob, Frank and Hen.

With George and Maggie and Jennie too,
Now John and Cyrus how do you do?
It's Ikes galore the girls had got,
While Maggie chose to have a Gault.

Something peculiar here we find
And we the same will bring to mind;
We've William, Mary and Jacob L.,
With their partners alive and well.

Now the next four, their names you know,
The way of all the earth did go,
And down the line we can relate,
That still another lay in state.

While the division's strangely queer,
An even dozen still is here;
With the six boys we now are done,
And with the girls we'll make no pun.

We said before there were but three,
Peggy, Polly and Barbary;
A hill-side house just sliding down,
And Miller's Margaret's all can be found.

Of the family known as uncle Charley,
Who with his pupils used to parley;
Mind Polly and Charley were in cahoot,
They had four kids and none to boot.

Two boys there were and girls the same,
While Wray and Story were their names;
Now you can see from what I've said
That one, at least, was doubly wed.

Its Mulls have been away so long,
Can hardly mix them in our song;
To the far west some hied away,
In a lone shack old Sam did stay.

We passed the same upon review,
And hence can tell the state to you;
And the boy Henry you can greet,
For with the friends he 'lows to meet.

For from his nature we do know,
When he says yea, it is a go;
The girls lived out the R.R. line,
We believe about in eighty-nine.

Of late the news is sad to know,
They all but one have left below;
That one is Mary, held so dear,
While Lambert needs to get some cheer.

But never think that we've forgot,
To put aunt Barbary in the plot;
She had eight girls and Samy too,
It's hard to make them rhyme to you.

Just think of Bennet, Cloman, Orr and Mear,
With Arbuckle, Callaly and Baxter here;
No—don't think any got away,
Nor from their home did any stray.

For while 'twill lengthen out our theme,
We must record our Houston's PHEME,
And tell how her and Dilla Jane
Retained and kept their maiden name.

So thus we've had them all in course,
And got them into kind of verse,
And if you'd follow up the clan
You must call on your history man.

So now, my hearers, I am done;
We wrote this rhyme upon the run;
But I am happy in the thought.
That into rhyme we have you bro't.

And when another cycle's run,
Of this same size, it is no pun,
That we would like you all to greet,
But it's beyond our power to meet.

THE TENNESSEE MEISERS

Being the Descendants of George and John Meiser, Sons of Henry Meiser 3/4 of Meiserville, Pennsylvania

Tradition has it that in the fall of 1799 five families comprising five children of Henry Meiser 3/4 of Meiserville, Pennsylvania, moved to Blount County, Tennessee. They were sons, George, John and Henry (who married three sisters named Druckenmiller) and two daughters who had married men named Bauman and Hoffley or Hoeffly. In the fall of 1800 Henry returned to Pennsylvania and George remained in Tennessee. George died there ca. 1854 when he was approximately eighty-four years old. Miser Station, Tennessee, was named for him.

John also remained in Tennessee some years before going west. The exact place is not known, though it may have been Arkansas. Hoffley or Hoeffley later heard Henry, his brother-in-law, had moved to Ohio. He set out to find him. The rest of the family in Tennessee received no word of Hoffley or Hoeffley but always supposed he found Henry in Ohio.

Bauman, the other brother-in-law, in that day, controlled a great deal of money as he was engaged in the slave trade, purchasing slaves in the north and driving them to the southern market. He moved to Alabama and became quite wealthy.

In support of this traditional information relative to the Tennessee Meisers, much work has been done by Hugh D. Miser of 4025 South Dakota Avenue, N.E., Washington 18, D. C. His compilation of August 13, 1953, on the Tennessee Misers, follows:

His vigor and strength never left him; he married Betsy at the age of eighty years, and they had three children. At the age of 105 he was attending to the usual chores in the barnyard when he was attacked and killed by a ferocious bull."

MICHAEL R. MIZER 6/5, (Henry Mizer 5/-, John Meiser 4/8, Henry Meiser 3/4 Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) was born in Cleveland, Bradley County, Tennessee, October 6, 1845. Record: documents from Civil War Pension File SC 341 911. Michael R. Mizer died in Sapulpa, Oklahoma, February 4, 1930 at the age of 84 years. He was buried at Southern Heights Cemetery, Sapulpa. He was the son of Elizabeth Wolf and Henry Mizer, who came to McDonald County, Missouri in 1850 from McMinnsville, Tennessee.

According to the marriage records, Book C, Page 229, Henry County, Clinton, Missouri, he was married first to Sarah Skaggs on July 22, 1865. She was born in the year 1845 and died October 27, 1882 on a ranch near Chautauqua Springs, Kansas. She was 37 years 11 months and 27 days old when she died, and was the first adult buried in the Caney, Kansas cemetery.

Michael R. Mizer served in the Civil War, Company F, 45 Regiment, Missouri Volunteers. He enlisted August 1, 1864 and was discharged March 6, 1865. Soon after Michael was married, he and his wife Sarah moved to a farm on Little Sugar Creek near Jane, Missouri. Many of the Mizers settled there in White Rock Township. It was known as Mizer Hollow, and the land extended south to Pea Ridge, Arkansas. In fact, the Pea Ridge National Military Park, established on March 7, 1960, and containing 4,210 acres, was part of the land sold to the federal government by the Mizers.

Living in a war-torn land that had been ravaged by both North and South made an unhappy environment for rearing a family and earning a living. Michael and Sarah gathered their four children into a covered wagon and moved west into Indian Territory. They settled on a cattle ranch between Chautauqua Springs and Pawhuska, an Osage Indian reservation. Here four more children were born, and here is where Sarah died in 1882.

Michael's second marriage was to Emily Skaggs, a cousin of Sarah, in 1885. Emily died in 1890, and is buried in the Caney, Kansas cemetery, according to Michael's service record.

On March 3, 1895, in Claremore, Oklahoma, Michael married third, Sarah McPherson Hodges. She was a Cherokee Indian and they lived on her allotment, 320 acres near Claremore.

BENJAMIN WESLEY MIZER 7/4, (Michael R. Mizer 6/5, Henry Mizer 5/-, John Meiser 4/8, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meiser 1/1) was born in Jane, McDonald County, Missouri on January 1, 1870. He was the son of Sarah Skaggs and Michael R. Mizer. Record: Documents from Michael R. Mizer's Pension Certificate 341911. Benjamin died December 24, 1943 at the age of 74 years.

He moved with his parents to Chautauqua Springs, Kansas and when he was 13 years old, his mother died. He went to work on the Joe Hurd ranch, his principal job being to herd the sheep and cattle on the open range. Benjamin stayed with Joe Hurd until he was 18 years of age. By then, he had earned a pony and a small herd of cattle on his own. He moved on a farm near Pawhuska, on the Osage Indian Reservation, and was soon able to interpret the Osage language, which proved a valuable asset while living among the Indians.

Later he became a close personal friend of Frank Revard, who served on the Osage Tribal Council in Washington, D. C. Also, Benjamin was a very good friend of Chief Fred Lookout, who was Chief of the Osage Tribe for 17 years.

Benjamin W. Mizer married Lennie Belle Harp on October 12, 1894 at Skiatook, I. T. She was born April 10, 1877 at Toronto, Kansas, the daughter of Jefferson and Margaret Clark Harp. She died August 30, 1962, and was buried beside Benjamin in Memorial Park Cemetery, Bartlesville, Oklahoma.

Soon after Benjamin and Lennie Belle were married they bought a farm on Snow Creek, south of Coffeyville, Kansas, in Section 1 Township 25 Range 16, Montgomery County, Kansas.

Lennie Belle was an only child, and Margaret Harp was a frail mother. In 1899 Jefferson Harp moved to Eureka Springs, Arkansas, hoping the move would improve Margaret's health. The next year Benjamin and Lennie Belle moved to Arkansas. On February 17, 1900, Elizabeth "Bess" was born to them, at Clifty, Arkansas. That same year Margaret Harp died and Benjamin brought his little family back to the Snow Creek farm, where they lived until 1903. Benjamin decided to change his occupation and they moved 40 miles west, into Oklahoma once more, to a small town named Wann which was their home for over 20 years. During that time the small town grew into a prosperous little city. Benjamin and Lennie Belle helped to organize and build the First Christian Church in Wann. Benjamin served on the school board and as mayor of the city, and was active in other civic affairs.

He owned and operated a grocery, and a flour and feed business. In 1910 the "oil boom" came; he was very much in that business, too. But he didn't get rich. There are pictures of a flowing oil well, and also of a "dry hole"!

In 1926 Benjamin moved still farther west, 35 miles, to Bartlesville, Oklahoma, where he built a new grocery and feed store at 1001 West Frank Phillips Boulevard. This business he operated until his death, which was caused by a cerebral hemorrhage.

CHILDREN:

ELIZABETH "Bess" MIZER 8/1, (Benjamin Wesley Mizer 7/4, Michael R. Mizer 6/5, Henry Mizer 5/-, John Meiser 4/8, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) was born February 17, 1900 at Clifty, Arkansas, daughter of Benjamin Wesley Mizer and Lennie Belle Harp Mizer. She came with her parents to Wann, Oklahoma when a small child. She attended the Wann schools and is a graduate of Wann High School and Bartlesville Business College.

On June 25, 1917 at Bartlesville, Oklahoma, Elizabeth "Bess" Mizer was married to George W. Bridges. He was born December 5, 1894 in Aldrich, Missouri and was the son of James Malcolm Bridges (1865-1932) and Amanda M. Needham (1864-1952).

George and Bess Bridges first lived in Wann, where George was associated with the oil industry. In 1928 they moved to Bartlesville, where George was field superintendent for the Bartlesville Drilling Company until his retirement in 1962.

Bess Mizer Bridges was office manager for the Tuxedo, Oklahoma Water Improvement District until it was incorporated into the City of Bartlesville in 1956. The city of Bartlesville now has a population of 40,000, and in 1962 was selected as an "All America" city—one of 11 cities in the United States to receive this honor.

On September 1, 1956, Bess Mizer Bridges was employed by the Reda Pump Company as a receptionist, and is still with them in that capacity. The Reda submersible electric pump was invented 30 years ago by Armais Arutunoff, founder and president of the company, and it is sold and used worldwide.

Bess Mizer Bridges is active in the civic affairs of Bartlesville, having served as director of the Bartlesville Welfare Board, and of Pro America; she is past president of the Business & Professional Woman's Club. She is presently director of Desk and Derrick Club, treasurer of the Business Women's Guild of the First Christian Church, and is a member of the Credit Women's Breakfast Club. However, the most interesting of all "jobs" is tracing the Mizer ancestry—she finds it is much later than we think!

SECTION TWO

Descendants of John Meiser 4/2

Son of John "Johannes" Meiser 3/7

JOHN MIZER 5/1 (John Meiser 4/2, John 'Johannes' Meiser 3/7, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johann Jurg Meisser 1/1) The son of John Meiser and Rosina Eckhart was born in Northumberland County, Pennsylvania in the year 1782 according to the U. S. census records.

He married Elizabeth Miller of Jefferson County, Ohio February 7, 1804. This is recorded in the marriage records for Jefferson County. Two of his sons, Henry and John Jr., were born here. Soon afterward they all moved to Tuscarawas County, Ohio where they became the first settlers in what is now Auburn Township, ca. 1811.

The land on which John 5/1 settled was an eighty-acre tract which he obtained from the U. S. Government. It is said that he walked to Zanesville, Ohio to obtain his deed. The farm is now known as the John Young farm and it is located about one mile south of Ragersville. It was on this farm that the third son, George, was born. This was in the year 1812 and according to the History of Tuscarawas County, Ohio by Mansfield, 1884, he was the first white child born within the limits of Tuscarawas County. The fourth son, Jacob, was born here in 1813.

John Mizer lived in a day when communication was very slow. It has been said that John related that it took three months to get the news after Admiral Perry drove the British from Lake Erie.

The farm originally settled by John Mizer 5/1. It is located in Evans Valley near Bakersville, Ohio and now owned by John Ridenour, a fifth generation descendant.

John Mizer loved to hunt and therefore remained in Auburn Township only twelve to fifteen years while game was plentiful. When the wild game became scarce he sold his eighty acres and moved to Evans Valley in Bucks Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio. There game was still plentiful. He purchased 700 acres of land for ten dollars per acre.

For a few years before 1843 the county paid a bounty for wolves. Mr. Mizer shot forty-seven, far more than anyone else in the county. He also shot a 700-pound bear and two panthers; measuring eleven feet and twelve feet respectively. He and his son George shot twenty-one deer in one day. The family made their own clothing from some of these skins. It is said that much of Mrs. Mizer's clothing was made of buckskin.

Many and varied were the experiences of Mr. Mizer. One day while Mr. Mizer was hunting wolves he was suddenly attacked by a catamount (wild cat) which jumped from a tree and onto his back. He pressed it against a tree, drew his hunting knife and plunged it into the beast's side several times. The animal struggled to get away but the repeated blows from his knife soon dropped the catamount dead at his feet. It was the largest of the species ever seen in this part of the country. It measured three feet in length and weighed 100 pounds. As the result, Mr. Mizer had back injuries which bothered him for sometime, but he was soon out hunting more wolves.

When he was a boy, Indians often stopped at their house to spend the night. Usually not more than one or two at any one time. They slept by the fireplace and always with their heads toward the fire. After staying for a few meals they would go on their way. Mr. Mizer said, "They almost ate us out of house and home." On one occasion they returned within a few days a bountiful supply of fresh meat in exchange for the kindness shown them.

It was about the year 1832 that the farmers in the Stonecreek Valley were having trouble with something taking their chickens, little pigs and small lambs. They were unable to find what it was so they asked the "Mizer Hunters" to come and help them. They consented to do so as soon as there was a snowfall for tracking. The day came and John Mizer Sr., his son John Mizer Jr. and perhaps his older son, Henry, and his brother "Big Jake" Mizer went to find the beast making off with the farm animals. They followed some tracks to a cave in "Stucky Hollow." Now the big question came. "Who should go into the cave?" After much reasoning they decided John Jr. should go since he was the only one unmarried and therefore if he should be killed the loss would be less. John took a well-loaded gun and went into the cave, the others stood by the entrance. After some time of waiting they heard a faint shot, then silence. Finally a coarse voice said, "Give me another gun." Taking another gun he re-entered the cave. They heard another shot. Soon John Mizer Jr. reappeared at the mouth of the cave with two large panthers.

When the Amish first settled north of Baltic, they kept their horses in a corral. One night the horses got out and wandered over the hills to Evans Creek and followed the valley south. The next day several Amish men tracked them to Evans Creek and asked Mr. Mizer to help round them up. Mr. Mizer followed the tracks to Orange, along the river to Coshocton, then up the Walhonding Valley. As it was growing dark he found a place to sleep in a pile of leaves beside a fallen tree. It was in the late autumn and quite cool so he nested down inside a pile of leaves. When he awoke the next morning he felt something moving under him. It was a large black snake which had become warm and began to crawl. The next day he found the horses and took them to the Amish owners at Baltic.

One summer evening when Mr. Mizer was on the hill above his house he came upon a rattle-snake. He killed it and then discovered he was near a rattle-snake den. There were snakes all around as they were returning to their abode for the night. As was customary, Mr. Mizer was wearing leather boots so he began stamping the snakes and hitting them with the butt of his gun.

One Sunday afternoon the Mizer children wanted to go and play with the children on the Shank Farm (now the Mike Mizer farm). It was one mile by following the road, but only one-half mile along the path through the woods. When the children had not returned in the expected time Mr. Mizer went to look for them. He followed the path through the woods and after being deep in the wooded area he heard something coming toward him, puffing and snorting. He stepped aside and a large panther rushed by. With this he became more worried about the children and hurried on to the Shank home where he found all the children safe.

John Mizer's grandson, Simon Mizer 7/4, relates that his grandfather shot the last Indian in this part of the country. The Indian boasted about killing ninety-nine white people and as proof he had the tongues strung on a cord and wore them about his neck. He told John Mizer about a widowed lady who lived alone and would be his hundredth victim. The Indian would need to cross a stream on a foot-log to reach the lady's house. Mr. Mizer cautiously watched as he was about to commit this cruel act. He saw the Indian enter the log, but waited until he was about in the center of the stream when he shot, and the Indian fell into the water below.

John Mizer purchased the first saw-mill in the Bucks Township Area. It was run by water-power and the dam was just below the Evans Creek Church. (The taxation value being $100) The mill was in his possession from 1832 to 1834 when he sold it to his son, Henry. Henry Mizer operated it until he died in 1842 after which it was sold to his two youngest brothers, George and Jacob. (Taxation value $50) They operated it there for many years, until steam power replaced water power.

When the building of the first church was contemplated, Benjamin Helwig of the German Reformed congregation and Jacob Mizer of the Evangelical Lutheran congregation were selected to choose a site for a church and cemetery plot. They chose two acres from the John Mizer farm and for it he was paid one dollar per acre. The first church was built there in 1834 although both congregations had been organized a year or two before this date. This church is today's Salem Evangelical Lutheran Church.

On the evening of October 5, 1859, John Mizer and his son, Jacob, were attending a political meeting at Bakersville when Mr. Mizer suffered a stroke of apoplexy. He turned to his son Jacob, handed him his watch and quietly and quickly passed away. He was buried in the Evans Creek Church Cemetery. His wife Elizabeth remained on the old homestead (known as the Grover Mizer 8/8 farm) making her home with her son, Jacob. She died November 28, 1870 at the age of 85 years 11 months and 28 days. JOHN MISER 7/3, son of John and Betsy Jane (Menser) Miser, was born Coshocton County, Ohio about 1842 (Census) migrating with his parents to "Somewhere in Iowa" in 1859. A letter written by him to his niece Eliza J. March 8/5, on February 15, 1880 from Tie Siding, Wyoming, states a son John William Miser 8/1 had just been born to him, placing him in that locale in 1880. Laramie County, Wyoming, marriage records reveal he and Lillie Sevelia Potter married on 2/22/1876 stating they were both from Minerva County, Iowa. There is no "Minerva" County in Iowa, but there is a Minerva Township, Marshall County, in Iowa. Efforts to find some record of his having lived in Marshall County, Iowa, proved negative. We next find Lillie S. Miser marrying Hugh McKendrick on 2/18/1882, Laramie, Albany County, Wyoming. Hugh and Lillie McKendrick were divorced at Challis, Idaho in 1909, and remarried each other there in 1916. What happened to John Miser 7/3 is unknown. His son John William Miser 8/1, died in Challis, Idaho on March 29th, 1898. He died as the result of a fall from a galloping horse which had been scared when a calf bolted across its path. JACOB MIZER 6/4

Son of John Mizer 5/1

SUSANNAH SUMMERS, wife of Jacob Mizer 6/4
LYDIA MIZER 7/16, daughter of Jacob Mizer and Susannah Summers.

JACOB ('LITTLE JAKE') MIZER 6/4 (John Mizer 5/1, John Meiser 4/2, John 'Johannes' Meiser 3/7, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johann Jurg Meisser 1/1), son of John Mizer 5/1 and Elizabeth Miller, was born July 7, 1813 in Auburn Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio. When he was about twelve years old, he came with his parents and three brothers to Evans Valley in Bucks Township. Here he spent the rest of his life. He died Dec. 11, 1882 in Evans Valley and is buried in the Evans Creek Cemetery.

Jacob Mizer married Susannah Summers, daughter of Jacob Summers and Martha Hokerman, of Northumberland County, Pennsylvania. She was born Oct. 1, 1815. Jacob and Susannah got their marriage license in New Philadelphia, Tuscarawas County, Ohio, on May 29, 1834.

Jacob Mizer's second marriage was to Hannah Hawk Mizer Chance, who survived him. She died in 1896 and is buried in the Evans Creek Cemetery.

A grandson of Jacob Mizer, Tom Gerber, related that in 1834 his grandfather, carrying his trusty gun, walked to Northumberland County, Pa., to get a wife. On the way he came face to face with an Indian who also had a gun. The two looked at each other for a while; suddenly the Indian pointed his gun to the ground as if to say he wanted no harm, and each went his own way. Jacob continued to Northumberland County where he found a 19-year-old girl, Susannah Summers, who promised to be his wife. Her father, born in 1796, was a drummer boy in the War of 1812. After his discharge, he walked 300 miles to his home.

When Jacob returned to Tuscarawas County, Ohio, he not only brought his young sweetheart, but her entire family, consisting of her father, her mother, eight sisters and two brothers. Another sister and a brother were born after the family arrived in Tuscarawas County.

The Summers family settled on a farm about a mile and a half north of the Mizer homestead, which is now the Hershel Vititoe farm. They lived on this farm until 1860 when they sold it and moved to Owen County, Indiana.

Mr. Gerber also stated an incident concerning his grandfather as a young man. While walking through Old Town Valley toward New Philadelphia, Jacob came to an Indian village where there were just a few huts. The Indians knew him and asked him to stay to dinner. Not wanting to offend the Indians, he agreed to stay, but after learning what they were having for dinner, he wished he hadn't consented to do so. The meal consisted of muskrat and skunk cabbage. However, Jacob said it tasted pretty good.

Jacob, as most of the Mizers, liked to hunt. One day, while hunting on the hillside west of the Evans Creek Church, he shot a deer. He, however, just wounded it, and the deer attacked him. It hit his shot pouch, putting a hole in it, before he could get out his hunting knife to finish the job.

Jacob's son, William, told how his father made his own bullets. He made one out of pewter, which was used to kill three deer and a bear. When he shot the last time the bullet lodged in a tree and was lost.

He and his brother, George, operated a water power saw mill in the valley below the Evans Creek Church for many years. They would not saw on Sunday, but when the water was up, they would start to saw as soon as the sun went down and saw all night.

Jacob Mizer served on the first church council of the Evans Creek Lutheran Church. As a representative of the Lutheran congregation, Jacob, along with Benjamin Helwig of the Reformed congregation, were to select a location for the first church and cemetery. In 1836 they selected two acres from Jacob's father's land where the present church and cemetery is located. Jacob served almost continuously on the church council as long as he lived.

In later years Jacob used a cane with a crook to assist him in walking. When he sat in church, he set his cane in front of him, resting his chin on it. Many of the young people never saw him sit in any other position. He would also use the crook on his cane to catch his grandchildren around the neck. They soon learned to keep a safe distance.

FREDERICK MIZER 5/4

FREDERICK MISER 5/4 (John Meiser 4/2, John Johannes Meiser 3/7, Johan Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) son of John Meiser 4/2, and Rosina Eckhart, was born in Northumberland County, Pennsylvania, in 1787. He died in January of 1860 and is buried in Feters Cemetery, south west of Bryan, Ohio. On February 18, 1812, he married Elizabeth Bickle in New Philadelphia, Ohio.

His parents resided on a farm now owned by Ernest Johnson of Germano, Ohio. The stone wall and outline of the house can be seen near the waters of Cross Creek, Harrison County.

The History of Coshocton County, pages 557-558, states that Frederick Miser settled in the South half of section one, Millcreek Township, about 1820. It describes him as being of towering stature and strength. It also states that when his rifle would bring down a deer, he was accustomed to swing the deer across his shoulder and continue to hunt until he had shot another. He would then fasten one to each end of a short pole and bear them home on his shoulder. The records show that he was a man of great strength, and possessed a quality of kindheartedness.

The 1830 census reveals he lived in Millcreek Township and that at this time he and his wife were between forty and fifty years of age. The record also shows he had two sons between ten and fifteen years; two sons and one daughter between five and ten years; and one son under five years of age.

The next record found is in Howe's Historical Collections of Ohio, volume 2, page 848. It states "one autumn day two pioneer settlers, namely George W. Bible of Superior Township and Frederick Miser of Centre Township, Williams County, Ohio tried to see who could kill the largest number of deer within two months' time. Mr. Bible killed ninety-eight and Frederick Miser sixty-five. The skins and part of the flesh were sold. The hams were salted down."

Deed records for Williams County, Ohio show that on May 17, 1842, Frederick purchased land there in Pulaski Township. On January 31, 1843, he sold parts of it to his second son, John Miser, and part to Daniel and Elizabeth Feters, his daughter and son-in-law.

"That said John Miser left surviving him his widow, Mary Miser, who departed this life on or about two years ago last July; that said widow did not remarry."

According to the afore mentioned family Bible, the dates of the births of John Miser's children are given, viz.: Henry Miser 7/1 born March 21, 1839; Emily Miser 7/2 born May 29, 1841; Sarah Miser 7/3 born October 10, 1842; John Miser 7/4 born April 15, 1846; Mary Melissa Miser 7/5 born January 22, 1848; Thomas J. Miser 7/6 born June 1, 1853; and Jacob Miser 7/7 born July 5, 1857.

The before mentioned Affidavit of Proof of Heirs of John Miser as found in Book F. of Miscellaneous at page 359 verifies six of the seven mentioned from the family Bible as heirs, Sarah Miser 7/3 having died at the age of two, according the this same family Bible.

There is in the possession of the descendants of John Miser 6/2 a photograph taken at W. Boyce Studio, Danville, Illinois. Also in their possession is a photograph of his tombstone in Sherman Cemetery, La Bette County, Kansas, with the dates of his birth and his death.

(The name Meisser has been spelled quite a number of different ways from the earliest ancestors down to the present day. It might be interesting to note that the descendants of John Miser 6/2 spell the name differently. Henry's family spells the name Meiser, while the families of John, Jacob and Thomas J. spell it Miser.)

According to the foresaid affidavit, John Miser 6/2 was married to Mary Elizabeth Fетters.

John was a great hunter and a strong man. He had moved his family from Ohio to Iowa about 1850 and had settled near Cedar Rapids. Henry 7/1 his eldest son told of the time while living in Iowa that a terrible blizzard was lashing the countryside. The children were coming from school and "Big John" as he was called went to meet them. He picked his little girl up in his arms and carried her several miles through the raging storm. (Handed down information)

The John Miser family then moved to Kansas by covered wagon. They were followed several miles by an outlaw band, but were never attacked. (Handed down information)

After his sons Jacob and Thomas J. Miser moved to Idaho, John went to visit them. Being a great hunter, he went hunting for deer in what they called the lavas, about twenty miles South of Hailey, Idaho. He was lost from camp, staying away overnight. He became sick from the exposure and never fully recovered. He returned to Kansas where he died soon afterwards on January 30, 1886. (Handed down information) Evidence of the date of his death is in the family Bible and on the Cemetery marker.

After the death of John Miser 6/2, his widow, Mary Elizabeth, went to Hailey, Idaho, to spend her last days with her two sons there. She died July 25, 1901 at Hailey, and is buried in the Masonic Plot at the Hailey Cemetery. (Evidence by Cemetery marker and family Bible)

Proof that John Miser 6/2 is a son of Fredrick and Elizabeth Bickle Miser is found in case No. 572 filed February 25, 1860 in the Probate and Juvenile Courts of Williams County, Ohio, which relates his heirs as Elizabeth Miser (perhaps his wife), George Miser, Elizabeth Miser Fetters, John Miser, Henry Miser, Philip Miser, and J. Miser (evidently Jacob).

From Clare (Michigan) Sentinel, June 18, (evidently 1915), we find the following obituary of Henry Miser 6/6: "Henry Miser, uncle of Irvin and Josh Miser, died June 9 at the home of Irving Miser near Dover in the 86th year of his age.

"Mr. Miser was born in Coshocton Co., Ohio, in March 1830. Like many other unfortunate men, he had deeded valuable property to others to care for him during the balance of his life; but alas! he soon saw the old home vanish forever and he was sent to spend his last days in the county house. Irving Miser, hearing of his uncle's misfortune went to Ohio last fall and brought him to his home near Dover to live out the balance of his days with him.

"Mr. Miser slipped on the ice during the winter and fell, hurting himself so that he was confined to his bed until death relieved him.

"His body was laid to rest on the family lot, in beautiful Claire Cemetery." This Henry was often called Uncle Hen.

Philip Miser, known to us as Uncle Phil, 6/5, was another brother to John Meiser 6/2, as has been before established, as an heir of Fredrick Miser 5/4. He was born in 1829, his name appearing on the 1850 census. He married Eliza A. Fetters on April 3, 1855, she being one of thirteen children. (From the obituary of Eliza A. Fetters Miser) The family of Henry Meiser 7/1 has in its possession a picture of the monument of Philip Miser in Fetters Cemetery. He was a good manager and had a good living. His farm became a haven of rest for unfortunate boys. Alex Mann, a relative of Rebecca Rex Meiser (wife of Henry 7/1 son of John 6/2) worked the farm. Uncle Phil always had apples the year around and owned a big maple sugar camp where he made lots of maple sugar every spring. Maude Meiser Oliver 8/9 remembers quite well the chunks of maple sugar her father Henry 7/1 made there and brought home to Tennessee. (Handed down information). He died December 11, 1887.

There is no further information concerning the brothers and sister of John Miser 6/2 available to the writer¹ at this time.

HENRY MEISER 7/1 (John Miser 6/2, Frederick Miser 5/4, John Meiser 4/2, John Johannes Meiser 3/7, Johann Michael Meiser 2/1, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) was the oldest child of John and Mary Elizabeth Fetters Miser. He was born March 21, 1839, in Williams County, Ohio, according to the family Bible record, and also stated on his Civil War Discharge. Henry was first married to Catherine Miller. To this union two children were born, namely, Edward Thomas Meiser and Hattie May Meiser. At the death of Catherine Miller Meiser, Edward Thomas lived with his father, and Hattie May made her home with her Uncle Philip and Aunt Eliza Meiser near Bryan, Ohio.

Henry Meiser again married, this time to Rebecca Rex. The family Bible record reads as follows: "This certifies that the rite of holy matrimony was celebrated between Henry Miser of Defiance County, Mark Township, Ohio, and Rebecca Rex of Hicksville Township in Defiance County, Ohio, on July 5th, 1877, at the residence of George Rex, were united in matrimony by Jacob Long, Minister of the Lutheran Church at Hicksville, Ohio. Witness: Joseph Rex and Polly Metterd." To this union eight children were born: Ida May Meiser, Elizabeth Elnora Meiser, John Meiser, George Meiser, Henry Grover Meiser, Eveline Meiser, Maude Ellen Meiser, and Howard Glen Meiser. Proof of these children of Henry Meiser and Rebecca Rex Meiser is found in the family Bible record.

Henry Meiser enlisted in the Union Army at the age of twenty-two at Kendalville, Indiana. He served in the 111th Ohio Regiment, Company F, for three years. He was discharged at Salisbury, North Carolina, June 27, 1863. This information is from his Civil War Discharge. He was in several battles and skirmishes. The hardest and bloodiest battle was fought at Franklin, Tennessee. The losses were severe. The Confederate Army lost 6,500 men while the Union Army lost 2,326 men, according to The New Funk and Wagnalls Encyclopedia. Henry told how the Union soldiers of his company slopped through mud up to their knees to Nashville from Murfreesboro—slopped through the mud back to Murfreesboro—and slopped through the mud to Franklin.

Henry could shoot a gun or an arrow and hit the mark every time. One Thanksgiving a turkey shooting match was held near Henry's home. At that time he was near seventy years of age. The young men said that he would get all the turkeys, and ruled him out from shooting.

He was not affiliated with any church. He always lived by the Golden Rule. He was a great believer in education. Many times a wagon load of wheat from his farm was sold to buy school books for his children.

For six years he served as Trustee of Defiance County, Ohio. He gave food to folks that were more needy than himself. He and his sons cut and hauled wood to a widow that was sick and had no heat.

Henry lived in Ohio, Kansas, Iowa, and Tennessee. He moved to Tennessee in 1890. He had fallen in love with the rugged hills, streams, and woodlands of this area while he was in the Union Army. He settled on a farm about five miles North of McMinnville, Tennessee, in Warren County. After all of his children were gone from home, he gave up farming and moved into town (McMinnville) where he spent the last few years of his life. He died December 28, 1921. The date of his death is found in the family Bible record and also on his tombstone at Riverside Cemetery in McMinnville. The other information through his biography is well known, having been related many times by his sons and daughters, and most recently related to the writer by Henry's daughter, Maude Ellen Meiser Oliver.

Further proof of the heirs of Henry Meiser is found in the inventory and settlement of his estate as found in the records of the September, 1923, term of Warren County, Tennessee, Court, page 521. This lists Edward Meiser and Hattie Meiser Walden, the children of his first marriage, along with John Meiser, Eva Meiser Byars, George Meiser, Ida Meiser Boles, Rebecca Meiser (his widow), Elizabeth Meiser Hinkley, and Maude Meiser Oliver. The reason that Grover Meiser and Howard Meiser were not listed as heirs is that they were deceased before this date.

EDWARD THOMAS MEISER 8/1, (Henry Meiser 7/1, John Miser 6/2, Fredrick Meiser 5/4, John Meiser 4/2, John Johannes Meiser 3/7, Johann Michael Meiser 2/1, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) was the oldest son of Henry Meiser. He was the first of two children born to Henry Meiser and Catherine Miller Meiser on December 10, 1871, according to his birth certificate issued at Defiance, Ohio, on October 18, 1939, by E. W. Costello, deputy clerk. It further states his place of birth as Mark Township in Defiance County, Ohio. He was married to Rosa Elesta Wurst at Wabasha County, Minnesota, on November 2, 1892, according to Bible record and obituary. Ed, as he was called, was a fine carpenter and said that he always had his fingers on his carpenter's square. He taught his sons and grandsons the carpenter's trade. (According to his family)

To this union were born seven children, six of whom are still living. According to Bible record these children are Edith Pearl Meiser (Hamilton) 9/1, Robert (Bob) Henry Meiser 9/2, Harry Vincent Meiser 9/3, Flossie Mae Meiser (Helms) 9/4, Thomas Edward Meiser 9/5, Della Mildred Meiser (Broadway) 9/6, and George Russell Meiser 9/7.

Further proof of Edward Thomas Meiser is found in the Warren County, Tennessee, Court record of September, 1923, of the settlement of his father's estate, page 521. He lived in Ohio, Missouri, Tennessee, and Illinois. His wife, Rosa Elesta Wurst Meiser, died at Rolla, Missouri, October 27, 1940, when she was struck by a speeding car while crossing a highway. This left Ed a widower for nearly five years. He died at the home of his daughter, Edith Pearl Meiser Hamilton, at Roxana, Illinois, July 22, 1945. He and his wife are buried in Antioch Cemetery, some six or seven miles from Crocker, Missouri, near where they made their home. (Obituary)

ELIZABETH ELNORA MEISER 8/4, the second daughter of Henry and Rebecca Rex Meiser, was born in Defiance County, Ohio, February 14, 1880. She first attended school in Defiance County, Ohio. She moved to Tennessee with her family at the age of ten, and entered school in Warren County, where she attended Hickory Grove, Liberty, and Dibrell Schools. She also attended Dibrell College. She was gifted in the art of public speaking, and because of this gift, she studied elocution for two years. As automobiles were still unheard of and she had no means of transportation other than horseback, she saddled the old bay mare and rode into McMinnville, a distance of five miles, twice a week for these lessons. These lessons paid off, because she could get up gracefully before an audience and deliver a speech. She was quiet and unassuming, and made many friends along life's pathway. Later she attended Middle Tennessee State College at Murfreesboro, and George Peabody College for Teachers in Nashville, Tennessee. On June 27, 1906, she was married to G. W. (Gilbert William) Hinkley of Ripon, Wisconsin. They were married in Warren County, Tennessee. Both she and her husband taught in the public schools of Warren County, Tennessee. They were also connected with the educational systems of Oklahoma and Georgia, having taught a short while in each of these states. They each received their Bachelor of Arts Degree from Central State College at Edmond, Oklahoma, on July 23, 1931. She was a member of the Church of Christ. They had no children. She died at her home in McMinnville, Tennessee, on November 22, 1953, and is buried in Mt. View Cemetery. (Family Bible Record, college records, obituary, and known by living relatives including the writer)

JOHN MEISER 8/5, the oldest son of Henry and Rebecca Rex Meiser, was born March 29, 1881, in Defiance County, Ohio. He moved from Ohio to Tennessee at the age of nine years. He lived with his parents on the farm five miles from McMinnville in Warren County, Tennessee. He grew into a sturdy young man. When about twenty years of age he decided to go North to find work. While working in a railroad switchyard, he was struck by an engine and whirled upon a wheel of the engine. A railroad buddy, Bill Richardson, climbed upon the engine and rang the bell in order to get the engine stopped. One arm was crushed and had to be amputated. As he was right handed, and this was his right arm, he had to learn to use the left hand. After this, he returned to Tennessee, and found out how fruitless it would be for a one-handed man to make a living without an education. So, with the help of his sister, Elizabeth, he started back to school. He attended the public schools of Warren County; Hickory Grove and Liberty, and also Dibrell College. He attended summer school at Burrett College, Spencer, Tennessee. After teaching in Tennessee for several years, he went to Oklahoma, and taught school in Dewey, Oklahoma. Then he craved more education, so he attended Northeastern State Normal College at Tahlequah, Oklahoma, from which he graduated in 1915. He was married to Effie Lee Faye Pride Marshall on May 30, 1914, at Muskogee, Oklahoma. His wife's daughter, Ruth Marshall, by a previous marriage, knew no other father but John. She is now married to "Pete" Adams, and lives in Sand Springs, Oklahoma. To John and Effie were born four children: Wilma Christine Meiser 9/1, Roberta Louise Meiser 9/2 who was born on March 10, 1919 and died at birth, Barbara Jean Meiser 9/3, and John Meiser Jr., who was born and died on April 3, 1925. John Sr. was elected county superintendent of public schools in Washington County, Oklahoma, by the vote of the people, and served several terms in this capacity. Later he was active as a merchant and ran a boarding house. After his retirement, he remained a landlord for several years. In Oklahoma, he lived in Bartlesville, Tulsa, and Sand Springs. He was well liked by his fellow men, and admired by the Osage Indians, even by the one who thought that he was the last of the Dalton gang. John enjoyed many laughs because of this mistaken identity while his family feared that the old Indian would do him harm. He died in a Tulsa hospital on October 31, 1962. He is buried in Memorial Park, Bartlesville, Oklahoma. His widow still lives at his last place of residence at 1110 Maple, Sand Springs, Oklahoma. (Bible record, college record, obituary, and information known by living relatives including the writer)

Hinkley and Elizabeth Meiser Hinkley, were teaching, making her home with them at that time. She returned home to Oklahoma with them when they attended summer school at Central State College in Edmond, Oklahoma. After they received their degrees there, she returned to Tennessee with them and spent another school year at Dibrell. After these two years of school in Tennessee, she returned to Oklahoma. On March 31, 1933, she married Truman Wright, to which union was born one son, John Kenneth Wright. Later she and Truman were divorced. In 1948 she married Robert Aguiar and lived with him at Stockton, California. She worked at different public jobs, including a glass factory. On June 23, 1962, she died at Stockton, California. Later John Wright returned to Oklahoma. On April 6, 1956, he married Wilma Sneed at Ozark, Arkansas. To this union three children were born: John Truman Wright 11/1 on May 27, 1957, Douglas Wright 11/2 on April 8, 1959, and Wilma Christine Wright 11/3 on August 1, 1962. They now live in Ft. John Michael Barbarick 10/1 and Stephen Duane Barbarick 10/2. Stephen was born on February 19, 1947, and is still in school. Don, who was better known as "Doc," died in an airplane crash near their home at Bartlesville, Oklahoma, in 1951, leaving his widow and two sons. He is buried in Memorial Park at Bartlesville. Barbara reentered school, taking a business course, after which she went to work for Phillips Petroleum. It was while working there that she met Don W. Buelow, a geologist for the same corporation, whom she married. As a geologist Don's work takes him to a number of places. They moved to Billings, Montana, and then to Anchorage, Alaska, where they were living at the time of the great earthquake which took place on Good Friday, 1964. Their house was left standing but in shambles. They had not much more than gotten straightened out from the earthquake when Phillips Petroleum transferred them back to Bartlesville, Oklahoma, where they now reside at Apartment 205, 201 S. E. Avondale. Don has now been transferred to Denver, Colorado, but he is commuting until they find a place to live in Denver. (Bible, birth, marriage, records)

GEORGE MEISER 8/6, the fourth child of Henry and Rebecca Rex Meiser, was born in Defiance County, Ohio, on September 29, 1882. He started to school in Ohio, but moved to Warren County, Tennessee, at the age of eight, and lived on his father's farm five miles north of McMinnsville. In Warren County he attended the public schools at Liberty, Hickory Grove, and Dibrell. He also attended Dibrell College. He was a jolly, good-humored fellow and could make friends easily. He was gifted at making things with tools, being a very good carpenter and painter. Often he would make little wagons and doll buggies for a little sister, as they had little money with which to buy anything. As there was no public work to be had in Warren County, George went to Ohio while still quite young, and secured work as a fireman on the New York Central Railroad. He returned to Tennessee and married his schoolmate, Blanche Justice, the daughter of A. J. Justice, a miller, on February 19, 1907. They made their home in Elkhart, Indiana, and lived there until he retired from the railroad in 1952. To this union were born two children: Lois Marguerite Meiser 9/1 and Kenneth Rayburn Meiser 9/2. After his daughter married and lived in Tennessee he would visit her every summer, and on these visits, did carpentry work on her house such as building a stairway, a breakfast room, and some closets. George and Blanche lived together long enough to celebrate their golden wedding anniversary. Blanche died in January, 1959, leaving him living alone to the present time. (Bible record, obituary, and known to living relatives including the writer)

LOIS MARGUERITE MEISER 9/1, the oldest child of George and Blanche Justice Meiser, was born February 6, 1914, in Elkhart, Indiana. She was educated in the public schools of Elkhart. After completion of high school, she stayed in Nashville, Tennessee, with one of her mother's relatives and attended Falls Business College. Upon completion of this course, she immediately found employment at the H. J. Grimes Company in Nashville in their office. On September 27, 1936, she married Lushon V. Houston, the son of William Malon and Levie Rummage Houston, in Knoxville, Tennessee. She has worked in a number of places in Nashville, including Cain-Sloan Company, Nashville's leading department store, in their bookkeeping department. She has also done office work at the T. L. Herbert Company Building Supplies, Bennett's Flower Shop and Franklin Flower Shop. During World War II Lushon worked as a civilian with Lockheed overseas in Ireland. A few years after the war, they bought a farm in Williamson County, started raising mink for the market. After a stroke of bad luck in losing his barn by fire and someone stealing a number of his pelts, he gave up on the mink farm, however, Lois proudly wears a mink neckpiece made from their own mink. Lois now works with the Post Office Credit Union in Nashville, and Lushon is working as a grocer in a large suburban supermarket in the southern part of the city. Lois is considered to be a quite good amateur musician. From her high school days she won recognition with her clarinet in the Elkhart High School Band. She also plays violin and piano. Now she is pianist for the Nolensville, Tennessee, Methodist Church where she and Lushon now are members.

They still live on the farm, where they now have beef cattle. (Bible record, birth certificates, marriage license, and information known by living relatives including the writer)

On December 21, 1941, he was married to Pearl Marie McClure at Osceola, Indiana. During World War II he served with the Seabees in the Pacific. HENRY GROVER MEISER 8/7, the fifth child of Henry and Rebecca Rex Meiser, was born August 30, 1884, in Defiance County, Ohio. When very young the family moved to a farm in Tennessee near McMinnville, in 1890. His childhood was spent on the farm. He attended school in Warren County at Liberty, Hickory Grove, and Dibrell, but when he sat in the school room and gazed across the fields, it seemed that the countryside with its rolling hills and fields beckoned him. He was impulsive and hot headed. Although he did not like school very well, he was well versed in the Scriptures and politics, and constantly studied the Bible. He liked nothing better than to go to church and argue with those who did not believe as he did. He had the making of a silver tongued orator. He was large, red-headed, and a natural athlete. He was active in boxing, wrestling, and running. (Bible record, and known by the living)

When a young man he went to Ohio where he worked on the railroad. As new hands would come into the group of workers, initiations would take place, but they never did initiate "Peck," as he was called. Six weeks later he asked why he had not been initiated. One big worker answered that they had heard how people from the South knew how to use a knife. Henry Grover had never even thought of using a knife on anyone. He was married to Lydia Keller on September 8, 1913, in Goshen, Indiana. Death came to him while he was faithfully performing his duty to his company. The train wreck in which he was killed happened at Stryker, Ohio, September 28, 1915. He died instantly. He was an honored and valued member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers. The wreck was due to the breaking of a brake shoe on one of the wheels of the tender, according to the belief of railroaders at the scene. He is buried at Melbern, Ohio. (Bible record, obituary, and newspaper clipping about the train wreck)

Grover told about his first run as fireman on his own, which story members of the family well remember his telling. On his first run it fell his lot to fire for a circus train. The well-experienced engineer cursed when he found that he had a "green-horn" fireman. Grover gave him to understand that he also had to have his start, and had the engine "popping off" before they were far on their way, which was a surprise both to himself and the engineer.

EVELINE MEISER 8/8, the sixth child of Henry and Rebecca Rex Meiser, was born July 17, 1887, in Defiance County, Ohio. She was only a small child when the family moved to Tennessee in 1890 and settled on a farm five miles north of McMinnville. She attended the public schools of Warren County, Hickory Grove, Liberty, and Dibrell, and Dibrell College. She was outstanding in her classes and good in music. She took active part in everything pertaining to school. She was good in plays and at entertaining by giving readings. She taught in the public schools of Warren County. On April 3, 1910, she was married to George H. Byars in Warren County. He also was a teacher, the son of John and Sarah Zwingle Byars. To this union six children were born. Rex Laverne Byars 9/1 was born May 25, 1911, at Mill Creek, Oklahoma, the year that his father was teaching in Oklahoma. Gilbert Hinkley Byars 9/2 was born August 29, 1913, at McMinnville, Tennessee, his father having returned to Tennessee to teach. Aubrey Byars 9/3 was born in Hailey, Idaho, October 2, 1917, the father teaching there at that time. They then moved back to Tennessee for a short while. An old school mate persuaded them to move to California, which they did, settling in Fresno. Here George found employment in a bank. It was in Fresno where the other three of their children were born. Rebecca Ruth Byars 9/4 was born on July 27, 1920, and died May 20, 1924, in Fresno. John and Mary Elizabeth Byars, twins 9/5 and 9/6, were born November 18, 1926. (Bible record, birth certificates, and information known by living records, including the writer)

He was educated in the public schools of Fresno, California, where he lived most of his life. At age sixteen he did bookkeeping at a bank and later became the head bookkeeper for Montgomery Ward. After graduation from high school he studied radio. During World War II he served with the United States Navy as a radio operator. After the war he worked for Sears Roebuck and Company in Fresno, and studied television. Later he went into business for himself in television repair work. He was married to Mary Esubis Castra. Rex proved himself to be quite brave as the following shows. On the night of July 5, 1950, while he and his wife were at a neighborhood grocery store in Fresno discussing current happenings, two young men entered saying that it was a hold up. One held a gun on them while the other rummaged through the cash register. Rex stood by, then suddenly made a lunge at the one who held the gun. At the same time the gunman shot, hitting Rex in the leg. From this injury he never recovered, and after months of suffering succumbed in a Fresno hospital. His premature death occurred on May 15, 1961. He is buried in Liberty Cemetery. (Bible record, birth certificate, obituary, and information known by living relatives, including the writer)

He was educated in the public schools of Fresno, California, and Fresno State College. He served during World War II with the United States Navy. He is gifted with a brilliant mind. It seems almost fantastic that he can read through material and then quote it. He has taught school for several years, and is now principal of an elementary school at Oakdale, California. He was married to Mary Humphreys, which marriage ended in divorce. After two years of living alone, he again married, his wife being Betty Mildred Wycoff (Long). He lives at Oakdale, California. On August 14, 1963, he received his management development certificate from the company. He was recognized as "Man of the Year" for his efforts expended in furthering the ideals and principles of the North American Aviation Inc. in the year 1956. Aubrey lives in Lancaster, California. After his time with the Merchant Marine he became a heavy machine gunner in the U. S. Army in the 11th Airborne Division. He is now a civilian employee at Norton Air Base, California. MAUDE ELLEN MEISER, 8/9, the seventh child of Henry and Rebecca Rex Meiser, was born in Defiance County, Ohio, on November 7, 1889. When she was about eighteen months of age, the family moved to Tennessee, near McMinnville. When old enough, she attended the Warren County, Tennessee, schools and graduated from the old Dibrell College in 1913. In 1913 she was called to Georgia by some friends to teach in the Faceville High School, where she taught for two years. In 1915 she decided to go with her father and mother on a visit to Idaho. Once, when going by train from Hailey to the East Fork School, the conductor asked if anyone would meet her at the crossing. When she said, "No," he insisted that she ride around to Ketchum, and return to Hailey on the train. But she got off, and the train went on. When she stepped away from the track, she went to her knees in the snow. Another step was deeper. At this, realizing she had a mile and a half to walk, she looked longingly after the train, and wondered how long it would take to walk the railroad back to Hailey. In what seemed like hours in her desperation, but really was only a few minutes, her Uncle Jacob Mizer's nieces, the Hoy girls, came along on horseback to the crossing. Maude felt like they saved her life. On leaving Idaho, she went back to teach another year in Georgia. She also taught at Hickory Grove, Cummingsville, and Morrison Schools in Warren County, Tennessee.

On the twentieth of January, 1918, Maude was married to Brown Oliver, who was then working in the McMinnville Post Office. To this union one son, Edward Brown Oliver, 9/1, was born on January 30, 1923.

Maude is quite active in women's clubs, church and community work. She has served in practically all offices of Parent-Teacher Associations, Home Demonstration Club, and the McMinnville Garden Club. She has served as group leader of the Women's Bible Class of Central Church of Christ in McMinnville, where she and her husband are members. Currently, she is secretary and vice-president of the Faulkner Springs Home Demonstration Club. She has been active in community good turns, also, taking active parts in all types of drives such as polio, cancer, March of Dimes, and Red Cross. She received a citation from the American Red Cross for over a hundred hours of volunteered service during World War II. She attended a training course for volunteer 4-H Club leaders, and has been active in serving this organization for the past several years as a judge for girls' events, especially baking contests.

From her school days, she has been good in performing in plays and at giving readings. All through her life she has appeared in plays. She performed in a play directed by "Minnie Pearl" of W. S. M. "Grand Ole Opry" fame, and another directed by W. S. I. X. in Nashville portraying the life story of the Boyd Nursery of McMinnville. Her most recent performance was that of "The Ballad of Ben Lomand" which was a historical drama of McMinnville and Warren County celebrating its sesquicentennial in August, 1960. Her chief hobby besides all these activities is that of a flower garden. In this garden she has many varieties of flowers, but her specialty is that of iris, of which she has dozens of species.

Maude lives with her husband at 215 West Sparta Street in McMinnville, Tennessee, which house is largely furnished in lovely hardwood furniture made by her husband in his hobby shop. He has especially devoted time to this hobby since his retirement after fifty years service in the United States Post Office. She was honored along with him in his being selected for the V. F. W. Citizenship Award for 1965. (Bible record, birth certificates, marriage license, various newspaper clippings and programs, along with information known by the writer and living relatives)

HOWARD GLEN MEISER 8/10, the eighth and youngest child of Henry and Rebecca Rex Meiser, and the only one born in Tennessee, was born May 9, 1892, in Warren County, Tennessee. He was educated in the schools of Warren County. He was large and well developed, and always took his place in athletic events, especially wrestling, running and baseball. One night he and his brother, Grover, got to arguing who was the fastest runner. They got up in the middle of the night and ran a two mile foot race on the old swamp road. They made the race so near a tie that neither could be determined a winner. He found employment on the New York Central Railroad as an engineer. When World War I broke out, he was taken without military training, but due to his training as an engineer, was sent to France where he had to take munitions to the front lines. He didn't dare have lights. One night while on a mission to the front the air was so full of shells that he jumped from the engine and dived into a "fox hole," not knowing whether it was friend or foe. He found that he was among Americans. He also did competitive boxing while in service. He was assigned to the 14th Railway Engineers. He was honorably discharged from Camp Zachary Taylor, Kentucky, May 13, 1919. (Bible record, U.S. Army Discharge, and information known by living relatives)

Howard returned to Elkhart, Indiana, where he resumed work with the New York Central Railroad. On February 16, 1922, he was married to Roberta Watkins, a nurse, in McMinnville, Tennessee. Not long after his marriage, he died from exposure he had received in France. His death occurred at Elkhart on October 22, 1922. He was returned to McMinnville, Tennessee, for burial in Riverside Cemetery. (Bible record and obituary)

When Howard first went into service, he wrote a letter back home to the "Warren County Times," his home town newspaper. The year does not show in the letter.

"Warren County Times:

"By a request I will endeavor to write a few lines from Camp Jackson, but understand I do not pose as a scribe, for that is entirely out of my line of business and duty. I will not try to write much about camp life, for to tell half would fill the entire paper.

"I am located close to several McMinnville and Warren County boys, namely: Thos. Womack, Edwin Hennessee, Grady Stroud, Warren McMahan, John Tubbs, Frank Couch, and several others I can't call to mind at present. I find them all to be good associates. . . . I, myself, am a military police. I was not chosen for my looks or ability, however, but perhaps for my 'size and build.'

"... The majority in camp are from that State, and are making good 'scrappers' and I honestly believe when farther on in 'No Man's Land in France,' the Tennessee boys will be the pride of the army.

"I do not know whether the Red Cross of Warren County has ever had any sleeveless sweaters, thumbless mitts, or has any such on hand, but I do know we have never received any if they did. I did not care for myself, as I had all the clothes necessary to keep warm, but perhaps there were some who did not. I have talked to several boys from different companies and all have received some kind of a blessing and the mitts or sweaters either would have been a blessing during the month of December or January, especially, from the Red Cross of their county. When the boys in camp know they are remembered instead of forgotten, it strengthens their patriotic spirit and causes them to realize that they have something back home to fight for.

"If these few lines find room in your paper, I will try to write something more interesting next time. Hoping each and every one of us shall be kindly remembered I beg to remain,

"Your friend in training,

Howard Meiser

An affidavit as it appears on record in the Register of Deeds Office of Labette County, Kansas, In Book F of Miscellaneous at Page 359 lists Emily as an heir of her father, John Miser. She was first married to Peter Nichols. To this union one daughter, Isabel Nichols 8/1 was born February 17, 1859, in Illinois. Emily did not want to live in Illinois, and her husband did not want to live in Kansas, so each chose his own path and pushed alone. Later on in life Emily married James Harvey White in Labette County, Kansas. To this union two children were born: Fannie 8/2, and a daughter 8/3 who died in infancy a few weeks prior to the death of her mother, Emily White. This is evidenced in the above mentioned affidavit for the proof of the heirs of John Miser. Emily died in Labette County, Kansas, on August 11, 1876, and is buried in Sherman Cemetery. (Bible record and information known by living relatives)

She went with her folks to Ohio to live, and became known as Pearl Clary, although never adopted. In 1916 they moved back to Anderson, Missouri. Although starting school in Ohio, she obtained most of her education in Missouri. She was an outstanding young lady in her neighborhood. On May 10, 1932, she was married to Arthur D. In an "Extract from a paper prepared for P E O meeting, January 7, 1935," by Alice M. Wirt of Parsons, Kansas, the following information is given:

"Outstanding Women of Kansas"

"In paying tribute to the outstanding women of Kansas the one class I would honor above all others is not the political woman, not the crusader, not the writer, not the welfare worker, but the pioneer mother.

"Two weeks ago yesterday, I stood beside all that was mortal of Mrs. Melissa White, eighty-six years old. Back in the middle 80's I had taught the Wild Cat School, rightly named then, across the Neosho River, east of Montana, and had lived in Mrs. White's plain, well kept pioneer home. A friendship was formed that lasted through life and we each had spent a day with the other within the last few years.

"Mrs. White was ambitious for her family, her home, her State. Fairly well educated for her opportunities, her children were given the best chance she and her husband were able to give them which was better than their own.

"She lived to see her grandchildren college graduates and holding positions of responsibility. To me Mrs. White will always remain in memory the highest type of pioneer woman."

Mary Melissa Miser White died on December 14, 1934, at Altamont, Kansas, and her interment was in Oswego Cemetery, Oswego, Kansas. She is remembered by some as the red-headed school teacher of Center Valley. (Bible record, Affidavit of Proof of the Heirs of John Miser, Book F of Miscellaneous, Page 359, Register of Deeds Office of Labette County, Kansas, newspaper clippings, and information known by living relatives, and obituary)

One child was born to Nora and Lucas, she being Helen J. Shaw 9/1. From the time this child was six years of age, Nora's mother made her home with them until her death in 1934. THOMAS JEFFERSON (TOM) MIZER 7/6, the sixth child of John and Mary Elizabeth Feters Miser, was born June 1, 1853, at Des Moines, Iowa. When still quite young, his family moved to Kansas. In Labette County, Kansas, he was married to Ann Caldwell of Louisville, Kentucky, on February 22, 1875. Tom

and wife ANN CALDWELL MIZER

and Ann decided that they would go further West, and they moved to Idaho. Here they settled on a ranch. The land had to be irrigated. Since Tom was one of the earliest settlers of Blaine Co. he had one of the oldest water rights. This was an ideal place for raising cattle, which he did. To Tom and Ann, four children were born: Mary Mizer 8/1, Hattie Mizer 8/2, John Mizer 8/3, and Thomas Jefferson (Tom) Mizer, Jr. 8/4. He lived quite a while on the ranch, then he decided to move into the town of Hailey, Idaho, and turned the ranch over to his daughter Mary and her family. Tom was the owner of the Hailey Transfer Company, which was operated by his son-in-law, Sam Bourgeois. Tom became a leading citizen of Blaine County. He was known all over as Pappy Mizer. The city office verifies the fact that Tom was the mayor of Hailey about 1915. The Uncle Tom ranch was an ideal place for family gatherings and reunions. One summer Tom hired out as a guide for an entomologist who was doing research for a book. Tom also owned some mining property. One very interesting incident was that he captured a bear cub and kept it until it was grown. It seemed to be really friendly, but one day the bear was stretched out in the sunshine by a calf. Suddenly the bear reached out and took the calf into its arms and crushed it to its death. Thereafter a nice bear rug graced the living room floor. On September 22, 1922, Ann died, leaving Tom a widower until his death on October 8, 1932. They are buried in Hailey Cemetery. (Bible record, and information known by living relatives) This Thomas Jefferson (Tom) Mizer 7/6 (John Miser 6/2, Fredrick Miser 5/4, John Meiser 4/2, John Johannes Meiser 3/7, Johann Michael Meiser 2/1, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) is found in evidence in the Affidavit of the Proof of the Heirs of John Miser at page 359 in Book F of Miscellaneous in the office of the Register of Deeds of Labette County, Kansas.

Further proof of Jacob being the son of Mary Elizabeth and John Miser is found in the Affidavit of the Proof of the Heirs of John Miser, in the Register of Deeds Office of Labette County, Kansas, Book F of Miscellaneous at page 359. Jake had a sincerity that lent its own dignity to his life. He was straight forward and honest. Like most of the Mizer men, he was strong and capable. Like his ancestors he liked to hunt and shoot. GEORGE MIZER 5/5

GEORGE MIZER 5/5 (John Meiser 4/2, John 'Johannes' Meiser 3/7, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) was born in Northumberland County, Pa., in the year 1792 as evidenced by the 1800 census records and by information from Snyder County Pioneers, page fifty-seven, where it is stated that John Meiser 4/2 was taxed in Penn Township until the year 1796, after which his name disappears from the tax list. This indicates he moved. The name George Miser 5/5 also appears as one of the heirs in the will of John Meiser 4/2 filed in Jefferson County, Ohio, on June 1, 1812. It is believed that he came with his father to Jefferson County, Ohio about the year 1800. George Miser died in Auburn Township near Ragersville, Ohio, on Feb. 25, 1877, at the age of eighty-five years. He was buried in the family cemetery on his farm, which is located about one and a half miles south of the village of Ragersville, Ohio. Evidence of the date of birth and death is found on the cemetery marker.

According to the Historical Collections of Harrison County, Ohio by Charles A. Hanna, George Mizer married Catharine Markley on Aug. 28, 1816, in Harrison County, Ohio. She was born in 1795 and died in November, 1867, on their farm near the village of Ragersville, Ohio. The 1850 census record gives the age of Catharine as fifty-five years. The date of death is recorded in the pension records for George Mizer, National Archives, Washington, D. C.

George Mizer served in the War of 1812 with the Ohio Militia in Captain George Richardson's Company. He enlisted Aug. 31, 1813, and was discharged Dec. 1, 1813. His duty was to guard prisoners of war to Coshocton, Zanesville, Sandusky and Chillicothe, Ohio. These facts are recorded on the Roster of Veterans of the War of 1812, page 17, Ohio State Library and the National Archives and Records Service, Washington, D. C.

Soon after George was married, he and his wife, Catharine, moved to a farm in Auburn Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio. The land they occupied was originally owned by Adam Miser, an uncle, who got the land from the United States General Land Office at Zanesville, Ohio, by patent during the administration of President James Madison. This information is found in the records of the United States Department of the Interior, Bureau of Land Management. The tract of land is further described as being located in the north-west quarter of Section One, Range Four, Township Seven, and being a part of Bucks Township until Auburn Township was established in 1831.

George and his wife lived on this farm until their deaths, having raised a family of nine children as recorded in the will of George Mizer filed in the Tuscarawas County, Ohio Court Records, on March 17, 1876.

JOHN MIZER 6/1 (George Mizer 5/5, John Meiser 4/2, John 'Johannes' Meiser 3/7, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) son of George Mizer 5/5 and Catharine Markley was born near the present village of Ragersville, Ohio. A stone marker in the Mizer Family Cemetery on the George Mizer 5/5 farm reveals that he was born June 9, 1818, and died Sept. 10, 1887.

He was married to Mary Spangler on May 9, 1850. Little is known about her parentage. The census records of 1850 show that she and her husband, John were enumerated with the family of his father, George Mizer. This would indicate that perhaps they had not yet established a residence of their own. Mary was born Nov. 5, 1831, and died Aug. 5, 1860. A single marker for the couple can be found in the Mizer Cemetery.

HOME-MADE CIDER PRESS WHICH WAS LOCATED ON THE HOME FARM OF JOHN MIZER 6/1
The press was constructed by John Mizer 6/1 and his son Joseph.

They lived their entire lives on a small farm about one-half mile from his father's farm, the place of his birth. In more recent years the farm was known as the Eli Krebs farm. It was here he and his oldest son, Joseph, constructed a horse-powered cider press almost entirely of wood to make cider from the many apples grown in this vicinity. Long after the Mizers left the farm the press was still in use by the Eli Krebs family.

Listed among the earliest settlers in Sugarcreek Township was Frederick Domer—Judge Domer as he was known—was probably the earliest pioneer. He was here in 1807, coming from Somerset County, Pennsylvania. He was a Dunkard, or German Baptist, and entered the southwest quarter of Section 3, just south of Shanesville, where he lived a prominent and respected citizen until his death.

His brothers, George, Jacob, and Michael, soon followed him to the West. George settled in what is now Auburn Township, and Michael in Holmes County. Jacob entered and settled on the northwest quarter of Section 8, a mile southwest from Shanesville. He was a Dunkard minister and in later life removed to Elkhart County, Indiana.

EVE ANN MIZER 6/4 (George Mizer 5/5/, John Meiser 4/2, John 'Johannes' Meiser 3/7, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) the daughter of George Mizer 5/5 and Catharine Markley, was born in Auburn Township near Ragersville, Ohio. The 1850 census records her age to be twenty-four years which indicates she was born ca. 1826. The records of the Emmanuel Lutheran Church in Ragersville, Ohio reveal that she was a member of this congregation and that she was baptized as an adult on the 30th day of October 1847. The records also show she died October 28, 1863. It is likely she is buried in the Mizer cemetery on her father's farm along side of two children who died at this same time.

Eve Ann Mizer was married to Joseph Kuhns June 6, 1844. He was the son of Leonard Koontz and Susanna Spicher who were born in Pennsylvania of German descent and moved to Ohio among the early settlers. Joseph was born May 11, 1819 and died September 28, 1902. He is buried in the Lutheran Church Cemetery at Winfield, Ohio. After the death of his first wife, Eve Ann Mizer, Joseph married Susanna ———.

Joseph Kuhns served in the Civil War in Company E. 126 Inf. Pffe Major. According to a grandson, George McBride, his first wife died during the time he was in service and he was released to return home. After a short stay he was reluctant to leave his family, but being unable to find anyone to take his place he returned to duty until being discharged at the close of the war. Mr. McBride

MATHIAS MIZER 6/5 (George Mizer 5/5, John Meiser 4/2, John 'Johannes' Meiser 3/7, Johann Michael Meiser 2/1, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1), son of George Mizer 5/5 and Catherine Markley, was born Dec. 12, 1821, and died July 31, 1904, as recorded in Volume 4, page 17 of the death records of Vernon County, Wisconsin. A tombstone marks his grave in the Readstown, Wisconsin, Cemetery.

Mathias was married April 19, 1846, at Ragersville, Ohio, to Mary Ann Miller, daughter of Barney Miller, Sr. and ————. No records have been located to authenticate the exact date when Mary Ann died. Ada Williams of Madison, Wisconsin, however, reveals that she remembers the time of her grandmother's death. She recalls that Frank Mizer, her uncle, took them in a bob sled over the snow to the funeral and subsequent burial at Jug Creek Cemetery near Rockton, Wisconsin. Ada was eight years old at the time. This would put the date of the death of her grandmother (Mary Ann Miller) at 1896 or the winter of 1897. Although no marker has been found in the Jug Creek Cemetery, the place of her burial has been verified by Millard Towns, a grandson, and Mettie Alvard, a neighbor, who recalled the time of burial.

Mathias and Mary Ann lived in Auburn Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio (Stucky Valley) and raised a family of thirteen children prior to moving to Yuba, Richland County, Wisconsin. They came to Wisconsin and settled on cut-over lands in 1873, according to a granddaughter, Ada Williams. Gottlieb (Fred) Winger, Eli Treacle and Silas Treacle, who married Mathias' and Mary Ann's daughters, Nancy, Mary Ellen (Polly) and Rosanna, took up lands adjoining the Mathias Mizer land.

They rode in wagons which were loaded with their belongings, and drove their cattle with them. Mark Mizer a nephew of Mathias, accompanied them on the journey and returned to Tuscarawas County, Ohio, on foot, according to Pearl Mizer Sewell, a daughter of Mark Mizer.

The lumber barons advertised this cut-over land at very low prices. If they took up the land and lived on it by farming and improving it, the new arrivals had squatter's rights, until they received a deed for the lands upon which they had settled.

Mathias first raised potatoes on the new land, but later he found it more suitable for tobacco growing. Tobacco brought a good price at this time but required a great deal of labor. The labor was later provided by his sons.

After living at Yuba for twenty years, Mathias purchased another farm at La Farge, Wisconsin. The County Records at Viroqua reveal the farm was purchased in January, 1893, from the John Jewell Executors—the N. E. 1/4 of Sec. 14.

GEORGE MIZER 7/2, son of Mathias Mizer 6/5 and Mary Ann Miller was born in 1850 in Tuscarawas County, Ohio, according to the 1870 census records for Tuscarawas County. He never married and died at the home of George Aubihl in Hummels Valley near New Philadelphia, Ohio, on May 13, 1920. He is buried in the Jerusalem Reformed Church Cemetery near New Philadelphia, Ohio.

He was a coal miner and carpenter and lived with his sister and her husband, George Aubihl, except for a short time when he was with his parents in Wisconsin.

According to a nephew, Samuel Aubihl, who presently lives at New Philadelphia, Ohio, George Mizer was an excellent carpenter and quite proficient with the tri-square. Samuel relates that in the construction of a building George could look over the timbers, use his tri-square, mark off the angle, drill the holes, sort the pieces, fit them together, peg them and all the parts would fit perfectly.

Samuel Aubihl also relates that while he (Samuel) was attending school at New Philadelphia, they were entangled in a difficult mathematics problem for which the professors had no immediate solution. Samuel Aubihl took the problem to George Mizer. He looked it over, and within fifteen minutes had the solution. Samuel took the work back to the professors, who, when they saw it was correct, wondered why they had not been able to see the solution.

On one occasion George Aubihl and George Mizer walked to Wisconsin and returned. The trip took a month each way. William Miller, a cousin of George Mizer and grandfather of Lorin Miller of New Philadelphia, Ohio, accompanied them. This is verified by Wesley Aubihl, the son of George Aubihl and Minnie Smith, daughter of William Miller.

DANIEL MIZER 7/3, son of Mathias Mizer 6/5 and Mary Ann Miller, was born in Tuscarawas County, Ohio, on August 4, 1852. He died December 25, 1928, and is buried in the Jug Creek Cemetery in Vernon County, Wisconsin. He was married to Margaret Stout, also of Ohio.

It is not known the exact time Daniel left Tuscarawas County, Ohio, and went to Wisconsin, but it is believed he went with his parents or soon after.

According to Mrs. Mettie Alvard, a neighbor of the Mathias Mizer family, Daniel was living with his parents at Jug Creek, Wisconsin, when her mother worked for them. His mother was not well for a number of years, and Daniel was the baker, making all the bread and pies. They especially liked pumpkin pie, and he made a lot of them.

WILLIAM HENRY MIZER 7/4, son of Mathias Mizer 6/5 and Mary Ann Miller, was born in Auburn Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio, in 1853.

WILLIAM HENRY MIZER 7/4 and wife
MARY E. FISHER

He married Mary E. Fisher on September 1, 1879, in Bloom Township, Richland County, Wisconsin. This information is recorded in the marriage records there. Her parentage could not be determined, except that she was a sister of Lydia J. Fisher, wife of Barney Mizer 7/1.

William Mizer became a land speculator and moved about very frequently, buying public land and selling when he could double his money. He first took up land in South Dakota and took his family with him. Within a few years he sold the land and went to Mikado, Michigan, located about ten miles west of Green Bush and Harrisburg. While the family was living here, his wife, Mary, died and is buried at Mikado. The funeral was attended by Samuel Aubihl, a nephew presently living in New Philadelphia, Ohio. He stayed there for a short time while William tried to persuade him to buy land. However, Samuel soon became homesick and returned to Tuscarawas County, Ohio.

William again doubled his money on the land in Michigan and returned to Tuscarawas County, Ohio, where he engaged in coal hauling in the vicinity of New Philadelphia. During this time he stayed with the George Aubihl family. After a period of two years in New Philadelphia, he bought land in Hardin County near Kenton, Ohio. While living on the farm near Kenton, he and his granddaughter, Ruth Buchanan, decided to make a return trip to his home in Wisconsin. He died of a heart attack enroute. His body was returned to Kenton and buried in the Grove Cemetery there.

SUSAN MIZER 6/6, the daughter of George Mizer 5/5 and Catharine Markley, was married to Lewis Sleurnagle (or Stemugle) May 12, 1844 by Peter Showalter as shown in the marriage records for Tuscarawas County, Ohio, Vol. 4, Page 1. No further information has been found concerning Susan, except that in the final accounting for the estate of George Mizer 5/5, it is believed four of her children shared in the estate. They were Henry Stemugle (or Sleurnagle), Oscar Stemugle (or Sleurnagle), Kate Barringer, Susan Wolf.

GEORGE MIZER 6/7, the son of George Mizer 5/5 and Catharine Markley was born ca. 1828 near Ragersville, Ohio. He died at about 29 years of age. His place of burial is not certain, but it is believed he is buried in the Mizer Cemetery which is located on the home farm.

DANIEL MIZER 6/8 (George Mizer 5/5, John Meiser 4/2, John 'Johannes' Meiser 3/7, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) the son of George Mizer 5/5 and Catharine Markley, was born December 9, 1829, on the old Mizer homestead in Auburn Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio. He died September 12, 1902, and is buried in the Stone Creek, Ohio, Cemetery. Daniel married Lucinda Ellwood on September 26, 1852, in the Evangelical Lutheran Church at Newcomertown, Ohio. She was the daughter of John Ellwood and was born in Harrison County, Ohio, on May 18, 1832. She died June 3, 1907, and is buried in the Stone Creek, Ohio, Cemetery.

The Mizer homestead was located on a small piece of land in Jefferson Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio, about two and a half miles north of Stone Creek, Ohio. The land was rough and hilly, and much of it needed to be cleared to make it suitable for farming. It was here he raised his family of twelve children.

Because of the difficulty in providing for a large family on this small farm he found it necessary to work part time with his team and wagon in the iron ore mines which were then in operation in Jefferson Township. There never was a shortage of food. There was, however, a lack of certain items in the diet during the winter months. Milk and butter were not available to them for several months, and eggs were not plentiful until spring. Eggs were usually stored in the cold cellar several weeks prior to Easter to provide a sufficient supply. They were then colored with onion skins in a large copper kettle, out of doors, for the occasion. At other times of the year butter and eggs were taken to the general store and exchanged for flour, sugar and other merchandise to be used in the home. Huckleberries in the wooded area of the farm also provided an important money crop.

MARK MIZER 7/1, son of Daniel Mizer 6/8 and Lucinda Ellwood, was born near Stone Creek, Ohio, on July 10, 1853. He died in Dover, Ohio, on June 23, 1926. A grave stone in the Maple Grove Cemetery marks his burial place.

Mark married Elizabeth Rousch, the daughter of Charles Rousch and Elizabeth Regula. She was born April 13, 1856, at Stone Creek, Ohio, and died in July, 1926, in Dover, Ohio. She is buried beside her husband in the Maple Grove Cemetery.

Mark and his wife settled on a small farm adjacent to that of his parents. It was here he raised his family on the income from the farm and the money he received from his part-time work as a carpenter. He also worked in the nearby "Black Band Iron Ore Mines." He later moved to a larger farm near Dover, Ohio, and then to the city of Dover where he was employed as a city fireman. After retiring he raised vegetables on vacant lots near his home. It became a familiar sight to the people in the neighborhood to see him go about his work with his horse and wagon as he planted, cultivated and harvested his produce. He gave the products to his relatives and friends.

Just prior to his marriage he made a trip by horse and wagon to Richland County, Wisconsin, in the process of moving his Uncle Mathias Mizer to that vicinity. The trip required several months.

PHILIP MIZER 5/7

PHILIP MIZER 5/7 (John Meiser 4/2, John 'Johannes' Meiser 3/7, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johann Jurg Meisser 1/1) was born March 27, 1799. He was named in his father's will, dated June 1, 1812, Jefferson County, Ohio (Will Records, Vol. I, Page 107). He was born in Pennsylvania, probably in Northumberland County as his father was taxed there with 100 acres of land in the year 1782. He died September 29, 1882, in Bucks Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio, and was buried in the Evans Creek Lutheran Church Cemetery, Bucks Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio.

PHILIP MIZER 5/7 and wife MARGARET SHULTZ

Philip Mizer was married September 9, 1821, to Margaret Shultz, the daughter of George Shultz and Elizabeth Shoemaker, who in 1804, as a child, had removed to German Township, Harrison County, Ohio (then Jefferson). She was born in Loudoun County, Virginia, August 12, 1800, and died May 14, 1893, in Bucks Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio. She is buried beside her husband in the Evans Creek Cemetery.

According to Wilbur L. Shultz, a grandson of George Shultz of Hopedale, Ohio, George Shultz was born on March 16, 1752, in Germany. He came to America and fought in Captain Peter Nagal's Company, 4th Battalion, Berks County, Pennsylvania Militia. His duty was that of guarding prisoners of war from Reading to Philadelphia. He was married to Elizabeth Shoemaker to whom were born the following eleven children:

Mary, John, Jacob, Catherine, Margaret, Susan, Solomon, Priscilla, Rachael, Elizabeth and Polly. George Shultz died October 6, 1827, and Elizabeth, his wife, February 4, 1833. Both are buried in Zion Cemetery near Germano, Ohio. The above dates were taken from the grave stone markers by Wilbur L. Shultz while the markings were discernible.

Philip Mizer and his wife moved to Shanesville, Tuscarawas County, Ohio in 1822; while there he was engaged in cabinet making. In 1832, he bought 160 acres of land in Bucks Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio in the north east quarter of Section 22, Township 7 Range 4 from the estate of Henry Stance who had acquired it by patent in 1828. Philip's brother, John, had come to this locality earlier and was the administrator of the estate of Henry Stance. After being advertised, the farm was sold to Philip Mizer in November 1832 for $536. In 1835, Philip Mizer acquired another 40 acres by patent. This was during the administration of President Andrew Jackson. More acquisitions followed and at the time of his death, he had title to 535 acres of land. Quit claim deeds were then made to Philip's son, Samuel, to the total value of about $16,000. (This data concerning Philip's holdings was taken from the deeds still in possession of Philip's grandson, Clifford P. Mizer, who owns the farm at the time of this writing).

Philip Mizer followed his trade as a cabinet maker and there are, at this time, some fine pieces of furniture still in use which are known to have been made by him. One is a chest of drawers now in possession of Woy S. Mizer, Route #1, Stone Creek, Ohio. Another is in possession of Paul Riggle, Route #1, West Lafayette, Ohio. The latter chest was a wedding present for Philip's daughter, Eliza, who was married to Luther Barrick on April 26, 1855. Philip's son, Samuel, on that same day was married to Luther Barrick's sister, Margaret. Since Philip was an outstanding cabinet maker, it is believed there are numerous other pieces still in use. He also made coffins, and there is recorded in one of his account books a record of a coffin made for his nephew Henry Mizer, son of John 5/1 for five dollars. The entire cost of Henry's funeral was twenty-six dollars.

Philip helped organize the first church in the locality. The membership of the German Reformed Church was small and among the names on the list of the first congregation were Philip Mizer, Leonard Hawk, Peter Hawk, John Mizer and Jacob Mizer. More information can be found on this in the History of Coshocton by N. H. Hill, 1882, page 460. After a few years, the German Reformed congregation moved to a site about one half mile north of Bakersville where they built a church in conjunction with the Lutheran church.

Philip was a Justice of the Peace in Bucks Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio, in the years 1834, 1837, 1841, 1843, 1846 and 1852. During this time, he performed numerous marriages. One of these was that of his nephew Daniel 6/1 son of Jacob 5/6 to Polly Hummel.

After their children were grown, Philip and Margaret took into their home a four year old boy whose widowed mother found it difficult to give the needed care. His name was Isaac Hamilton Luke. He grew to be a fine man and developed into a skillful carpenter. There was always a close tie between he and Philip's son, Samuel. He later married Catherine Ann Phillips and they resided near the village of Fresno, Coshocton County, Ohio. They are both now buried in Fresno Cemetery, Fresno, Ohio.

GEORGE P. MIZER 6/1 and wife CATHERINE HAGAN

GEORGE P. MIZER 6/1 the son of Philip Mizer 5/7 and Margaret Shultz was born in Shanesville, Tuscarawas County, Ohio, June 1, 1822. He died June 29, 1886, at his home, one mile north of Bakersville, Bucks Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio. (From the family Bible and marker in Evans Creek Church Cemetery, Tuscarawas County, Ohio.) He lived here all his married life.

George Mizer was married to Catherine Hagan, daughter of Robert C. Hagan and Elizabeth Riggle August 6, 1846, by the Reverend Emmanuel Greenwald. She was born January 18, 1828, in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania and was baptized soon after her marriage in the German Reformed Church, Evans Valley, Bakersville, Ohio by the Reverend J. G. Tahmer. (Baptismal Certificate) She died November 6, 1922, at the home of her youngest son, Irvin Mizer, West Lafayette, Ohio. She was blessed with good health and lived within a few weeks of her ninety-fifth birthday.

When George Mizer and Catharine Hagan were married they purchased the farm then owned and operated by her parents. It was on this farm that they raised a family of six sons and five daughters.

George Mizer, like his father, Philip, was a self-educated man and one winter taught a session in the Evans Creek School (the old log school house). This was the same time he was recovering from severe injuries he received to his hand while operating an old fashioned corn sheller (information from a son, Irvin Mizer). He was also a mail carrier on the Star Route from Newcomerstown to Bakersville, Ohio, using two horses to make this daily trip.

It is also interesting to note that George Mizer was active in the construction of the Evans Creek Church. At the time it was erected, it was designed to serve two congregations, the German Reformed and the Lutheran. It was George Mizer 6/1 who represented the Reformed Church and his brother Samuel 6/7 headed the Lutherans. (Church records by John Ridenour.)

After George Mizer died and the children had all established homes of their own, Catharine made her home with her son, Irvin Mizer. It was in this way that Edith Mizer, a granddaughter, is able to relate the following information:

"When grandmother was twelve years old, in the year of 1840, she and her parents and several older sisters loaded their possessions on horse-drawn wagons and headed to the West to find a new home in Ohio. When they had come as far as Wolf's Corner, now Isleta Corners, which is located just a little west of the present site of Newcomerstown, Ohio, they got permission from the Wolf family to camp for the night. When morning came, they were much surprised to find a number of deer tame enough to have stayed in the yard with the horses and cattle.

The next day they headed north to Evansburg about one-fourth mile east of Orange in Coshocton County, Ohio. Here they forded the Tuscarawas River and continued north to a point about one mile north of the present site of Bakersville, Ohio. It was here they found a strong spring of cool clear water flowing from the hillside. They immediately took advantage of this water supply and began building their new wilderness home in what is now known as Evans Creek.

In later years, their home was destroyed by fire. The old shingle roof which they had intended to repair later in the fall caught fire with sparks from their wood stove while they were preparing the noon meal. The father was away at work so the mother and children who were old enough to help, carried water up a ladder to the fire's source and tried in vain to put it out. They did not rebuild at this time, but added a piece to the small house over the spring for use as temporary living quarters. It was at this time that Philip Mizer 5/7, a cabinet maker, made a kitchen cupboard for the family. It is still in good condition in the home of one of the granddaughters."

William Allen Mizer 7/1 and wife Helen Peairs. Sons: Blake Mizer, French Mizer.

WILLIAM ALLEN MIZER 7/1 (George P. Mizer 6/1, Philip Mizer 5/7, John Meiser 4/2, John 'Johannes' Meiser 3/7, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meiser 1/1) was the son of George P. Mizer and Catherine Hagan. He was born July 25, 1847, in Bucks Township, Coshocton County, Ohio.

He married Helen M. Peairs, the daughter of John W. Peairs and Sarah Hart about 1871. They were married by Reverend Struggles, the Methodist minister at Bakersville, Ohio. Both are buried in the South Lawn Cemetery, Coshocton, Ohio.

William A. Mizer, usually known as Billy Mizer, was raised on a farm near Bakersville, Ohio, and attended the rural school in the community after which he was enrolled for two terms in a school of higher learning known as a "Select School" at Newcomerstown, Ohio.

At the age of nineteen, he was employed in the Bakersville General Store, as clerk, janitor, and caring for the horses. For this work he received five dollars per month. He later became a salesman for John W. Peairs, a live-stock dealer. Many times he would ride the caboose of the freight train when delivering cattle to such eastern cities as Reading and Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

In 1870 Mr. Mizer purchased the Bakersville General Store from John H. Lovelace. After operating the store for three years, he finally gave up the business to become an agent for the Ohio Farmer Insurance Company. He remained in Bakersville and carried on his business from there until 1891 when he established his residence in Coshocton, Ohio.

This insurance business took him over many country and township roads in Coshocton and Tuscarawas counties. Travel was difficult at certain times of the year because of the muddy roads, and for this reason he made his calls in a two-wheeled cart rather than the four-wheeled buggy. The seat was covered with sheep skin to add to his comfort in riding. He also had a greyhound mascot dog to follow him on his journeys, usually under the cart seat. After it died, the skeleton head was hung over the oats bin, along with many prized horse pictures.

In 1892 the Citizens Building and Loan Association was formed in Coshocton and he became the president in 1894. He also served as director and secretary of the Central Ohio District Fair of Newcomerstown, Ohio, and held the office of Clerk of Courts of Coshocton County, Ohio, from 1899 to 1906.

The Sea of Life

So often we hear our journey from the cradle to the grave referred to as a voyage on the Sea of Life. Even the poets write about it as seen from their different points of view.

For instance, when W. E. Henley wrote his "Invictus," he said, "I am the master of my fate, I am the Captain of my soul."

Another author says that our emotions make up our crew. Therefore, how careful we must be to guard against mutiny!

One writer refers to our cargo, within our hold, and without which our voyage cannot succeed, as being only a collection of conquered consequences and difficulties.

The ballast is a sense of humor, to be shifted when emergency arises; for a ship without ballast is unstable and will not go straight.

The compass is likened to our heart, our conscience, and the North Star, that never-failing guide, is Faith—the faith that Shakespeare had in mind when he wrote:

“There is a tide in the affairs of men,
Which taken at the flood, leads on to fortune,
Omitted, all the voyage of their life
Is lost in shallows and miseries.”

Now, let us check to know how well we are set for sailing.

Am I as capable as a good captain should be?

Is my crew (emotions) safely organized?

Have I enough cargo to make the voyage profitable:

The ballast (sense of humor)—will it suffice in case it is needed to keep us going smoothly?

We are ready to sail then, if we have FAITH (Compass) to guide us through the Sea of Life.

STORY AND LIFE OF CATHERINE MIZER WOLF

By her son, Ernest Wolf

410 North State Street, Norton, Kansas

The stream is calmest when it nears the shore;
The flowers are sweetest when they bloom at eventide;
The birds more musical at the close of day;
And saints divinest when they pass away.

MARY CATHERINE MIZER 7/7, the daughter of George P. Mizer 6/1 and Catherine Hagan, was born November 5, 1861, near Bakersville, in Tuscarawas County, Ohio. She died at her home in Jennings, Kansas, Sunday evening November 8, 1936 at the age of 75 years and 3 days. She was one of a family of eleven children, having four sisters and six brothers. She resided with her parents on a farm near Bakersville, Ohio, until she was united in marriage to Lewis Wolf on January 12, 1884.

As a bride she came with her husband to live on a farm near Henderson, Iowa, where they resided two years, and where her first child, Mildred Lucile, was born. The hardy pioneer spirit prevailed, and the family moved to a homestead five miles south of what is now Jennings, Kansas. This was near the homesteads of her brother, Robert M. Mizer and family; her uncle, by marriage, George Putt; and Cousin Maggie Putt Hildebrand. All of the homes were built of sod, which were cozy in winter and cool in the summer. These homes were all replaced later by large frame buildings. She often talked about those happy homestead days. It was here her other seven children were born: Russell Ray, French T., Dova Cecil, Tully S. M., Ernest A., Oscar L., and Audra Emma Alice.

Her husband, Lewis Wolf, died March 12, 1910, but she continued to live on this same farm of 800 acres for 33 years, or until her family were all grown.

She moved to Jennings, Kansas, in the year 1919, making this city her home until her death. She enjoyed reading and taught her children many things in addition to that taught in the schools. She idolized a high true standard of society, possessing a constancy of right living.

She was a good citizen, a kind neighbor, true friend, and a wonderful mother.

She was fun-loving and optimistic by nature, and had a sympathetic interest in all things about her. She expressed pride that she had the opportunity of being a pioneer, and rearing her family while braving those hard years that came in the developing of the Western Plains. She was a counselor to her friends of the soundest common sense, always being kind to those in trouble, though her own troubles she kept to herself.

In her youth she united with the Evans Creek Lutheran Church, later transferring to the Methodist Church at Jennings, Kansas, where she remained faithful to her duties and in attendance until her health failed.

In her Bible the family found this clipping, after her death. "I shall pass through this world but once. Any good I may do or any kindness that I can show to any human being, let me do it now, for I shall not pass this way again."

Tully S. M. Wolf was a retired hardware merchant and a veteran of World War I, having served in the Navy. His wife presently resides at Alma, Kansas.

The following is from a tribute about Tully which was written by Glen A. Archer, executive secretary of a periodical, Separation of Church and State.

The two men met in 1934, one of the worst economic periods of Norton County, Kansas. It was a time of no crops, little rain and a superabundance of dust and grasshoppers. Tully Wolf, a businessman and public servant of Alma, was a director of the school board, and Glenn Archer was the new principal of the Alma Rural High School.

Hard times knocked on everybody's door, but Tully Wolf never lost faith in the people or the country. "The rains will come again," he said. "The Prairie Dog Valley is the finest in the state. How rich the soil! How stalwart and good the people!"

His faith in life was basically religious, a faith that found expression in his church and was woven into the texture of his thoughts and actions every day of the week. He smiled easily and was always pleasant and cheerful. He was honest and had integrity, courage and conviction. What a fine concern he held for training young people to be useful citizens! On more than one occasion he provided a job, money or clothing to those who otherwise could not come to school.

Said Mr. Archer, "As one school man to another, I suggest that Jan. 6, 1965, was for Tully Wolf Commencement Day, the commencement of a new life which we all shall enter at eventide. May we all be as well equipped as he."

SAMUEL P. MIZER 6/7 and wife
MARGARET BARRICK.

Samuel Mizer was married April 26, 1855, to Margaret Catherine Barrick. She was born in Salem Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio March 19, 1836, and died November 13, 1913 on the Bucks Township farm. Burial was in the Evans Creek Cemetery.

Margaret and her brother, Luther, were married on the same day. Margaret also had a twin sister who died at birth.

Margaret Barrick was the third child of Jacob Barrick, a Virginian by birth, and Mary Woy who was born in Pennsylvania. According to tradition, Jacob Barrick was a descendent of Eliza Ball, a half sister of Mary Ball who was George Washington's mother.

After Samuel was married, he and his wife, Margaret, moved to the farm in Bucks Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio, which is presently owned by Earl Hothem. Their seven children were all born there.

About the year 1881 they moved to the Philip Mizer 5/7 homestead and Samuel's brother, Benjamin 6/6, who had been on the home farm removed to the one vacated by Samuel. There were two houses on the farm at this time, one being the original log house. Soon after the death of Philip Mizer 5/7 a new house and a new barn were constructed. The stones for the foundation were quarried on the farm and hauled to the foundation site with a yoke of oxen. This was the only time Samuel kept oxen, but he found them to be ideal for this work since they were strong, slow, and steady.

MARY MARGARET MIZER 7/1, the daughter of Samuel P. Mizer 6/7 and Margaret Barrick, was born in Bucks Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio May 9, 1856. She died in St. Cloud, Minnesota, April 9, 1954. She is buried in the Lorenz Cemetery near Rockville, Minnesota.

Mary Margaret Mizer married John Michael Lorenz, the son of Casimer Lorenz and Margaret Helmreich, in the year 1876. He was born near Bakersville, Ohio, in 1856 and died at Rockville, Minnesota in 1942. John's father, Casimer Lorenz, was born in Germany in 1832 and died near Bakersville, Ohio in 1903. He is buried in the Evans Creek Cemetery beside his second wife, Maria. John's mother, Margaret Helmreich, was born July 1829 and died in May 1865. She is buried in the St. Jacob's Church Cemetery.

Following their marriage, Mary and John Lorenz lived on a farm near Bakersville, Ohio and their first child, Tessie, was born here. In 1882 they moved to Henderson, Iowa, and in 1883 they homesteaded land near Defiance, Iowa. During the time they were making improvements on the land, they lived seven years in a one-room house (fourteen feet by sixteen feet). They resided near Defiance, Iowa, until 1903 when they sold their holdings and bought a farm near Rockville, Minnesota. They lived here the remainder of their lives.

Mary's sight began to fail in her middle age and grew steadily worse with advancing years, but she continued to do much of her work. She even kept up on her correspondence with her many relatives and friends in Ohio by use of a wooden frame on which guidelines were made.

Mary and John made several visits to Ohio. The last trip was in 1940 when they were both in their eighty-fourth year. They traveled alone. They lived to celebrate their sixty-sixth wedding anniversary.

Although she had young children of her own, she went every day to help the stricken family. She was cautious not to carry the disease to her children. She bathed and changed to clean clothes in a room some distance from the house, after which she proceeded to care for her own family. Several of the neighbor's children died. She helped prepare them for burial. They were put into a casket, sealed and then passed out a window to the men, who took them for immediate interment. IRA B. MIZER 7/5 owned by Earl Hothem. He died Jan. 3, 1945, in West Lafayette, Ohio, and is buried in the Evans Creek, Ohio, Cemetery.

Son of Samuel P. Mizer 6/7

On Dec. 14, 1890, he married Ada Euren Wise in the Evans Creek (Salem) Church. Born Feb. 12, 1865, in Bucks Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio, she was the daughter of John Michael Wise (1806-1890) and Agatha Hengsteller (1824-1906)). She died May 17, 1934, in West Lafayette and is buried in the Evans Creek Cemetery. Ada's parents both were born in Germany. They lived in Westmoreland County, Pa., before coming to Ohio about 1832. Her father, a tailor, was married twice. Six children were born to his first wife, Ursula——, who died, and twelve were born to Agatha. Ada was next to the youngest.

When Ira was eighteen years old, his family moved to the Philip Mizer homestead where, except for three years, he lived until 1902. For four years after his father's death, Ira and a younger brother, Edwin 7/7, operated the farm as partners.

In 1902 Ira bought a farm four miles from Coshocton which, in stage coach days, had been the location of Morgan's Tavern. He sold the farm in 1911 and bought another one near Orange, Ohio, which is now owned by Carl Young. This farm he sold in 1920 and bought the Henry Shaw farm at the west edge of West Lafayette, Ohio, where he and his son, Samuel Clarence Mizer, operated a dairy and milk delivery service. He was said to be a good farmer and left each farm better than he found it.

Ira was interested in fox chasing, not to kill, it is said, but to hear the hounds "tongue." He usually owned one or two hounds as did some of his friends, and, to their ears, a fox chase was music.

Ira was active in community and church affairs. Though he always retained membership in the Evans Creek Lutheran Church, he taught an adult Sunday school class at Orange Methodist Church and a class of young adults in West Lafayette Methodist Church. He had a tenor voice and belonged to several male quartets and choirs. He played a harmonica, fife, guitar, piano and organ. On one occasion he traded a stack of hay for a violin, which he played fairly well. When too old to be able to sing, he often played his favorite hymns and songs on the guitar. Among the songs he liked were "The Londonderry Aire," "La Paloma," and the "Going Home" or Largo theme from Dvorak's New World Symphony. He read widely, including books from the Coshocton Library and magazines and newspapers. Ada also sang and played a guitar.

HELEN LUCILE MIZER 8/1, daughter of Ira B. Mizer 7/5 and Ada Eurena Wise, was born in Bucks Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio, on the Philip Mizer 5/7, homestead farm, on Dec. 2, 1891.

The following is from an autobiography by Helen Mizer:

"My first eleven years were spent in Evans Valley. I attended the Evans Creek School. In those days the school and church were the centers of social life and entertainment as well as for religious services. Wherever the parents went, the children went also.

"Among my early recollections is one of the warm, cozy bed in the back of the milk wagon (or in the sleigh) made of a thick, buffalo robe over straw and another robe for cover, where my younger brother and I slept en route. If we were still asleep when we arrived at the church for choir practice, we were carried indoors and deposited on the rostrum beside other sleeping children.

"Singing schools were well attended in the winter months at the school house. Henry Baab of the Fiat vicinity taught those at Evans Creek. Julius Marsh taught in Bakersville. Most of the adults read music very well, and no apology would be needed today for the anthems rendered at that time in the Evans Creek Church.

"Belle Mizer was the organist many years. Mrs. Belle Helmreich Snyder also served.

"On special occasions, such as Christmas, Easter and children's day, the choir was augmented by a large part of the congregation who sang well. Folks from other localities attended events in our vicinity, and we went to theirs.

"There were also literary programs in the schoolhouse for adults as well as for the children. The event of the evening would be the debate—two men to a side. Teachers and local farmers participated in these debates. Discussions were lively. The judging was done by a selected jury of three.

"In 1902 we moved to Morgan's Run near Coshocton, Ohio, where my brother and I attended the Miller School two years. We then went to West Lafayette High School from which I was graduated in 1911. We traveled in "horse and buggy" style. In summers I rode horseback, side saddle, to Coshocton and later to West Lafayette to take piano lessons.

"In 1911 the family moved to Orange, Ohio and I taught four years in the Waggoner School — all eight grades. I attended summer school at West Lafayette College and Ohio University in Athens, Ohio. Then I went to Kent State Normal College, 1915-1917. After graduation I taught in Kent City Schools, 1917-1921.

"My teaching career came to an end when I developed a goiter in 1921. I never regained strength enough to resume the work I loved. Due to a heart condition I was an invalid for ten years. My only activity was reading. Though fairly well supplied with our home magazines and library books, the world was brought to our door through the kindness of Pennsylvania trainmen, who daily passed our home in West Lafayette. They were complete strangers, but they noticed that I was inactive and liked to read. And so they gathered clean, undamaged newspapers left in the coaches by passengers. Can you imagine receiving the day they were printed all the big city newspapers? From the east came New York (four), Philadelphia (two or three), Harrisburg, and Pittsburgh (three), Cincinnati (two), Columbus, Indianapolis and St. Louis came from the west. Through the radio programs we were aware of the finest music—Army, Navy, Goldman and Marine bands, philharmonic and symphony orchestras and other fine performances and forums, etc.

"The papers, tightly rolled and tied, were thrown from the train as they passed. Some engineers softly blew the whistles as they passed at night—a friendly song in a sleepless night. These men — only four of whom I ever learned to know—helped me through a difficult period, more than ever they could guess.

"The trains themselves were interesting. One special, the American, was composed of coaches bearing the names of presidents and other famous men, all deceased, and Martha Washington—fifty in all. But the rule was broken when Colonel Charles Lindberg made his famous flight to Paris. A new coach was named Colonel Lindberg, and the name of the train was changed to The Spirit of St. Louis.

"Over the years I have received so many kindnesses that could never be repaid. I think that no-one has ever owed so much to so many. I can only pass on to others any kindnesses I can do.

"Gradually I regained a certain measure of health and have supported myself doing light housekeeping. My residence is Route 1, West Lafayette, Ohio."

For this history Helen Mizer has helped in compiling data on the descendants of her great-grandfather, Philip Mizer 5/7.

THE EVANS CREEK SCHOOL

THE EVANS CREEK SCHOOL
(Picture taken about 1915)

The first public school in Evans Creek was built about 1836, soon after the first church. Although the church was a log building, the school was of frame construction. It stood at the foot of the hill, just below the church. Ten years later, on Nov. 20, 1846, a portion of land was secured from the John Mowl farm, now owned by John Ridenour, and the following year the school was moved to this site. An addition was also built. The building remained in use until 1898 when a new building was erected at the same place. The new building was used until the district was dissolved in 1936, and the pupils were transported to Bakersville, Ohio. At this time the school enrollment had dropped to twenty as compared to eighty in the year 1880. (The eighty pupils were taught by one teacher.)

Because there were so many Mizer families living in Evans Valley the school was almost a school of Mizers. Many of the descendants of the original Mizers in Evans Valley attended this school. Among those who taught at the school were Philip A. Mizer 5/7; Edith Troendly, granddaughter of Samuel Mizer; and J. J. Mizer. For many years J. J. Mizer also conducted an old-fashioned singing school. (Information concerning land and dates was secured from the Tuscarawas County Recorder's office.)

The following, to be sung to the tune of "The Old Oaken Bucket," was written by Olive Ridenour Johnson for the last Evans Creek School Reunion. It was sung by a group of girls.

1. How dear to our hearts are these scenes of our childhood,
As for this reunion we are gathered here.
The play-ground, the school-house, the seats that are in it,
All bring back memories which to us are so dear.
The school-bells sweet ringing, which called us each morning,
The hard seats we sat on the whole day through.
That cool, fresh spring water and also the bucket,
All these bring memories to me and to you.
The Evans Creek School-house, the play-ground and all,
We love all these things, which today we recall.

2. The Evans Creek School with her sons and her daughters,
 Compose this big family who've met here today.
Truck-drivers, dress-makers and many musicians,
 Carpenters, bakers all earning good pay.
A doctor, a dentist and many storekeepers,
 A miller and farmers who feed the world.
The many bookkeepers and also school teachers,
 But to the housewives, the banners unfurled.
Dear Evans Creek, as we meet here today,
 A tribute of honor and love we shall pay.

THE EVANS CREEK CHURCH

THE EVANS CREEK LUTHERAN CHURCH REUNION

The Salem Evangelical Lutheran Church in Evans Creek, Tuscarawas County, Ohio, was erected in 1836, with the cornerstone being laid Aug. 23, 1836. The building was of log construction. The church was erected on a plot of ground consisting of 2-A and five perches. The plot was deeded to the trustees, Benjamin Helwig of the Reformed Congregation and Jacob Mizer of the Lutheran Congregation, on Nov. 2, 1836, by John Mizer and his wife, Elizabeth, for the price of two dollars.

The congregation was organized by Rev. E. Greenwald of New Philadelphia in 1833. It is not known where services were held until the first church was built.

The second church was erected on the same spot as the first. It was a frame building, thirty-six feet by forty feet. The cornerstone was laid June 7, 1861, and the church was dedicated Christmas day of the same year. This building was also shared by the German Reformed Congregation and the Lutheran Congregation. George P. Mizer was elder of the German Reformed Church, and his brother, Samuel P. Mizer, was elder of the Lutheran Congregation at this time.

Except for a few minor repairs made in 1872, the building erected in 1861, remained until the German Reformed Congregation went to Bakersville. During the following year an extension, consisting of a vestibule and bell tower, plus new pews, chancel furniture and a furnace were added. In 1935 Sunday school rooms were added.

When the congregation was organized, fifteen of the first fifty members were Mizers. The proportion of Mizers as members grew steadily. At this writing seventy-five per cent of the members are direct descendants of the Mizers, who helped start the church.

In this connection a story appeared in a Cleveland newspaper at the time of the marriage. It was to the effect that Alonza Pocock had been courting Amanda prior to the Civil War, and to another suitor who was calling on her, she gave a letter for mailing to Alonza (mail boxes were not conveniently placed on every corner in those days) and that suitor neglected to deliver or mail it to Alonza, who went off to war dejected and later married another woman. Years later, hearing that Amanda, his first love, had never married, he quickly proposed (his first wife died previously) and was immediately accepted—after a span of over fifty years. The story, evidently true, greatly incensed Amanda, who never discovered who provided the paper with it.

JOHN W. MIZER 4/4

JOHN W. MIZER 4/4, (Johann Adam Meiser 3/9, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) was born in Northumberland County, Pennsylvania in the year 1787 and died August 16, 1870 according to a gravestone marker in the Evans Creek Cemetery. His mother was Mary Eckhart.

According to the War of 1812 Pension Records John W. Mizer was married to Mary Stone who died in Tuscarawas County, Ohio, April 8, 1838. On November 22, 1839 he married the sister of his first wife, Catharine Stone. She was born ca 1801 and the marriage was performed by Philip Mizer 5/7, J. P.

The Pension Records also reveal that John W. Mizer served in the War of 1812 under Captain Latta and Col. Duval from September 21, 1812 to March 16, 1813.

Deeds to land reveal that John W. Mizer was the owner to tracts in Wayne and Tuscarawas Counties. The Wayne County Recorder's office shows that sixty acres of land was deeded to John Mizer May 22, 1824 by his parents, Adam Meiser and his wife Mary. The land in Tuscarawas County, Ohio is described in the County Recorder's records there as being purchased from the President of the United States August 26, 1828. It was an eighty-six acre tract described as being the West ½ of the South-west ¼ of Section 16, Township 7, Range 3. It has been said that it was from this farm that he donated some land for the site of the Renner Church and Cemetery about the year 1840.

The Evans Creek Lutheran Church records show that he and his wife were regular communing members of this church until his death in 1870. They also reveal a daughter, Nancy, was baptized here in 1840.

A great-grandson of John W. Mizer, Harry Dreher, relates that John was a great hunter and that on one occasion while hunting at "Standing Rock," he killed eight deer with only nine shots. John's daughter, Nancy, also tells that one of the playthings she had when a little girl was a pile of deer horns about three feet high.

DAR, a Meisser descendant, as follows:

"I went to Bedford just out of Cleveland and stayed all night with Mrs. Rosenberry, who was our neighbor girl (Slife) at Shanesville. She really had a happy time trying to recall the Misers, and when she recalled a little Johnny Miser who had sixteen children, I thought we would have to give up the struggle. But here they are: John, Solomon, Moses, Eli, Sam, Adam, Benj, Sally, Anna, Betsy, Mahala, Christina, Lavina, Margaret, (Peggy), and Nancy. One she could not recall. Often I heard my parents speak of Nancy Miser. Mrs. Koos said the sons went west years ago."

YEARS' RETROSPECT — PIONEER HOUSE-KEEPING IN MICHIGAN

We were married Dec. 10, 1863, aged twenty-five and twenty-one years respectively. We shipped our household goods from Wooster, Ohio, to St. Johns, Mich., Feb. 1, 1864.

My wife and I started for St. Johns the sixteenth of February and arrived there the seventeenth at six o'clock in the evening. I borrowed fifty dollars to start with.

My cousin (Joseph Mizer) from Shepherd came to meet us at St. Johns. He started with an ox team and sleighs and got as far as Alma and found the roads were bare the rest of the way, so he hired a man with a horse team and wagon and got to St. Johns the night of the seventeenth. But our goods had not reached there yet, so we bought a barrel of flour, a cook stove, an iron kettle, keg of nails, grind stone and some other things, and on the nineteenth we started for Alma at ten a.m.

We reached Alma at seven p.m., then we loaded our things on the sleighs and started for Shepherd at ten that night and (we) got there on the twentieth at daylight. We stayed at my uncle's (George Mizer's) and helped to make sugar.

We wrote the freight agent at St. Johns but never got an answer, so about the last of March I started on foot for St. Johns. When I got there the mud was knee deep and had commenced to freeze. Meantime the goods had been there all the time. On account of the bad roads I could not get a man to take his team out, so I made a bargain with a man to take the goods to his barn in town until I could get them, then I started back; got to Greenbush, four miles away. There I hired a man to take the goods to Maple River, a distance of six or eight miles, and when we arrived there, he agreed to take them on to Alma. I walked home from Alma, and next day my cousin and I, with his ox team and sled, started for Alma, getting there at night. The following morning we loaded up and started for Shepherd and arrived there that night some time.

The snow was so deep yet in the woods that I could not do much until April; then I cut logs for a house and made shake or clapboards for roof, and so built a log house — cut doors and windows, laid in loose boards for floors; and on the sixteenth of April we moved. I had bought eighty acres in 1861, all timber. In the fall of 1862 I cut down four and a half acres; in the spring of 1864 I burned off some of the brush and planted some potatoes and corn, got a few bushels of potatoes and five or six shocks of corn.

Our furniture consisted of stools for chairs, slabs split out of basswood with three legs; and for tables bored holes in a log in the wall, put pins in and laid on a board. For bedstead, bored holes in posts and ironwood poles for rails, with shake for the bottom. To keep out the mosquitos, as there were millions, I got a bolt of mosquito netting which cost five dollars and hung it around the bed and sheets against the wall. Our grub consisted of bread and water, apple butter, maple syrup and Michigan gravy made of flour, water, pepper and salt. We lived in the house until fall without doors or windows and not even chinked the cracks.

We generally got our mail once in two or three weeks as it was six miles to the post office. Our nearest store was seven miles at the Indian mills, or Dog Town, now Isabella City. I would walk there and back in half a day through the woods with butter and carry things back. I worked out by the day most of the time that summer. I cleared off one and a fourth acres and sowed to wheat in the fall of 1864 and seeded it to timothy. Had thirty bushels of wheat next year. I slit out puncheon of black ash, hewed and jointed them together for a floor to thrash on, with a flail. In the spring of 1864 I hedged in twenty-five or thirty acres of woods to keep a cow in pasture, by lapping sapling and brush. That fall I bought a yoke of oxen, and kept them and the cow on browse that winter. By cutting trees, they would eat all the fine bushes. In 1866 I bought eighty acres more joining mine on the west for four hundred dollars all timber. I borrowed the money. Here are some prices of things we had to pay in 1866 and 1867 — a gallon of kerosene oil, one dollar; prints, thirty-seven cents per yard; thread, twenty-five cents a spool; flannel, seventy-five cents per yard; crackers, twenty cents per pound; soda, eighteen cents; muslin, thirty-three cents per yard; shirting, thirty-eight cents; epsom salts, twenty cents per pound; cow bell, one dollar and twelve cents, blue drilling, sixty-eight cents; pair cowhide boots, seven dollars and fifty cents; tea, one dollar and seventy-five cents per pound; alcohol, one dollar per pint; nails, thirteen cents; spring wheat, two dollars and sixty-two cents per bushel; flour, twenty-four dollars per barrel and other things in proportion. Wages were one dollar and fifty cents per day with two meals.

In 1871 all my outside fences burned and two stacks of hay. The county gave me one ton of hay.

In 1881 we moved back to Holmes County, Ohio, and lived there a year, then moved to Portage County, Ohio, where we bought a farm of one hundred and six acres, paid two thousand dollars on it, and in 1888 let the place go back and moved back to Michigan on the old place and commenced new. In 1903 we sold the farm and bought six acres in Mt. Pleasant, and in 1912 we sold out there, moved to Texas, stayed there four months, then moved back to Oklahoma, remained there four months and went to Ypsilanti, this state, where we are now located.

The following was taken from stories written by Arminta Mizer Zingery 6/5, and Olive Mizer Graichen 6/4, in May 1959, about the early days on the farm in Michigan.

Olive writes: "In 1871, the time of the big fire, and also of the Chicago fire, the section of Michigan where my parents lived was all afire for miles around. There were three children at the time; Henry, aged six, Ellen, aged four, and I, Olive, aged two years. We were kept in the house in a trundle bed under the big bed, so as not to inhale the smoke, while Mother was on the straw roof of the stable with a pail of water to keep the sparks from setting it on fire. Father watched to keep the rail fence from burning, to keep the cow in. That fire lasted three days, and was talked about for years. The frame house Father had started building on cleared ground did not catch fire. I can remember carrying sawdust in a little red pail, to help Father insulate the new house, where sister Minta was born." George Mizer, son of Adam, and Joseph, his son, owned the farm across the road from Abraham, and Olive says "I remember Joe's Mother (Sophia Beidler Miser) well—she lived in a log house, and smoked a pipe."

Arminta tells of going back to Ohio, in 1881 to live, and of her sister Ellen visiting at the home of their Uncle Cyrus, Mary Mizer's father. She says "Our name was spelled with an 'S' and I remember she came home and said that their oldest daughter, Ada, wanted to spell it with a 'Z' and Mother thot so, too, but Father objected. He said if they started to change it, it would cause confusion, and no one would know who belonged to the original family." The spelling was changed later, it is not known when. Olive mentions "the barn"—"In 1877 Father built a large barn (the largest in the country) requiring 100 men to raise the timbers. I was eight years of age, and remember Mother having neighbor women help bake and cook for the men, who were seated at a long table in the front yard." Minta goes into detail: "In the winter of 1876 and 1877, Father hauled huge logs from the woods with oxen, to the ground near where he wanted the barn, and with a broad-axe began to hew the bark off and dress them down to near the size he wanted the timber. He stretched a blue chalk-line, by fastening the end to the edge and end of the log, and wound off from a huge spool to the other end, stretched it taut, and then sometimes I snapped it for him. This left a blue chalk mark to hew to! I can still see those timbers lying there all dressed down to the proper size, and ends of each fitly framed so that when the time came to put them together, they fitted perfectly. Father made the pegs at night in the kitchen. He sized them down with a drawing knife, then whittled them to proper size. The barn was 'raised' in May 1877. It took all day to raise the six Bends, and I think about 100 men. Henry went far to invite them. He rode old 'Doll,' the only horse Father had, and I remember the neighbor women baking bread and plain cakes in the outdoor clay and brick oven to feed them."

The barn was originally painted red, with "A. Miser—1877" on the gable end near the road. Minta's son, Henry Homer Zingery, tells of some of the apparatus grandfather apparently invented to use in preparing lumber for his building projects. The barn still stands. It is on Summerton Road, North of Shepherd, just East of U. S. Route 27. The big beams were put together with the wooden pegs, and are as firm as ever. Except for new roof, the present owner has made very few changes in it. He is the son of the man who bought the farm from Abe Mizer.

Alta Wilmot Crotser 7/1, daughter of Ellen Mizer Wilmot 6/2, the oldest grandchild of Abraham 5/6 and Magdalena Fretz Mizer, was only five years younger than her aunt, Nellie Mizer 6/7 (Powell). The Wilmots lived about a half mile south of the Mizers. Alta writes, in 1960: "If I am correct, Aunt Barbara owned a part of Grandpa's farm on the East side of the road, and there was a big tree on the dividing line at the road. We always called it 'Aunt Barb's Tree.' I have no idea where she lived. When we were little girls, Aunt Nellie and I played together a lot, and if she were at our house, I always had to go with her as far as Aunt Barb's Tree." Aunt Barb was a sister of Abraham. She lived with her parents, Henry and Catherine, near Wilmot, Ohio, and is buried near them in the Longenecker Cemetery. "On winter evenings he (Grandpa) would sit in the kitchen and shell corn by the bushels, to have ground for meal. I have been told that when they started in Isabella County there were no roads, only woods, and Grandpa used to carry a bag of corn on his back to St. Johns, about 35 miles, to get it ground for meal, buy groceries, then carry them home."

Gladys Milliken McDonald 7/2, daughter of Carrie Mizer Milliken 6/6, remembers her Grandfather in the early 1900's after he had retired from the farm to a six acre plot in Mt. Pleasant. "There was a large house, and Grandma had girls from the 'Normal' rooming with them. We lived in the 'Ritchie' house a short distance away, and I can remember strolling around the orchard and garden with Grandpa, chewing on licorice root. I don't think I've seen any since, but I can still taste it. He put big tents of mosquito net over the cherry trees to keep the birds from taking them. It was a treat to ride in the 'Surrey With the Fringe on Top' behind old 'Nell.' When Grandpa plowed, he put the buckled reins over his head and walked, holding the handles of the plow and guiding the horse by 'geeing' and 'hawing' and an occasional tug on the line. Grandpa always kept bees, and we tho that his bee bonnet, veil and the smoke bellows were fascinating, but when he started working on a hive, we got away from there. When he sawed, or was concentrating on some work, he put his tongue between his teeth. He was a gentle sort of man, and while he didn't tell jokes as our other Grandfather did, he often had a twinkle in his eye. When we stayed for supper, Grandma often made 'Rivel Soup.' She had Rosemary, Sage, and other herbs in her garden and spice pinks, and petunias, which were all a light lavender then. She always carried old fashioned pink wintergreen and white peppermint lozenges in her 'reticule,' the thick kind with XX's on in a little striped paper bag. All very small things to remember. I wonder what memories our children and grandchildren will have?"

The six acre place was bought by the University some years ago and the house moved away. The land is covered with huge brick dormitory buildings, now.

(The following was written Dec. 13, 1962, by Henry Homer Zingery of Billings, Missouri. In the article he is talking about his grandmother and grandfather, Abraham Mizer 5/6 and Magdalena Fretz.)

About Grandpa and Grandma Mizer—if one were to start building a decent, clean civilization, they would be the rock foundation from which to start. I can't recall any close friendships of theirs from among the neighbors, but they were "looked up to," and highly respected by all of them. They were Christian, in my opinion, in all respects—Grandpa always said grace at every meal. I never could make out what the grace was, but God and Grandpa certainly did. I can't remember Grandpa ever getting angry except twice. Once we used his saw (which he had just sharpened) and another time when Uncle Fred Olmstead let two of his cows freeze in the mud of his barnyard. Our farm joined their place on the south, and we lived in the "old house," the frame house Aunt Olive spoke of, for about three years.

One nice spring morning Dad was finishing some ground south of the house for planting something, and Grandpa took Tride and Prince (horses) to bring some seed. (I believe he went to Mt. Pleasant.) About ten o'clock some neighbors brought Grandpa home unconscious. The team had gotten scared at something and turned the wagon over. Grandpa was dumped in the ditch. Someone had gone to Mt. Pleasant for a doctor, and he arrived in a few minutes with his horse at a gallop. In the fall Grandpa had dislocated his shoulder, and I can vividly see in my mind the doctor directing the men how to hold Grandpa, then putting his foot on Grandpa's side and jerking the arm back into the socket—the sweat running down his face.

When I was quite small (probably about five) we were at Grandpa's on a clear, cold sunny day, when Grandpa decided to haul some logs from the woodlot to the house to hand saw into blocks for the furnace. There were patches of snow, and he was pulling the logs with the team hitched to them by a long chain. The chain was pretty taut most of the time, and when we were about half way to the house, Grandpa said to me, "You never saw a man ride a chain, did you? Well, I'll show you how it is done."

He stepped up on the chain, holding the reins tight to balance himself. Just then the logs hit an icy spot. The chain dropped suddenly, then tightened and neatly tossed Grandpa off to the right. He jumped up, ran and picked up the reins. He said, "It works sometimes." After a little way, he stopped the team and turned to me. He bent over and looked me right in the eye.

"It would be just as well we didn't say anything to the women about that back there," he said. "You understand me?"

By the look in his eye I understood okay and felt that he meant every word, so I never mentioned it.

The old barn was built with three spaces below and the second story loft for hay. It was unique in that the boards with which it was built were of varying thicknesses, owing to their being hand sawed. They were also pocked with black spots where the fire had burned into the side of the logs before they were sawed. Mom never could believe that I saw the apparatus used for sawing them. A platform was built of small logs, high enough so that a man could stand up beneath. Then the log to be sawed was rolled on top parallel to the platform logs which were pegged down.

One man stood on top and pulled up on a long cross-cut saw while the one beneath pulled it back down until a board was sawed. They were pine boards and some were at least eighteen inches wide. I never saw this outfit used, but I was told by Grandpa and my father of the method.

The platform was still standing at my first remembrance of things like that, but the treadmill was being used by the time I was old enough to understand what things were used for.

The treadmill consisted of two side-by-side chutes (inclined about thirty degrees) with a rolling slat floor. A horse was placed in each, and had to keep walking up hill. This device was connected to the circular saw by a belt, and the log to be sawed was pushed into the saw by some method I do not remember now.

The old Miser farm was eighty acres—forty on the east side of the road and forty on the west. Our farm joined the forty on the west. Across the road from our place was Aunt Barb's forty acres. It joined Grandpa's east forty acres on the south. "Aunt Barb's tree," a landmark, was a big butternut tree that stood on the line of her's and Grandpa's at the road. Aunt Barb lived somewhere in Ohio, and I have no recollection that she ever saw her property. "Aunt Barb" was Barbara Miser, sister of Abraham. She lived with her parents and never married. She is buried near them in Longenecker Cemetery.

It was virgin timber. A couple of years before we left Michigan she sold it to my Uncle Fred Olmstead. A man by the name of Fleming bought the timber, and Uncle Fred bought the land.

Aunt Barb was quite a character. For some reason I do not remember, she declared that none of her property would ever come into possession of either a Zingery or a Miser. She forgot that Uncle Fred was married to Father's sister.

The line fence was open where Grandpa's woods joined hers, and Grandpa's stock grazed her timber, and we tapped her maple trees, along with Grandpa's, in the spring to make maple syrup. The sap was taken to the house to be "boiled down," in my first recollection. By the time we boys were old enough to help, however, my father and Grandpa had gone somewhere and bought an apparatus of big flat pans, and the syrup was all made in the "sugar shanty" in Grandpa's woods.

None of that timber is now standing. The kitchen floor, and door and window facings, and the staircase were all made from oak from Grandpa's place. That is in the new house of course. Davidsons, from Bowling Green, Ohio, bought the farm when Grandpa and Grandma moved to Mt. Pleasant. Max, the youngest Davidson boy, now owns it, and the big house burned several years ago. The old barn still stands as square and true as the day it was built.

CYRUS MIZER 5/7

Son of Henry Miser 4/7

CYRUS MIZER 5/7 (Henry Miser 4/7, Johann Adam Meiser 3/9, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) the son of Henry Miser 4/7 and Catharine Moomaw, was born in 1841 on a farm in Holmes County, Ohio and died March 6, 1905. He married Elizabeth Pfouts on March 31, 1864.

Cyrus grew up in Holmes County and continued to farm there until about 1867. He then worked at a grist and saw mill owned by his father-in-law on Route 62, between Wilmot and Winesburg, Ohio. Cyrus spent a large part of his time assisting his younger brother-in-law on a large farm also owned by his father-in-law.

It is reported that Mr. Pfouts was a better miller than his son-in-law, but Cyrus was a successful operator of the sawmill.

He purchased a large saw mill at the southern end of the present village of Strasburg and moved there in 1871. This he operated, with the help of his sons, until his death.

Cyrus was a minister in the United Lutheran Church of America. His obituary appeared in the 1955 minutes of the annual convention of the Synod of Ohio of the United Lutheran Church in America, which was held in Newark, Ohio. The obituary follows:

"The Reverend Cyrus Mizer Wallick, D. D., was born Sept. 20, 1903, at Strasburg. He graduated from Wittenberg College in 1925, from Hamma Divinity School in 1928, and in 1949 was honored by his alma mater with the doctor of divinity degree.

He was ordained by the Synod of Ohio in 1928 and served at Redeemer Church, Maywood, N. J. 1928-43 when he returned to Ohio to serve Our Savior Church, Oakwood, Dayton. Both were mission churches which he brought to full support and guided into a building program.

He had been a member of the Executive Board of the Synod of Ohio and in 1949-50 was acting missionary superintendent. He was a member of the college board of directors.

He had been in poor health for a year and underwent a hip and leg removal in June, 1954 and was not able to resume parish activity again. He died on Sept. 17, 1954.

MARY MIZER 6/4

MARY MIZER 6/4, daughter of Cyrus Mizer 5/7 and Elizabeth Pfouts, was born in 1874. She never married and presently resides in Strasburg, Ohio. A story concerning her appeared in the June 4, 1964, issue of the Dover, Ohio, daily newspaper, The Daily Reporter. It follows.

A wheel chair, to which she has been confined for a year, will serve as a "throne" when Mary Mizer of 151 4th St. S. W., reigns as "Queen" at open house Saturday in observance of her 90th birthday anniversary.

Although no invitations are being issued, "Aunt Mary," as most of the town's residents know her, is looking forward to having relatives and friends call from 2 to 4:30 p.m.

Miss Mizer, a daughter of the late Cyrus and Elizabeth Foutz Mizer, was born June 8, 1874, near Wilmot and moved here with her family when she was a year old. A brother, Martin, the only other living member of the family of five children, also lives here and celebrated his 88th birthday anniversary.

"Aunt Mary" observed a golden anniversary as a teacher in the First Lutheran Church and the fact that she has not been able to attend services is the only complaint she makes about her confinement.

She recently enjoyed a rare treat when she attended the church's mother-daughter banquet. Through the efforts of a neighbor, Steve Jenei, who put "Aunt Mary" (wheel chair and all) into the back of his pickup truck, she was able to take part in the event where she was presented a gift.

Although she is alert to present day happenings she likes to reminisce about the past and recalls the town's centennial celebration in 1928 for which she was a member of the planning committee.

Miss Mizer has lived in her present home since 1906 and was a dressmaker for fifty years. Although she no longer sews, her eyesight is good and she enjoys reading and television.

A nephew, Lester Wallick, and a good friend, Mrs. Laura Philabaum, are her constant companions, but "Aunt Mary" operates her chair like an expert and does not depend upon others to keep active.

GEORGE MISER 4/8 (Johann Adam Meiser 3/9, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) was born September 10, 1797 and died August 12, 1866. He married Sophia Biedler in Holmes Co., Ohio, on February 15, 1830. She was born in Lancaster Co., Pennsylvania, June 2, 1812, and died June 17, 1885. They moved to Isabella County, Michigan in 1858 where he cleared a quarter section of virgin timber and farmed there until his death. In 1864, his nephew, Abraham 5/6, son of his brother Henry, settled on a farm across the road. There are records which say George was "born in 1812 in Maryland," but these have proved to be erroneous. George and his wife, Sophia, are buried in Salt River Cemetery, near Shepherd, Michigan.

JOSEPH MISER 5/1, son of George Miser and Sophia Biedler, was born January 28, 1831 in Holmes County, Ohio and died February 15, 1916 at Shepherd, Michigan. He married Wealthy Ann Minard, daughter of John and Mary Hoagland Minard, from New York, in 1854. She was born June 20, 1836 in Bradford County, Pennsylvania and died March 28, 1916. They are buried in Salt River Cemetery, Shepherd, Michigan.

Joseph was a carpenter, both in Wayne County and Tuscarawas County, Ohio, before going to Michigan with his parents, in 1858. He cleared 40 acres farm land near his parents. In 1859 he was employed by the government at Indian Mills, where he built a bridge across the Chippewa River, a large "council chamber," in which the meetings with the Indians were held, and several other buildings in the village. He was the second man to be elected to the office of Sheriff of Isabella County, taking office in 1862, at the county seat, Mt. Pleasant. He enlisted in Company M. First Michigan Engineers and Mechanics on August 26, 1863, where he served two years, receiving a medical discharge in September 1865 after a period in a hospital at Louisville, Kentucky. He bought a farm of 80 acres in Union Township, Isabella County, from which he retired in 1897 to a home in Shepherd, Michigan. Joseph was one of the most outstanding citizens of the county. In addition to the office of Sheriff, he served as constable, highway commissioner, and several other offices. He and his wife were members of the Disciples church in Shepherd, where he was sexton in his later years. He is remembered as ringing the bell for services at the little red church.

A legend is told of how Joseph went to Detroit to get money to buy land, walking to St. Johns, a distance of 45 miles from Mt. Pleasant, across country from there taking the train to Detroit. He returned with $2,000 cash tied in a handkerchief, fastened around his waist, risking being relieved of it by robbers.

We are indebted to "Past and Present of Isabella County," by Isaac A. Fancher, published in 1911, and "Portrait and Biography Album of Isabella Co." by Chapman Bros. published in 1884, for a part of the Information on George and Joseph Miser.

SECTION FOUR

OTHER FAMILY GROUPS

The Millbach, Pennsylvania Settlement and Their Descendants

THE MILLBACH MEISERS of Lebanon County, Pennsylvania are the descendants of Johann Michael Meiser 2/2. He is referred to here as "Michael of Millbach."

Millbach, presently in Millcreek Township, Lebanon County, Pa., was the second migratory locale of the Meiser family. In fact, it can even be described as the first. The original settlement in the Schoharie Valley of New York by the first immigrant to this area, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1, ca. 1709, was not actually considered a settlement as the promised grant of "100 acres of land" by Queen Anne of England was not fulfilled, and after about ten years of being shifted about, Michael, son of Johan Jurg, along with many other Palatines, migrated to Pennsylvania at the invitation of its governor. It was here in Millbach, presently Lebanon County, Pa., that the family really sank its roots into Colonial America. Many descendants of this family have migrated and settled in nearly all parts of the present continental United States, going ever farther with each successive generation. Millbach, therefore, is actually the cradle of the Meisser family and all Meissers—with their twelve or fifteen ways of spelling the name—can trace their descent to the common ancestor "Michael of Millbach."

JOHANN GEORGE MEISER I 3/1 (Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1), son of Johann Michael Meiser and Elizabeth Sixt (Zecht), was born at Millbach, Pa., on the original Meiser Homestead in ca. 1724 and died ca. 1793.

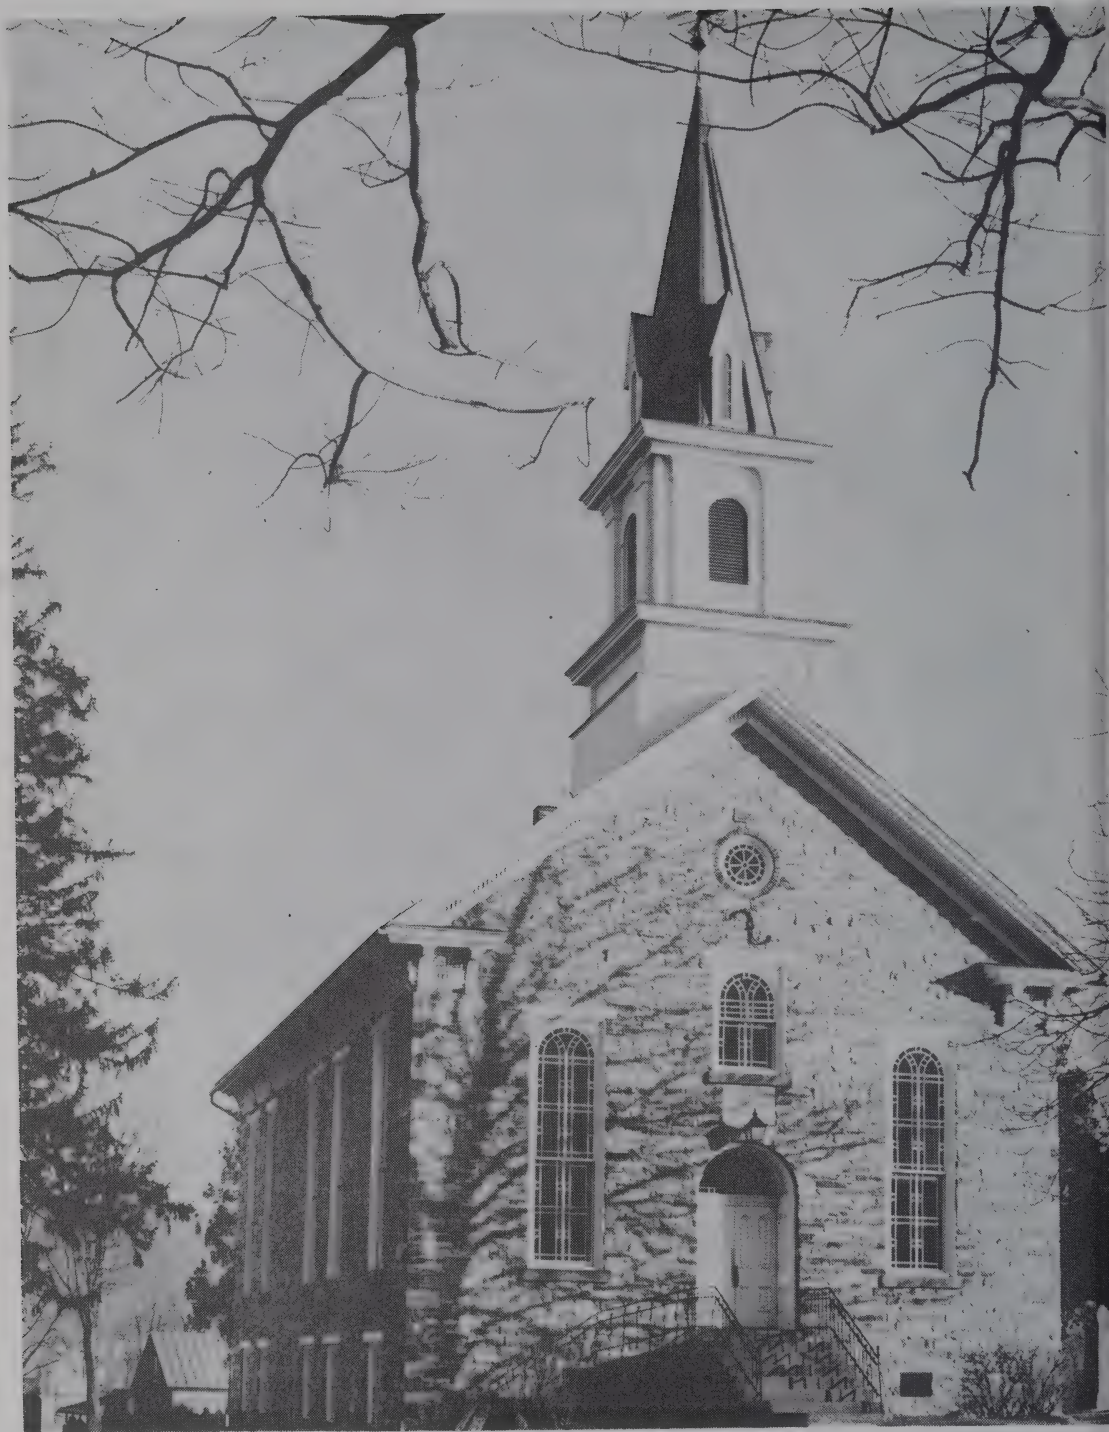

He married Anna Feak sometime before 1747 as on Sept. 7, 1747, he baptized his first born child, Johann Michael, at the Millbach Reformed Church.

George was reared on the original homestead which he inherited from his father via will dated 1745. For some reason the will was never probated, but through "Letters of Administrations" the title passed to him November 23, 1749 (Lancaster 1-M). He lived on this farm all his life, reared a fine family, and became quite successful. German was the language of the region and of his home, but he realized the importance of being fluent in the official colonial language, English. Therefore he engaged private tutors for his children so they would become proficient in the English language. He was very active in church work, serving as one of the first lay leaders in the Millbach Reformed Church. He also was superintendent of the Sunday school for a number of years. During the war for independence, it has been written that George was a color bearer in the Battle of Brandywine.

No will was found for George I, but on October 16, 1793, he and his wife, Anna, turned over four tracts of land in what was then Heidelberg Township, County of Dauphin, Pennsylvania, to their children. This information was from the original deeds and Releases.

He died after Oct. 16, 1793, as on this date participated in the distribution of his father's estate (1793 Realease).

He died Oct. 26, 1826, at Millbach, Pa.

He was married to Elizabeth Keller ca. 1798.

He died in Millbach on October 13, 1907, and is buried in the Millbach Church Cemetery.

He married Mary Ann Ebi (Eby on the tombstone) on Dec. 12, 1850, at the Tulpehocken Reformed Church. She was born on Oct. 4, 1830, and died on Aug. 22, 1894, in Millbach. Her remains lie in the Millbach Cemetery.

This was the fifth George to be born, live, and die on the original Meiser homestead. He, however, ended the successive Georges who owned the place. His son, George VI 8/1, died June 6, 1883. Then George V 7/1 willed the home to his daughters, Sara A. Seltzer and Mary Alice Brendle in 1894. They sold the home to John Bennetch in 1909. Bennetch later sold the farm to the present owners: David P. and Martha M. Snyder. George S. was a small, slight of build man who was a familiar sight in the area. He loved the out-of-doors and spent much of his time, especially in his later years, fishing and hunting . . . seldom without his clay pipe. "Pumpie," as he was called, relates that one of the Georges used to spend a great deal of time working at the blacksmith shop on the Meiser farm. An Indian would come to watch the proceedings and invariably get in the way; he always sat on a wooden stump . . . in silence. One day for a joke, he heated an iron bolt and set it into the stump. The Indian fell victim to the stunt and left in a rage. The next day, a young female child, a daughter of the unwary smith, disappeared and was never seen again.

After her father died she moved to Mechanicsburg, Pa., and is thought to be buried there. Mary Alice had two daughters; Olive and Rebecca, who lived at the original Meiser homestead, and a son George M. Brendle who died at the age of two years. Rebecca was married to a Bucher and is buried in Lebanon, Pa.

George's early education was entrusted to the care of his father who taught the school at Mt. Aetna which he attended. When still a boy, he moved to Richland, Pa. where he grew up and advanced his education. In his late teens, he went to the "Lebanon Daily News" where he spent four years as an apprentice to learning the printing trade. He is currently active in the local musical and historical circles. Recently he indexed 4000 pages comprising the full issuance of the quarterly journal of the Historical Society of Berks County: 1935 to 1964. The restoration of a rather sizeable old property, "Feldstein 1804," consumes his spare time; he is joined in this project by his father, George VIII, and mother, Gladys.

The Meiserville, Penna. Settlement and Their Descendants

Meiserville, the third migration stepping stone of the Meiser family, is in Snyder County, Pennsylvania. (originally in Northumberland County) It is located about thirty miles north of Harrisburg, on State Route 104. It was named for Henry Meiser 3/4, son of Michael Meiser of Millbach, Pennsylvania. Henry settled in nearby Aline, having been granted a warrant of 200 acres of land there on April 9, 1763, which at that time was part of Cumberland County, Pennsylvania.

Within a short time, three of the brothers of Henry 3/4 followed him and settled in the immediate area. They were Michael Meiser 3/3, John Johannes Meiser 3/7, and Johann Adam Meiser 3/9. Most of the descendants of these brothers, as well as of Henry, moved farther west (mostly to Ohio), with but a few remaining in the Meiserville area.

It is not known when the village of Meiserville was founded, but in 1885 it consisted of a store, a post office, a hotel, a grist mill, a wagon-manufacturing shop, a blacksmith shop, a shoe repair shop, a one-room school house, a farm, and nine dwellings—all but the post office and school owned by Joseph Meiser, a grandson of Henry Meiser, 3/4. The sawmill and cider press, which were located on Mahantango Creek between the village of Meiserville and Aline, were also owned by Joseph Meiser 5/1. It was here that Henry Meiser 3/4, built the first sawmill and his son, Michael Meiser 4/3, built an oil mill to manufacture linseed oil.

Joseph Meiser 5/1 and his family lived on the farm and also operated the store and the hotel. About 1884 Joseph's son, Reuben Meiser 6/2, took over the store, post office, and hotel. Later Joseph's son, Henry 6/4, had the sawmill and cider press.

Joseph Meiser was considered very hospitable and was said to be very generous to the poor. It is reported that while he lived, the "Overseers" of the poor had very little expense. When the poor folks needed help, they went to Joe and received the necessary clothing and food.

Joseph Meiser died September 27, 1896, and is buried at Grubb's Lutheran Church Cemetery, Chapman Township, Snyder County, Pennsylvania.

After his death, some of the family bought their homes there and lived in Meiserville for a number of years. In March, 1900, Joseph's son, Reuben, moved to Selinsgrove. He went into the lumber business and also owned a planing mill.

David Meiser operated a grist mill. After David's death in 1916, Clarence D. Good, a grandson of Joseph Meiser, took over the management of the mill. His mother was Maria Meiser Hornberger. Clarence died in 1956.

A few of Joseph's grandchildren and great-grandchildren still live in the vicinity of Meiserville. They include Hannah Meiser 7/2 (Mrs. Marlin Keiser, who lives in Meiserville) and Bertha Mary Alice Meiser 6/1, (Mrs. Charles Guy Bolig), who lives in nearby Northumberland, Pennsylvania.

The North Carolina Mizers - Descendants of Thomas Mizer

It is traditionally believed that Thomas (Logan) Mizer was born ca. 1770 somewhere in Pennsylvania, and in ca. 1790 he acquired lands and settled in the area that was then Hawkins County, in the Washington District of North Carolina in that part known as Vardy or Blackwater. The area has been in Hancock County, Tennessee, since 1846.

No records have been found to prove the Thomas Mizer, who settled in this area, was of Pennsylvania origin, but a letter written ca. 1939 to Mrs. Nancy Miser, widow of Logan Miser, a great-great-grandson of Thomas Miser, states that Thomas Miser was a brother of George Miser who settled in Blount County, Tennessee, in 1799. Miser Station, Tennessee, was named for George, who has been authenticated as the son of Henry Meiser 3/4 of Meiserville, Pennsylvania.

Thomas Mizer of North Carolina could very well have been the brother of George of Miser Station as George was born in 1771, and Thomas Mizer reportedly was born ca. 1770. An interesting sideline is that if Thomas Mizer was the brother of George of Miser Station, Tennessee, and thus the son of Henry Meiser 3/4, he would have been born within approximately thirty miles of Shamokin, Pennsylvania, the home of the Indian chief, Shekallemmy, father of the later famous Chief Logan. The Indian Chief Shekallemmy was one of three Indian chiefs who signed the deed for the lands acquired by Michael Meiser of Millbach, the grandfather of George Miser of Miser Station, Tenn. The young Thomas may have been acquainted with Chief Logan or have known about him. This could have been the reason he assumed the nickname, "Logan."

Were Thomas Mizer a brother of George of Miser Station, Tennessee, he would be among several members of the Meiser family of Pennsylvania who migrated southward in the 1790's. The following records have been observed to authenticate this migration:

1790—Thomas Mizer appears in the 1790 Census of Edgecombe County, Halifax District of North Carolina. His family consisted of "one male sixteen and over including heads; three males under sixteen; and one female over sixteen."

1791—May 4, Thomas Mizer was assessed—"1 sorrel mare, Appraised at 4 pounds"—Hawkins County, North Carolina.

1791—December 26, Thomas was granted three hundred acres of land in Hawkins County, Washington District of North Carolina under N. C. Grant No. 154, Registered June 2, 1792, "—for and in consideration of the sum of fifty shillings for every hundred acres of land paid into our treasury by Thomas Mizer—grant unto the said Thomas Mizer—three hundred acres of land lying and being in our County of Hawkins on both sides of Stone Creek a branch of the Holston River—."

1792—On June 5, Thomas Mizer was party to an indenture conveying three hundred acres of land to James Berry, sheriff of the locale. This was the same land conveyed to Thomas Mizer by Grant 154.

1792—In June Thomas Mizer was listed as delinquent in his taxes in a list published in the Knoxville Gazette, then published in Rogersville, Hawkins County, North Carolina. Among the names of the committee signing the delinquent list was that of James Berry.

1793—John Henry Meiser 4/4 (Johann George Meiser 3/1, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) is listed as living in Staunton, Virginia (Release Deed, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania).

1796—On September 27, George Miser, Cumberland County, Pennsylvania purchased a 278 acre farm in Little Valley, Knox County, Tennessee from Drewry Breazle. The deed is dated September 27, 1796 and recorded January 11, 1797, Book B2, page 26. Other farms bought by a George Miser in Knox County are recorded in Book F1; V2; page 46, 9/1/1800; V1 page 287, 2/18/1802; and A1, page 486, 9/5/1801.

1799—Five families, consisting of five children of Henry Meiser 3/4 of Meiserville, Pa., moved to Blount County, Tennessee. They were Mary Elizabeth Meiser 4/1, who married ——— Heffley; Catharine Meiser 4/2, who married Peter Bowman; George Meiser 4/6, who married Mary Druckenmiller; Henry Meiser 4/5, who married Margaret Druckenmiller, and John Meiser 4/8, who was married first to Susan ——— and later to Betsy ———. All remained in Tennessee except Henry who returned to Meiserville, Northumberland County, Pa., and who acquired lands and settled in Jefferson County, Ohio, in 1802.

Neither Thomas nor his family was mentioned in the will of Henry Meiser 3/4 of Meiserville, Pa. However, the name of Thomas Mizer fails to appear on any records after 1799, indicating he may have died in that year. The will of Henry Meiser 3/4 was dated 1800 and probated 1801. (Sunbury, Pa. 1-249).

It is believed Thomas was the father of Peter Mizer, John Mizer, James Mizer and George Mizer.

Peter Meiser's name appeared in a deed in 1803 as recorded in Hawkins County, Tennessee.

John Mizer's name appeared in a deed as recorded in 1805 in Hawkins County, Tennessee.

HESSIAN MEISSERS—BEING DESCENDANTS OF JOHN AUSTIN MEISSER, HESSIAN SOLDIER TAKEN PRISONER AT THE BATTLE OF TRENTON, DECEMBER 20, 1776.

This family is listed herein in the belief that it is of the same line as others whose lineage is developed in this book perhaps both having originated from the same general locale in Germany. Ironically, they fought each other until the capture of the Hessians at the Battle of Trenton on Dec. 20, 1776.

FREDERICK WILLIAM (BILL) MISER 4/11

The information gathered on this family came from Frederick W. (Bill) Miser of R. D. 2, Seneca, Missouri. He wrote:

"John Austin Meisser came to America as a Hessian soldier during the Revolution and was captured at Trenton along with his brother George. They refused to go back to Germany at the end of the war and settled in Pennsylvania. They changed the spelling of their name to Miser because "Hessians" were not popular at the time. They later settled near Cumberland Gap, Tenn., where my grand sire, John Austin, was born about 1805. He married Polly Hale of that vicinity. She was born in 1811. They migrated to Middle Tennessee where my father, John Austin Miser, was born. Later they moved to near Pea Ridge, Ark.

I can not say exactly in what locale my ancestor, John Austin Meisser, was born in Germany, except that my grandmother often said it was near Worms, Germany. She also said John Austin Meisser sometimes worked as a pilot on the River Rhine, and the family was engaged in truck gardening.

After the Revolution, John Austin and George settled for a time in or near Johnstown, Pa. (They are not listed in the 1790 census record.) Later they moved to near Cumberland Gap, Virginia, and then to the vicinity of Nashville, Tennessee, in what was then called Middle Tennessee. This was in the early 1820's. Grandmother never told the age of her husband, only that he was considerably older than she.

George Miser went into Ohio or Illinois when Grandad migrated to Arkansas and was not heard from again in so far as I know.

Just where or when George went to Ohio I do not know, only grandma said we never heard of him again.

The date George Miser (Mizer) (Meisser) went to Ohio must have been about 1820 or thereabout. I do not recall Grandmother giving any dates. However, she perhaps knew, but thought it of little consequence. Things like that happened in those days and the means of commune were limited. Grandad could speak but little English, and it was soon forgotten.

My family moved to near Pea Ridge, Ark., about 1861 and resided there until after the Civil War when the family broke up because of circumstances during that time of much trouble, which is a long, long story of hardship and much hatred.

As to your question of who of the "clan" I have met that were not of known kin, I will say that in 1926 a peculiar incident happened. My brother-in-law, Clinton Miday, and I went to Boise City, Cimarron County, Oklahoma to bid on a contract for drilling deep wells and installing machinery for a city water supply plant. We didn't get the contract, but two years later I visited there and a man, Bill Mizer, did have the contract and did the job. He was from Illinois, and his grandfather was a George Mizer from Ohio, Tennessee, Virginia, Pennsylvania, on back to Germany. His story on the capture at Trenton was almost identical as I have related.

Again—six years ago, I was at the Joplin, Missouri, stockyards to buy some cattle. After bidding all I thought the pen was worth, I dropped out of the bidding, which went on up $25.00. The auctioneer, whom I had known since childhood, said, 'Sold to Mizer.' A few moments later the same thing happened again. This I resented. I went to the auctioneer and said, 'You are all wet. I did not buy either pen of cattle.'

He said, 'I know, but that Mizer standing by you did buy them.'

After introductions, he said his home was near El Reno, Oklahoma. He had a son teaching in high school at Guymon, Oklahoma. He came to America in 1920 from Germany and spelled his name 'Meisser.' He came from the same locale in Germany. He declared the name should never be spelled any other way. Perhaps he is right.

I will now try to give you some of the history of that time of trouble during and after the Civil War that happened to cause the break-up of many families who lived along the Mason-Dixon line. Ours especially.

Grandad had five boys of military age at that time. They all joined the Union Army. Mike, the eldest, was married and lived near Elkhorn Battlefield. He enlisted as a teamster, using four of his own horses. The other boys: Lige, George, Bill and Henry joined the infantry. They were all in the battle of Wilson Creek and most of the skirmishes between there and the Elkhorn Battle. After that battle, the foragers went out into the countryside and brought in everything that could be used or eaten. Among these things, they brought in a team that Mike had left for his boy and wife with which to make the crop.

Mike went to the commandant and asked that they be returned. This was refused, but he was offered scrip for payment, which was dangerous to possess in that region. He refused to take that and proceeded to untie the horses.

He started riding them toward home, but a posse overtook him and shot him off the horse. The men then beat his head in with the butt of their muskets. They refused to let Grandma bury him for four days, and he lay by the roadside. This made the other boys mad, and they at once deserted and swore to kill every man that wore the blue uniform that they could get between their sights.

They followed the Union Army clear to Vicksburg, and I have it on the word of veterans who were in each opposing army that they disposed of at least one hundred men before peace was declared. Now, to add insult upon injury, General Sigel made his headquarters in Grandma's house. Upon leaving, he and his men took everything of value and set fire to the house. The boys, of course, became marked men.

Then the Vigilantes took over and, of course, there was no place nor peace for the boys near Pea Ridge. Grandad called them in, told them to go west, gave each $1,000 in gold, told them not to let anyone know where they were until all was forgotten.

One went to California, one to Texas and another to Colorado. However, Henry did not fare so well. He left Pea Ridge along with Mike's boy, Eric. They had saddle and pack horses and got as far as Baxter Springs, Kansas. There they were stopped by the Vigilantes and hanged. You see that in those days

$1,000 and four good horses were just too much for anyone to possess unless he was with a gang. Those same Vigilantes stole themselves into respectability and later became U. S. Marshals. They continued to carry the law in their own hands and had many crimes laid to them. However, there were never any convictions.

This is just a sample of conditions that caused the break-up of families, who had either to depart for the unknown or turn outlaw."

JOHN AUSTIN MISER 3/- (John Austin Miser 2/-, John Austin Meisser 1/-) son of John Austin Miser 2/- and Polly May Hale, was born in Pea Ridge, Ark., on March 29, 1847. He died of a mastoid condition in 1884 at Hornet, Newton County, Missouri and is buried in Hornet Cemetery.

He married Rebecca Emaline Burrows on July 11, 1867, at Burtram Chapel, Benton County, Arkansas. Born in Pea Ridge, Ark., on Dec. 7, 1849, she was the daughter of Josiah Henninger Burrows and Betsy Ann Cavness.

John grew up in the Pea Ridge area. After his marriage he lived for a while on a farm in Little Sugar Creek, McDonald County, Missouri. Later he moved to a farm near Lebanon, Missouri. He sold his farm there and moved to Newton County, Missouri, in 1872. He bought eighty acres of land near the Indian territory line. He helped to organize and get allotments for the Quopaw Tribe. Also he helped to survey the allotments. He made the race for land in Oklahoma's Cherokee Strip in 1891 but didn't wish to settle there.

He served as justice of the peace for several years and made his living raising hogs, cattle, horses and sheep. He studied law and music and taught vocal music. He was self-taught.

He joined the Home Guard just before the close of the Civil War. He was given his release eighty-five days later when the war ended. He did not rate a pension because of the required ninety days of service.

FREDERICK WILLIAM MISER 4/11 (John Austin Miser 3/-, John Austin Miser 2/-, John Austin Meisser 1/-) son of John Austin Miser 3/- and Rebecca Emaline Burrows, was born February 1, 1886, at Hornet, Newton County, Missouri.

He was married on February 24, 1909, at Hornet, Missouri to Mary Jane Page. Born December 7, 1887, in La Cygne, Kansas she was the daughter of John W. Page and Sarah Huffstedtler.

Following is an autobiography by Frederick William Miser:

"I grew to manhood on the home place of my father. I was left to care for my mother and my younger sister when I was fourteen. We had many hardships and had to sell many needed things to pay the mortgage on the home which was left at father's death.

I worked on the farm and raised cattle, pigs and chickens, hauled mining timbers, burned charcoal for lead smelter and worked in lead and zinc mines. I studied at night, taught school and worked as an accountant for twenty-eight years at Picher, Oklahoma. I served as mayor of that town for two years and also served on the board of education of Picher for six years. I came back to the home place (which has been in the family name since 1872) in 1947.

In 1907 a school "marm" came from McDonald County, Missouri to teach our school and somehow we decided to start "workin-in-double harness"—and on February 24, 1909, had the preacher say (them-there-words), "now you are one flesh." And I'm still eating her cooking.

I have had many accidents. Five years ago I got caught in a tractor mower and almost lost my left leg. I will remain a cripple for life. Last year I underwent an operation for removal of a cancerous colon. However, I'm still able to navigate.

I played baseball and once pitched two scoreless games on one day—no man reached third base. I still contend I'm the best rifle, shotgun and pistol shot in the region.

I went to school and advanced to the fifth reader class. I had to miss much of the six-month terms of school to earn money enough to eat (sparingly). I still have the slate which I used to work problems upon. I attended Springfield Teacher College. Teaching is a wonderful experience, but the pay is too little. One gets too hungry."

Dedication of Marker at Grave of Revolutionary War Soldier, Adam Myser

2:30 P.M., E.D.S.T. May 17, 1964

In Family Burial Plot on Farm now owned by Levi Miller, Wilmot, Ohio. The Day finally arrived: When the date was set for the dedication of the Government Marker on the grave of Adam Myser, who served in the Northumberland Militia of Pennsylvania, it seemed a long way off. Notification was sent to all known direct descendants of Adam. Some made the journey across country from California and New York—and states in between. Others came from just around the corner and down the road. Altogether there were over 200 present for the event.

The Meisser Genealogy Association had done a fine job in finding and authenticating the site of the grave; in making arrangements for the marker with the United States Government, and with the Daughters of the American Revolution to officially dedicate and record; in getting permission from and approval of the present owner of the farm, Mr. Levi J. Miller; in clearing the plot of large trees that had overgrown the site; in all the details of the doings of the day: marking the roads to the farm; making introductions; arranging for the transportation by Jeep station wagon up the hill for those unable or indisposed to walk; the loudspeaker during the service; the tape recorder to make a record of the proceedings; the refreshments of punch and cookies, coffee and doughnuts which were served by Mrs. Miller and members of her family after the ceremony—all this was arranged by the officers and local members of the Meisser Genealogy Association, whose officers are:

Lloyd Mizer, of New Philadelphia, Ohio, President.

John Ridenour, of Stone Creek, Ohio, Vice President.

Howard Mizer, of New Philadelphia, Ohio, Secretary.

Stanley Mizer, of Bakersville, Ohio, Treasurer.

Al Boffo, of New Philadelphia, Ohio, Historian.

The Miller family was most co-operative through the entire operation, and much credit for the success of the day was due to their interest and gracious hospitality.

The weather was perfect—the good Lord must have approved the proceedings to have given us such a lovely day.

At approximately 2:30 we proceeded across the end of a field and up the hill where the grave is located. The Jeep made several trips for those who found the climb difficult. Upon arrival at the site, awaiting the others, one was inclined to approve the final resting place chosen for Adam and other members of his family. There were several rough stones placed at regular intervals—no inscriptions. Presumably several members of the family were buried here. It is surmised that a cholera epidemic may have taken them within a very short time. It is a lovely, peaceful spot today, as it must have been when they were laid here to rest. It is a rather high knoll, and one can look out over the valley where the farm house and barns nestle below, in approximately the same location as the original buildings. It would be as lovely at day-break—with the rustle of waking birds, the roosters crowing to announce the beginning of a new day;—or at mid-day—perhaps Adam's wife rang a dinner bell to call the workers from the fields to the mid-day meal and a little rest before the afternoon's tasks;—at evening—the cows making their leisurely way from the pasture to the barn for milking, and the family dog following behind so none would stray. In winter the countryside would be lovely with a blanket of snow, rabbits and other small animals making tracks, perhaps evading a boy with a musket, out to find something with which to fill the pot for the evening meal.—These are some of the things one might think of, standing there where Adam one day stood.

The people who came were of all ages; grandparents, parents and children. They trudged up the hill, stepping out of the lane to let the Jeep pass on its way up or down, the older ones puffing (a little) as they arrived at the top. Finally all had arrived. We formed a semi-circle and the program began. Mr. Boffo held the microphone for the loud-speaker, so that each one taking part could be heard, and Mr. Lloyd Mizer operated the tape recorder. Mr. Boffo introduced Mrs. Lyall Kimber, Historian of Wooster-Wayne Chapter DAR. Other members of the chapter who were present and took part were as follows: Mrs. Charlene M. Baron, Vice Regent, acting Regent for Mrs. Helen Goll; Miss Grace Harrold—Past Regent; Mrs. Forrest Dean—Past Regent and acting Chaplain; Mrs. F. C. Silvers—Recording Secretary; Mrs. O. L. Boyer—Flag Chairman; Mrs. C. G. Foster—American Music; Mrs. L. G. Strauss—Treasurer; Mrs. Ruth Herron—Chaplain; Mrs. Chas. M. Adams.

Mrs. Lyall Kimber opened the service with the following remarks: "We, the Daughters of the American Revolution Wooster-Wayne Chapter, meet at the site of the grave of a soldier of this war. We pay tribute to one Adam Myser who was born in Pennsylvania in 1743 and died in Wayne County, Ohio in 1824. He served in the Northumberland Militia of Pennsylvania."

The official dedication followed. Mrs. Al Boffo, descendant of John Meiser, brother of Adam, and a member of Ft. Laurens Chapter DAR, participated also, placing a basket of Red, White and Blue flowers on the grave, and reading verse 4 of the second chapter of the Book of Isaiah. "And he shall judge among the nations and shall rebuke many people: and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruninghooks; nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more." The Flag Marker was dedicated by Miss Grace Harrold; the Pledge of Allegiance, in which everyone took part, was led by Mrs. O. L. Boyer, and the closing Prayer of Dedication by the Chaplain, Miss Ruth Herron.

GRAVESIDE CEREMONIES FOR ADAM MYSER
Soldier of the Revolution

A DAY TO BE REMEMBERED

On the afternoon of Sunday May 17, 1964 an unusual gathering of people, more than 200, wended their way to the summit of a hill on the farm of Levi J. Miller, a short distance west of Wilmot, Ohio. The long stream of people as they trailed up the half mile was quiet, orderly, and above all proud.

This group could well afford to be proud because they were on their way to attend the dedication of a grave marker placed upon the grave of their distant ancestor, Adam Myser, soldier of the American Revolutionary War. The U. S. War Department had only recently, upon the discovery of the exact place of burial, furnished an official grave marker. (The place of burial was authenticated and the marker erected by the Meisser Genealogy Association.)

Graveside services were sponsored by the Wooster-Wayne Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution and were most impressive as prayers were uttered and a few simple patriotic speeches concluded the formal part of the services.

Adam Myser, the youngest son of Michael Meiser and Anna Elizabeth Sixt (or Zecht) was born circa 1743 at Millbach, Pennsylvania. He died on his farm in Wayne County, Ohio May 22, 1824. His heirs many years later sold the farm to Mr. Levi Miller.

He served as a private in the Revolutionary War under Captain John Sneider in the Northumberland County Militia. According to the records of the Pennsylvania Archives at Harrisburg he received Depreciation pay as a "soldier of the Revolution" although it is not known whether this was in addition to his service in the Northumberland County Militia. According to the records he did not apply for a pension, although many others did.

After the graveside services the entire crowd slowly and still with proud steps returned down the slope to Mr. Miller's farm house and on the wide green lawn refreshments were served. Various members of the huge Myser, Miser, Meiser clan were introduced, and although most were strangers to each other, with many diverse interests and activities and no doubt wide variances in their financial status, there was real feeling of family and belonging permeating the entire group.

A recording of that memorable day, the dignified and impressive ceremony of the dedication, and the delightful social gathering that followed would be most incomplete without an expression of appreciation for the enormous work done by those who not only prepared the entire affair but had actually cut down trees and bushes clearing the grave site. The entire relationship is also much indebted to the gracious hospitality of the Amish host and his friendly family.
